

People Here and There

David H. Nelson arrived home on Monday from a business trip to his ranch in Montana and left today for Portland. Mrs. Bluma Oha, who resided with the Nelsons here was recently injured by being struck by an auto in Portland and his trip to the metropolis will include a visit to her.

Only a hand to mouth business is now being done in the wool trade, E. J. Burke, of Portland, who is here today, said. Only the mills that need wool for immediate needs are buying and as a result there is little doing in this industry. The wool men are hopeful of remedial legislation being passed at the present session of congress in their interests, Mr. Burke said. He came up on private business this morning and will probably return to Portland tomorrow night. He does not plan to take in the wool growers' meeting.

Meeting the King and Queen of England was one of the experiences of Bishop Frederik W. Keator when he attended the Bishops' Conference held in England last summer. Bishop Keator had met the royalty at a previous conference some years ago and says that all the pomp that marked the first meeting was absent on the second occasion, which was characterized by the informality which the English court adopted during the war. The Bishop was formerly a lawyer in Chicago. Later he entered the Episcopal ministry and within 10 years was made a bishop. He was in Pendleton Sunday and yesterday.

William McLerran, general passenger agent for the O. W. R. & N., J. C. Cummings, his chief clerk, and H. W. Hicks, traveling passenger agent, passed through Pendleton last night, bound for Omaha. The trip is a business one for the railroad.

NERVE-SPEED WHEN NEEDED

Lack of Reserve Force Cause of Most Failures in the Daily Affairs of Life

To feel weary without having earned it by hard work throws the mind into disorder and confusion. A hundred people describing their weary condition would each tell it differently. One can't think, another is drowsy, the next feels weak, others are irritable, moody, depressed, apprehensive, as the case may be. To this great class of sufferers comes Reolo, one of the grandest reconstructive agencies ever devised for definite accomplishment. It intensifies the activity of the vital process, provokes increased flesh, stimulates the production of red corpuscles, contributes to the defense of the system against depletion and consequent exhaustion and in many other ways arouses the functional processes to make you feel that something has touched that one flickering vital spark you thought was about to go out. No amount of description can adequately convey the difference between the feeling of lack of nerve speed and the rebound, the freedom, the liberation from depression that comes to so many men and women to fall in their tracks, to go to sleep at the switch or stand still when the order is to go ahead. If you would really like to get acquainted with your real self get a $1.00 box of Reolo today. Ask any of the clerks at Thompsons Drug Store or any other leading drug store.

Not Exactly This But Near It Is the Too Often Experience of Many Men

VanDeusen, home demonstration agent, left this morning for Stanfield. Miss Davis will inspect the domestic science department and Mrs. VanDeusen will meet with Stanfield women in the interests of Home Bureau work.
