Funeral Held Yesterday.
The funeral of Carl Shafer, aged man who died Saturday at the O. R. Sparks place on Birch creek, was held Monday afternoon from the Brown undertaking chapel. The service was conducted by Rev. J. E. Ireland.

Dr. Henderson Here.
Dr. T. M. Henderson, formerly a practicing specialist in Pendleton, was here today attending to business matters while en route from Portland to New York city. He is going to the eastern metropolis to study diseases of the ear, nose and throat during the next two months and will open offices in Portland in March, following his return. Mrs. Henderson and children will remain in Portland. The Hendersons left Pendleton in March, 1918 and have since resided in the north. Dr. Henderson planned to leave on No. 18 this afternoon.

Lodge Puts 11 Men Through.
Eureka lodge No. 32, I. O. O. F., last night added 11 members, this number being given the third degree work of the lodge. Two more were added by transfer.

Steelhead Catch Reported.
Fishermen on the Lower river yesterday succeeded in landing three good sized steelhead salmon, according to reports reaching here today. The river rose considerably during the night, however, and is now muddy. It is not expected that the water will be cleared up enough for fishing for perhaps a week.

Annual Meeting of Dealers Coming.
The annual meeting of the Pendleton Automobile Dealers Association is to be held here on the evening of Wednesday, January 13, according to announcement made today. The meeting probably will include a dinner at the Elks club. Election of officers for the coming year will be in the order of business.

Tri State Club to Meet.
The directors of the Tri State Auto Club, representing Pendleton, will meet with six invited men tomorrow noon at luncheon at the Elks club to consider further the proposal to organize a separate club with headquarters in Pendleton. County officials and members of the Pendleton Commercial Association interested in the move have been invited to the meeting.

Joint Installation Planned.
A joint installation of officers for the three branches of the Oddfellow group, Rebekahs, Encampment and subordinate lodge, is planned for Friday evening, January 7. The installation of the various officers will be public to members of the other branches. Refreshments will be served following the work and a musical program probably will be given. Officers installed serve for six months' terms.

Concert Date is Fixed.
The next concert to be presented in Pendleton under auspices of Pendleton Post, American Legion, will be given in the Oregon theater on the night of Wednesday, February 19. At that time the Columbia Symphony Orchestra, consisting of 20 pieces, will be the attraction. The coming of this concert troupe is one of the largest musical undertakings here in many days and the legion is preparing to make a drive to see that the affair is a financial success.

Man Here in Morris List.
Paul Mehl, marketing agent from Oregon Agricultural College, who is here today meeting with the executives of farmers organizations, is listed as one of the persons who holds interim certificates for bonds purchased through the defunct bond house of Morris Brothers, in Portland. Mrs. Joseph Leuer is also on the list for $1000. A concern named Gray Brothers was listed for $3000, but inquiry at the local store bearing that name said that they had no dealings with Morris Brothers and that it was evidently a concern in the Willamette valley. Checking over the lists is a difficult matter for no addresses of individuals are given.

Bids Will Be Opened.
Bids on from 500 to 1000 feet of fire hose will be opened by the city council tonight at the last meeting of the present council. Several proposals have been received by the city recorder. Bids are also supposed to be opened for a sewer cleaning machine, but up to this morning no proposal had been received. No street work will be ready for contract at this time and it is the intention of the city engineer to recommend that work not be let while winter prevails and construction is not possible. It is his belief that when work can be resumed, it can be let at a cheaper price. Following the council session, the new administration, which takes office on Monday, will caucus.

Proctor Making Statue for Coe.
A. Phinister Proctor, well known sculptor who formerly worked on models here, is starting work on a statue of Theodore Roosevelt to be presented to the City of Portland by Dr. Henry Waldo Coe, one of the large investors in property near Stanfield. Mr. Proctor has presented 12 models for the statue and Dr. Coe has just accepted one that he desires completed. The statue will be about 13 1/2 feet in height, in the equestrian style and will take several months to complete. Complete with base the whole will stand about 25 feet high and will cost, completed, $35,000. It will be unveiled in Portland about the end of the coming year. The location of the bronze is yet to be decided upon.

Body to Go to Portland.
The body of the late George Lawrence, traveling salesman who died here Monday night following an illness with pneumonia, will be sent to Portland tonight on train No. 23. It will be taken charge of by the Portland lodge of Elks, of which the deceased was a member, and he held for funeral arrangements, pending the arrival in Portland on Friday morning of Mrs. John Danielson, his sister from Chicago. G. L. Lawrence, of Seattle, father of the deceased, arrived in Pendleton this morning to assist in the funeral arrangements and will accompany the body to Portland tonight. The local lodge of Elks has had charge of the remains here. The deceased, according to his father, was 32 years old.

Community Worker at Luncheon.
R. E. Tucker, of Seattle, who will organize Pendleton for Community Service enterprises, arrived in Pendleton this morning and was a guest at the Rotary club luncheon at the Elks club this noon. He was called upon for a brief talk, in which he said he hoped to get work under way at once for organizing here. Several musical stunts were enjoyed at the luncheon. R. E. Chloupek being the chief entertainer.
