TILDEN AND JOHNSON FORM AMERICAN TEAM IN DAVIS CUP DOUBLES

Patterson and Brooks Chosen to Represent Australia in Challenge Round of Play Which Starts Tomorrow.

AUCKLAND, N. Z., Dec. 27.—(A. P.)—William T. Tilden, U. S. champion and Philadelphia, world's singles champion, and Norman P. Brooks, also of Australia, former world's champion, and Norman E. Brooks, also of Australia, and former British champion, will represent Australia in the challenge round of play for the Davis cup Dec. 28.

The premier tennis players of the world are represented by the United States and Australasia teams which will meet on the turf courts at Auckland, New Zealand, during the coming week in the 16th struggle for the Davis Cup. The trophy, emblematic of the world's team tennis championship, occupies the unique position of being the most frequently competed for international sport prize in the history of amateur athletic contests. Donated in 1900 by Dwight F. Davis, at that time American doubles champion with Holcombe Ward, the trophy has been battled for 14 times in the past 20 years. During this period Australasian teams have won it six times; United States players five times and British States combinations three times.

American Entries Strong.
In the coming matches, which will consist of four singles contests and one doubles match, the United States will appear in the role of challenger and the Australasians as defenders. Four Americans composing the 1920 team arrived at Auckland December 15, the party consisting of William T. Tilden, of Philadelphia; William M. Johnston, of San Francisco; Watson M. Washburn of New York and Samuel Hardy of Chicago. The defending quartet, so far as is known in this country, will probably be composed of Gerald Patterson, Norman Brookes, R. V. Thomas and H. O'Hara Wood. The actual alignment of players will not be announced until shortly before the matches. It is expected that Tilden and Johnson will bear the brunt of the American attack while Patterson will be optimistic regarding the outcome of the matches, believing that in Tilden, World's singles champion, and Johnston, former American champion, who is rated just a stroke or two below Tilden at the present time, the United States has an invincible pair. Watson is a formidable relief player in case either of the stars become indisposed while Hardy, who in reality is captain and manager of the team, can play a superlative game if occasion demands. Patterson is the power in the Australasian team playing a game somewhat similar to that of Maurice McLoughlin, when the latter was at the top of his tennis form. Brookes, undoubtedly one of the greatest players of all times, is well advanced in years from a playing standpoint and cannot be expected to carry the burden of two singles matches and one doubles match in three days. If he joins with Patterson in doubles he will not appear in the singles. It may be however, that Brookes and Patterson will devote their efforts to the singles and leave the doubles contest to Thomas and Wood, who make most formidable team.

Nine Nations Have Entered.

A study of the vast amount of data which has accumulated in connection with 14 years of play for the Davis Cup shows that not including the preliminary rounds of the 1920 matches, 688 players representing nine nations have participated in the play for the international tennis trophy. Of this number the British Isles has used 18 and the United States 17. Australasia is third with ten and France, Belgium and South Africa follow with five each. All told these players took part in 233 matches which went to a decision and one match resulted in a tie.

The veteran Brookes holds the individual honors having been a member of the Australasians team in eight different years. During this period he played 44 matches of which he won 36. The late Anthony Wilding, a compatriot of Brookes who was killed during the world war, holds second honors for during his seven years of competition he played 37 matches of which he won 28. J. C. Parke, the English veteran ranks third with 22 matches and 12 victories. W. A. Larned and M. E. McLoughlin, two outstanding stars of American tennis are tied with 20 matches each. Larned has a slightly better winning average with 13 victories to McLoughlin's 12. The latter's defeat of both Wilding and Brookes in 1914, when the Australasians were at the height of their court career, however, was undoubtedly the greatest individual feat in the annals of international tennis.

DEAR PETEY:

Winston-Salem, N. C.
Monday

Get you a house and let you'd stay in W-S a month if you ever got to know folks here like I have. Between business and Reynolds factories and a bully time—well my date book has been bubbling over! And, I'm still running into facts that would stagger even your imagination, old football, with all your kick!

Pete, take it straight from government figures direct to you, that every work day in the week R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Co. buys from our "Uncle Sam" enough revenue stamps to pay for a duplicate of the handsome new Winston-Salem post office building! Ever hear of such a thing?

And, if you want to get an eyefull of an army of more than 15,000 people, be down in the Reynolds factory district when the whistles blow! Never saw such a cigarette fring-up time in my life!

Peter, everytime you light a Camel in the future, call back on what I've slipped you about Camels—absolutely, the greatest cigarette at any price—for quality, for refreshing flavor, for mellow mild body, for freedom from any unpleasant cigarettery aftertaste or odor! It's worth the busiest smoker's time to compare Camels with any cigarette in the world! Camels are simply a revelation! You know that.

I'll open my eyes in Atlanta tomorrow! In the meantime here's a wad of best wishes I have in stock!

Yours

Shorty.

BRYAN CAUSES A STIR IN MARION

The good people of Marion, O., are beginning to be bored by the visits of celebrities. But nobody yawned when Bill Bryan breezed into town. Bryan's call was of unusual interest in itself—here was the old Democratic war horse meeting the G. O. P. standard bearer by invitation. But it was Bryan's Napoleonic cape that interested the Marionites. This picture of Bryan and President-elect Harding was snapped at the corner of the famous front porch. On the left is a secret service man.
