GIRL'S NAME CURSED BY FATHER'S RECORD

In "Mary Regan," which will be seen at the Arcade today Anita Stewart has the appealing role of a girl trying to prove that her father's strain of criminality is not in her own blood, and still remain strong enough to resist the temptations and threats of a clever band of police robbers who inhabit New York's upper stratum.

Although given a splendid education and surrounded by luxury, Mary has been unable to escape the stigma which attaches to her father's name. Now, loved by a detective, and married to a young man of wealth, she teaches a stirring climax in which her future standing is determined in one exciting night.

"OUTDOORS GIRL" IN "BEHOLD MY WIFE!"

Mabel Julienne Scott, the pretty heroine of "Behold My Wife," showing at the Alta Theatre today, is fast gaining a name for herself among photoplay patrons as "the outdoor girl." No one was better pleased than Miss Scott because the bulk of the action in her last three pictures was "shot" outside the studio. There was "The Sea Wolf," filmed against a background of stormy seas and a barren island and "The Round-Up," with its scenes laid in the Arizona desert and a border town on its rim.

Now comes "Behold My Wife," adapted from Sir Gilbert Parker's popular novel of the Canadian Northwest, "The Translation of a Savage." To secure the proper atmosphere for this virile tale, Director George Melford transported his company to the Sierra Mountains, in northern California. Miss Scott has the role of an innocent Indian maiden. To play the part she had to walk miles on snow shoes, lug huge packs of furs, and otherwise disport herself as the granddaughter of a redskin chief who has never heard of the eight-hour day.

NEW TROPHY IS GIVEN FOR BASKETBALL RACE

NEW YORK, Nov. 24.—(A. P.)—The schedule of the inter-collegiate basketball league was announced here last night. The competition will be for the Arthur Alexander memorial cup, which succeeds the Heppe trophy, won permanently last season by Pennsylvania. The schedule includes games by Princeton, Cornell, Yale, Dartmouth, "The Sea Wolf," filmed against a back-

NEW LEAGUE IS SEEN BROODING IN NORTH

SPokane, Nov. 24.—(A. P.)—A possible rearrangement, if not a split, in the Pacific International Baseball league when the league meeting is held at Tacoma the first Tuesday in December is forecast in statements made recently by Spokane officials of the league.

Possibility of a new league, comprising clubs representing cities west of the Cascades, including Spokane, is said to be strong, as, owing to the recently increased railroad fares, it is held that the distance between the P. I. club towns are too great to permit of professional baseball being conducted without a loss.

"Bob Brown (of the Vancouver, B. C. club) is admittedly seeking a berth in the Coast league," said George M. Ferris, president of the Spokane P. I. club. He has told us that the Vancouver club has $75,000 available with which to finance the franchise he hopes to land this season. With Vancouver in the Coast league it would leave Seattle, Everett, Bellingham, Anacortes, Victoria, B. C., Tacoma and other west side towns to form an organization.

"On this side of the mountains, the league may be made up by Spokane, Tacoma, Wenatchee, Walla Walla, Lewiston, Wallace-Kellogg, Coeur d'Alene, Spirit Lake, Pullman and other prospective centers, which sought admission to the proposed inland league projected in 1920 before the Pacific International league was formed."

Following the meeting in Tacoma of directors of the P. I. league, President Ferris stated, another meeting of the interested baseball leaders of the Inland Empire will be called at Spokane at which time more definite plans will be formulated.

CANDIDATES ARE MANY FOR PROVINCE OFFICES

VANCOUVER, B. C., Nov. 24.—(A. P.)—With an average of rather more than three candidates for each of the forty-seven seats in the legislature, with 29 candidates for the six Vancouver seats and 19 for the four seats in Victoria, the British Columbia general elections will be held December 1. One hundred and fifty-three candidates have been nominated in the province. More candidates are thus in the field than ever before in the history of British Columbia.

The reason for this is variously attributed to the slackening of party discipline, the breaking away of many independents from the old party folds, the tendency to form soldier-farmer and soldier-labor parties and, finally, the fact that the last legislature abolished the requirement for deposit by a candidate of one hundred dollars. Women for the first time will vote at the provincial general election. Only three women are running in Vancouver city, one as the nominee of the liberty party, one with the endorsement of the conservatives and one as an independent. The first woman to sit in the British Columbia legislature, Mrs. Ralph Smith, is again in the field.

SWIFT CRAFT CONVEY GOBS BETWEEN PORTS

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 24.—(A. P.)

Two 40 knot destroyers have been assigned to a naval ferry service between San Diego and Los Angeles, for the benefit of navy men stationed here with whom they may wish to spend their leaves of absence. Admiral Hugh Rodman, fleet commander, in announcing the new service that observation had shown that ever since the fleet came to the Pacific its men had made Los Angeles their goal when given shore leave. Land transportation, he said, had been slow and expensive, and in many cases the men had spent half their leave coming here and returning to station.

The destroyers, it was stated, can carry 200 passengers, will make the run from port to port in two and a half hours, and will transport the sailors without charge.

MONTANA GIANT TREES MAY HAVE PROTECTION

HELENA, Mont., Nov. 24.—(A. P.)—Plans for a 5,000 acre recreation spot in the big Blackfoot country, north of Missoula, and northwest of Helena, to save what are said to be the largest trees in Montana, are being prompted by the Lewis and Clark possibility, federal aid, is to be sought, according to present plans.

The country is a picturesque one. It abounds in yellow pines from six to eight feet in diameter, and is a noted fishing and hunting ground. The land is sought to dedicate to public recreational purposes is mostly privately owned, the principal owners being W. A. Clark interests and the Anaconda Copper Mining company. The state also holds some of the lands.

The proposed reserve embraces the town of Lincoln, toward the west end of the park. The matter for forming the park is to be taken up first with the state forester, it is announced, and it is to be taken up to the state legislature if necessary. Splendid roads have been built into the country and the Lewis and Clark commissioners feel that the forest should be preserved, at least in part, for posterity.
