COMMUNITY CHRISTMAS TREE IS ON WEDNESDAY

(East Oregonian Special.)

UMAPINE, Dec. 16.—The Community Christmas tree and program will be held at Umapine hall on Wednesday evening at 7:30. Everyone is invited to come and enjoy the program which will consist of recitations, songs, drills and choruses, all given by local talent. At the close of the entertainment part of the evening sacks of candy and nuts will be distributed to the children present, by an honest-to-goodness Santa Claus.

A marriage of interest to the Umapine community took place on Sunday in Watha Walls when Miss Reba Coplen became the bride of Wilbert Martin of Moro, Ore. Mrs. Martin is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Coplen of this place and up to the date of her marriage was one of the teachers of Pleasant View school just east of here. The young couple will make their home at Moro.

One of the most pleasant affairs of Umapine social life took place on Thursday evening when the directors and clerk of the Vincent school and their wives entertained at a progressive dinner having as their guests the teachers of the school. Invitations read that dinner would be served at the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. O. Saunders at 6:30. At the conclusion of the two courses soup and salad, the guests who numbered 29 decided that was enough for them and motored to the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Bean who served chicken patties, with vegetables. The next course consisting of a dessert of pumpkin pie with whipped cream and peaches and cake was served at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Hoon where they toasted marshmallows in the big fire place and enjoyed music. The motor trips were a surprise to the guests until the actual time for departure from Mr. Saunders home. Different partners were also secured at each stopping place. The hosts and hostesses for the evening were Mr. and Mrs. D. O. Saunders, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Bean, Mr. and Mrs. T. O. Goodman, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Hoon, while the guests were Mr. and Mrs. Stockton, Mr. and Mrs. McDaniel, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Harrah, the Misses Phillip, Hobbs, Frank, Withee, Beck and Rev. Wilson.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Philippi received word from their daughter Mrs. Charlie Wellman who underwent a critical operation at the Mayo Brook hospital in Rochester Minn., on last Thursday that the operation had been successful and that Mrs. Wellman was doing well.

Mrs. W. B. Phillips who has been so critically ill at her home near Umapine is reported as recovering rapidly this last week.

On Sunday evening while coming to Umapine the Haynes Eight car belonging to Claude Beale caught fire from a short circuit. It is believed in the wiring and was entirely destroyed. The auto was covered by insurance. Mr. Beale last month returned from an extended trip east in the car.

R. E. Bean, county commissioner, was a visitor at Pendleton on Tuesday meeting with the county court. Mr. Bean while in Pendleton took the oath of office and will be ready to assume his duties as a member of the county court on Wednesday January 5, when the next regular session will be held.

The auction sale of dairy cows and farm implements held by County Commissioner-elect R. E. Bean last Friday was largely attended, the crowd being attracted by the choice offerings of dairy animals advertised. Every thing in the sale brought good prices with the exception of horses which were sold for considerable less than their real value. Mr. Bean was especially pleased with the prices realized from his herd of dairy cows which averaged $162 each, which it is believed is the highest price ever paid in this section of Umatilla County at a complete dispersal sale of dairy cows. The prices realized are due to the fact that actual milk and butter fat production records have been kept ever since he has been in the dairy business and the further important announcement that the entire herd would be sold upon a guarantee that they were free from tuberculosis. During the six years in the dairy business nothing but pure bred sires have been used and a number of heifers have been retained by Mr. Bean for future development.

THE CITY FARMER.
(By Frank L. Stanton.)
So winsome-fine my garden looks,
Not even a little wilt I'd roam;
Here, bending o'er my city books,
The climbing cornblades wave me home,
Columns to count, and then I go
To greet green things that call me so.

And twilight stars, and at the gate
A welcome for the day's glad toil,
And in the gathering darkness late
To read the sweet dreams of the soil.
'Round me dream-shadowed curtains fall:
Mine is the Peace that's all in all.

IS IT IMMORAL TO CANCEL ORDERS?
GOVERNOR COOLIDGE, vice president-elect, says that the practice on the part of business houses of cancelling orders for merchandise is a sign of moral looseness. On the contrary, it is a sign we are getting back to "normalcy." It is no crime to cancel orders when conditions justify such action. Often orders are placed with the distinct understanding that they may be cancelled if the buyer so wishes. Governor Coolidge attacks the results of business depression and not the cause.

Meanwhile, if the vice president-elect is to fight "moral looseness," what is to be his view regarding the morality of a separate peace; what is his opinion about fulfillment of that war pledge about a league to preserve peace by safeguarding the rights of great and small nations alike? Representatives of 40 nations are assembled at Geneva and their chief occupation these days is wondering what the new American administration is going to do. Big nations that would like to reduce armaments are unwilling to do so until Uncle Sam shows his hand? How long are they to be kept in suspense?

Governor Coolidge is regarded as a good man and a courageous one. But he will get no where by upbraiding businessmen for protecting themselves during a period of falling prices. It is construction, not criticism, that we want, Harding and Coolidge were elected on the theory they would provide prosperity, lower taxes and "preserve America." The order has not been cancelled and the people await delivery of the goods.

The Oregonian reports a wedding with the information that the feminine member of the new partnership was the bride. Startling, but doubtless true.

A drug addict in Portland, convicted of teaching a boy to use drugs, was sentenced to 180 days in jail. He should have been given 180 years.

Umatilla county will be very glad to share in use of that six million dollars of state money made available for further road work.

Christmas Ideas

Etched Glass

The careful hostess is prone to see her table set with mismatched designs of glassware and on this point we have something interesting to show in glassware.

The Etched glass is thinner than the cut glass and the pattern is etched into the glass thus showing the design in clear outline on the glass.

The cost is less than the cut glass and any piece broken can easily be replaced.

A table set with this etched glass is very impressive and to the observer the uniformity of the glass pattern makes a table much more attractive than a miscellaneous service of glass.

Three very popular patterns are
The Louis XIV, Vintage and Scotch Plaid.

The time is so short now until Christmas Eve that it is well to round into definite form your Christmas ideas.

The gift purchased now can be laid away in our spacious safes until called for—or desired to be delivered.

Sawtelle's name on the box gives the gift prestige—it is style right—quality right—priced right.

Jewelry is the one "Gift that Lasts"—not forgotten by the morrow—but treasured thru the years.

A visit is welcome—the "just looking" people will find a genuine welcome here. We welcome price comparison.

The largest stock—each piece marked in plain figures—and each piece guaranteed by Sawtelles.

Don't fail to visit our "gift shop"—holds the novelties that are different and at comfortable prices.

"GIFTS THAT LAST."

China

The china market has been such that to secure china has almost been an impossibility. We regret this condition and have been striving to do our best to secure good dishes for you.

Fortunately we have some very choice ware to show you this Christmas whether you contemplate buying a complete service or individual pieces.

We maintain the same care to matching sets here as in our silver department—and china purchased now can be augmented later with pieces of the same pattern.

Separate pieces such as cake sets, berry sets, mayonnaise dishes, make acceptable, inexpensive gifts and gifts that are sure to be appreciated.
