New York Stock Market

Opens Buoyant But Slumps

NEW YORK, Nov. 24.—Buoyancy marked the opening of Tuesday's trading on the stock exchange but the market failed to retain its early promise of further improvement and a sharp reversal set in before noon.

In the morning leaders augmented recent recoveries by 1 to 4 points on extensive operations in which the long account seemed to be well represented.

General Motors was the most conspicuous feature, its activity and strength being directly traceable to overnight reports that control of the company had been passed to the Morgan-Dupont interests. According to reports in the financial districts, the holdings of speculative interests in other prominent industrial companies have been transferred by private settlement from weak to strong hands as a result of the severe collapse of prices and shrinkage of war profits.

With the reversal junior rails became the center of a concerted drive at reactions of 1 to 6 points with New Haven as the chief sufferer.

Shipping, steels, and equipment cancelled their advances in less part while the market was expressing its secondary reaction, losses exceeding gains at the irregular close.

Sales 1,100,000 shares

Money and foreign exchange were stabilizing influences, all the day's call loans being made at the unusually low rate of 6 per cent while remittances to London and continental Europe were steady—when not firm.

Bonds tended mainly higher, all the liberty and victory issues with one exception, closing at gains. Total sales, par value, $15,300,000. Old U. S. bonds 2s and 4s were 1-2 per cent lower on call.

Liquidation Stops and Wheat Shows Advance.

CHICAGO, Nov. 24.—For the first time in more than a week, the wheat market closed at an advance. Brisk export demand, together with assertions that liquidation was at an end had much to do with the strength shown. The finish was nervous, 7 1-2 to 9c higher with December $1.63 to $1.68 3-4 and March $1.62 1-2 to $1.64. Corn opened 2 3-8 to 3 1-8, oats 1 1-2@ 1 5-8 to 2 3-8 and provisions 22 to 77c near the end of the session.

Buying of wheat at the end was greatly accelerated by a report that Julius Barnes, former national wheat director, had expressed an opinion that prices were at the bottom. This report was a distortion of remarks by Mr. Barnes, which were along optimistic lines but in which he said explicitly that he was not a bull. Entirely aside from the Barnes incident, however, a considerable change in sentiment among traders was evident from the outset. It was known that export demand was brisk and that millers were rapidly placing orders for flour. Besides, financial conditions were easier, and sterling exchange rising and set backs in prices, although sharp at times, were brief and after the close it was estimated that sales to Europe totaled 1,500,000, about half that amount domestic grown.

Corn and oats were hoisted by the strength of wheat.

Packers buying turned the provisions market upward notwithstanding that at first weakness prevailed, owing to big breaks in the value of hogs.

Back to a Pre-War Basis on Suits and Overcoats

$21.50 $29.50 $34.75

At first glance we may be accused of stretching our imagination a little to bring back these pre-war standards, as you may remember of buying suits at $15.00 or $20.00.

But getting down to hard facts, right now is the time to buy clothes. The average man's income is from fifty to one hundred per cent higher than it was before the war while the clothes we offer at the above prices are not to exceed 25 per cent higher than 1914 price levels.

While a money saving service to our customers throughout the nation is a salient feature of our cash policy, we are a little selfish in the above advice for we feel sure that in buying a suit at these low prices you will become a permanent customer and a loyal booster for our institution.

Something is one of the first articles to get back to a normal basis and there is no reason to believe that they will be any lower next season. But there are many factors that logically indicate a tendency to return to the wage standards in force several years ago.
