Pendleton Man on Cruise

Aaron Graham, of this city, was one of Oregon's naval reservists who was called to duty Saturday for a 22 day's cruise with the naval reserve. He left Portland on Monday with the ship and will stop at San Francisco, San Pedro and San Diego before going to southern waters. Mr. Graham was in the navy during the war. A half brother, George Dennis, was in the navy during the war but is now a regular army member in service in the Philippines. Both are sons of Mrs. G. W. Dennis, of this city. She accompanied Mr. Graham to Portland and returned yesterday after visiting in the metropolis.

Will Play in Heppner

Five members of Fletcher's Jazz Orchestra will go to Heppner tomorrow to play for the Thanksgiving Ball in the Morrow county town.

$17 Is Realized

Mrs. Constance Isaacs, chairman for the McKay Creek Red Cross Roll Call, today turned in $17 from her district. Many of the precinct chairmen have not yet reported. The drive closes tomorrow.

Wins Second Place

The Umatilla stock judging team won second place at the Pacific International Livestock Exposition last week, competing with 15 other teams. Members of the team were Dan Dohler, Milo McFarland and Herbert Thompson.

Big Response to Call

Pendleton people have responded eagerly to a call from the Red Cross for clothes for the poor. Many have made their donations as a Thanksgiving offering. The Red Cross can distribute all the clothes on hand and needs still more.

Return From Morrow County

E. J. Clark, attorney, and Dan Lee returned last evening from a two days' business trip to Heppner. They went to obtain evidence for the forthcoming trial of the case of Mr. Lee against Lathrop, which will be taken up in circuit court here on Monday.

Check Is Made Good

Upon motion of the prosecution, the case against Arthur Gullford, of Echo, charged with obtaining money by false pretenses, was ordered dismissed today. The check, for $16, is said to have overdrawn the man's account and he is reported to have made it good.

Women Are in Need

Six women, during the past two weeks, have come to the Salvation Army and asked for work, says Captain Jennie Conrad, head of the local post. The women in some cases are absolutely without funds and Captain Conrad is anxious that they be supplied with work. She will give their names if telephoned to at 1052.

Seeks Home for Two Lads

Two boys, aged about 10 and 12, respectively, are in need of good homes here where they might work for their board and room and attend school, John Halley, Jr., local juvenile officer, said today. Mr. Halley says both lads are willing workers, brought up by good parents and need assistance as their parents are in somewhat straitened circumstances at present. Mr. Halley is looking for two families in Pendleton who would each be willing to take one of the boys for the winter.

Waldon Byers to Be Host

Waldon Byers, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Byers of Pendleton, will be host over the Thanksgiving holidays, to Harold Holdman and Ned Strahorn, in Portland. Mr. Byers is studying aviation in the Rose City, with the Oregon-Washington-Idaho Aircraft Corporation. The boys who will visit him are attending the University of Oregon at Eugene and will arrive in Portland tonight to remain until Sunday evening.

Book on Aeronautics Coming

"Aeronautical Landing Fields and Airports," a new publication recently issued by Putnam's, is being sent to the Pendleton Commercial Association for addition to its library, according to a letter received today by Secretary C. K. Cranston from the Wright Aeronautical Corporation, of Paterson, N. J. The book is said to be an authority on landing fields and on air navigation for commercial purposes. It had not arrived today but is expected within a day or two.

All Councilmen Qualify

All councilmen-elect, as well as other city officials elected on November 2, have qualified and taken their oath of office before Thomas Fitz Gerald, recorder. Richard Lawrence, third ward councilman, who was considering moving to Walla Walla, has decided to remain and he took his oath of office several days ago. Willard Bond, second ward councilman, was the last to take his oath, owing to his having been out of the city several days. The time limit for qualifying was up on Monday evening.

Harder Times Seen

Money is getting tighter, if books of the police judge are an indication. In bygone days the man found guilty of being drunk paid his fine as a rule, but so far this month the number who have been obliged to go to jail and serve out sentences has been on the increase. Even one or two Indians, generally able to pay their fines, have been short of funds, which is a situation foreign to the court. Police ascribe the increasing number of drunk cases to the idle time of unemployed who, when working, would be out of the city on jobs where drinking would be foregone.

Gives $100 to Memorial

Ole Newton gave $100 Tuesday afternoon to the Til Taylor Memorial fund, making his subscription and payment at headquarters. The postoffice will observe holiday hours, with the general delivery window open from 9 to 10 a. m. Drug stores will be open the same hours as on Sundays. The federal building, court house and city hall offices will not be open.

Second Offense Brings Jolt

John Boylen received a fine of $25 or 12 days in jail in police court this morning on a charge of being drunk and disorderly last Friday night. He is alleged to have been engaged in the fight that took place in front of the Crescent on Main street that night in which three men were arrested. Boylen was not apprehended at the time, however, but was found last evening. He was fined for being drunk and disorderly on November 4, records at the recorder's office show, and went to jail at that time for 10 days but upon promise to behave, was released before he had served out all the sentence. His fall from grace resulted in a stiffer jolt this morning.

"Slim Coyote" Fined $50

William Blevens, known locally as "Slim Coyote," was fined $50 in police court this morning on a charge of having liquor in his possession unlawfully. Two bottles, one containing straight denatured alcohol, and the other a diluted mixture prepared for drinking, were taken from him when arrested. Officer Lyday saw Blevens purchase the alcohol and followed him around to the rear of a building off Main street where he mixed a cocktail in the second bottle. He took a drink and then gave one to Jim Burns, a friend. The officer then stepped in and arrested both. Burns was fined $10 for being drunk. Neither was able to pay his fine and Blevens went to jail for 25 days and Burns for five days.

Tommy Smart Recovering

Tommy Smart, caretaker for the Elks club, is recovering at his home after a week's illness due to an abscess. He is much improved in health but on account of his advanced years will be obliged to rest for several days before being able to return to the lodge rooms to resume his work.

PILOT ROCK STOCKMAN BUYS PUREBRED HERD

Frank Byrd, of Pilot Rock, is the biggest Shorthorn breeder in Umatilla county and the possessor of one of the finest herds on the northwest since the recent purchase of 20 head of purebred cattle from Sturgis & Whitman. The price paid is said to have been over $10,000, which is considered reasonable because of the high class of the animals and the general high price level maintained at recent pure bred sales despite the general slump in cattle.

The cattle are rich in the blood of the best herds in America. The pedigrees bear the names of Cumberland, Avondale, Choice Goods and other famous sires. Three of the cows were bought by Sturgis & Whitman from the prize herd of Day & Rothrock at the 1919 Pacific International Livestock Exposition, and were sired by Silver Seaforth. Three others came from the herd of J. F. Prather, one of the best breeders in Illinois. Two are from the Howell Reese & Son Nebraska herd of Missouri. One bull calf was sired by King Lavender, who sold at the 1920 Pacific International for $2,000.

James Sturgis, Bert Bhitman and Mr. Byrd are Farm Bureau livestock project leaders who are strong boosters for better cattle rather than more cattle. Although they have cut down their herd, Sturgis & Whitman expect to continue in the pure-bred livestock game.

While Umatilla county has a good many more range cattle than some other Eastern Oregon counties, the local cattlemen have been forced to go outside for good bulls to head their herds. Mr. Byrd's expansion in the purebred business is welcomed by stockmen of this county.
