

RING OUT THE NEW; RING IN THE OLD

LET'S reverse the old couplet, put aside forever the bitterness and unrest which has afflicted the world, get both feet on the ground once more and think and live as we did before everything was turned upside down

We're doing our share by putting prices back toward the old-time basis

IT HAS BEEN SAID

- that half the money spent on advertising is wasted.
- THAT PROBABLY WAS TRUE SIX YEARS AGO.
- IT CERTAINLY IS NOT TRUE NOW.
- TO THE AUDIT BUREAU OF CIRCULATION IS DUE much of the credit for the difference.
- SIX YEARS AGO SPACE WAS BOUGHT BY GUESSWORK
- Now it is bought with a definite knowledge of circulation:—how many copies are printed, how they are distributed, how many paid for and how many given away.
- THE ADVERTISER WHO DOES NOT PROTECT HIMSELF by asking to see the A. B. C. reports of the publications he uses is reactionary and invites a return to the wasteful methods of former years.
- THE EAST OREGONIAN IS A MEMBER OF THE A. B. C. Its advertisers are fully protected.

WOMEN CLERKS IN DRY OFFICE HELD IN FRAUD

NEW YORK, Dec. 31.—(A. P.)—Two women clerks in the federal prohibition director's office here and three men, were arrested yesterday charged with conspiracy to defraud the United States through the use of liquor withdrawal permits obtained by bribery and by forgery of telegrams and permits.

The women are Mary Perkins and Regina Sassone, clerks in the office, and the men are Edward Donegan, a Brooklyn contractor; Sigmund (Beansy) Rosenfeld, and George R. Stibberson.

Donegan, Rosenfeld and the women were arraigned last night before United States Commissioner Hitchcock, who held Donegan under $100,000 bail and each of the others under $50,000 bail. Stibberson was not arraigned.

Besides the charges of fraud in the use of permits and telegrams, complaints sworn to by agents allege that Donegan and Rosenfeld offered the agents $25,000 to destroy evidence and release them and the women and that $6,500 was paid to the agents.

Operations of the alleged conspirators were described in four complaints. They charge that beginning Sept. 15 last the defendants agreed to obtain from the files of the prohibition director for New York state telegrams from distilleries in various parts of the country, involving about the genuineness of withdrawal permits presented by the distillers. By means of forged telegraphic replicas and fraudulent permits the complaints allege, the defendants planned to obtain liquor.

DWELLINGS ON SOUND THREATENED BY STORM

SEATTLE, Dec. 30.—(A. P.)—Dwelling houses along Magnolia Beach on the sound were threatened yesterday by high water caused by heavy winds, according to reports received here. Several houses are reported to have been washed from their foundations and at least one was threatened with destruction. Bulkheads along the water front were washed out it was reported.

BLOODHOUNDS TAKE TRAIL OF FUGITIVE STOCKADE ESCAPE

SEATTLE, Dec. 31.—(A. P.)—Deputy Sheriffs with bloodhounds were searching the north end of King county yesterday for Harry Smith, who escaped from the county stockade at the willows. Smith was serving a sentence of one year at the stockade on a charge of carrying concealed weapons.

The Necessary Horse.
"Do you think the motel will entirely supersede the horse?"
"I hope not," replied Farmer Cornstossel. "There must be some market for hay. I depend on what I make on hay to buy gasoline."—Washington Star.

ASSESSMENT BILL EXTENDED.
WASHINGTON, Dec. 31.—(A. P.)—A bill extending for six months the time in which 1920 assessment work on mining claims can be done was signed today by the president.

THE DANCE FROCK

The dance frock may be as bouffant as the young miss desires in spite of Paris' decrees that the silhouette be long and slender. The foundation of this frock is of rose satin. The corsage is made over a low cut bandeau trimmed with lace and fur. The pointed tunic is made of several layers of rose chiffon outlined with jet beads.

Always Found Together

Wherever Congressman Ernest A. Ackerman of New Jersey goes, his umbrella goes also. Between sessions of Congress Ackerman travels around the world and he's been to all four corners—with his bumbershoot. Twenty-eight years ago he met another traveler who also toted a rain stick. They discussed how long they'd carry them. Ackerman still has his. "It's as necessary as my trunk or my ticket!" says he.

28 YEARS AGO

(From the Daily East Oregonian, December 31, 1892.)

Dave Horn, mine host of the Pendleton, has gone out to his place on McKay creek for a few days of ranching.

M. S. Geary the teacher of dancing who has been here for several days past, has organized a special class of ladies who meet Friday for their first instruction.

Three children of the family of S. R. McLeader are very ill from pneumonia at his place north of Pendleton, and one has been in a critical condition.

Greulich Bros. have put up some forty tons of ice, which they found at a pond near the north of Tutu-willow. The cakes are about four inches thick. License to seed has been issued by the county clerk to E. M. Denton and Miss Amanda Beeler of Weston.

PENROSE AT CAPITAL AFTER YEAR'S ABSENCE

WASHINGTON, Dec. 31.—(A. P.)—Senator Penrose of Pennsylvania, chairman of the senate finance committee, returned to Washington last night after an absence of more than a year, due to ill health. The Pennsylvania senator was taken ill at his home in Philadelphia when he went there shortly before the adjournment of congress in November of last year.

There has been no announcement at Senator Penrose's office here as to whether he intends to resume his seat in the senate at this time and the senator, last night said he had nothing to say as to his immediate plans. It is indicated, however, that he would make an announcement within the next day or two.

FROM THE PEOPLE

Boardman, Ore., Dec. 30, 1920.

Editor East Oregonian:

Allow me to congratulate the East Oregonian on the manner in which it gets behind every progressive movement.

I have read your various articles, on the much needed development of our natural resources, namely, The John Day and Columbia River Water Power Projects.

I have been in localities where the word progress was not in the dictionary, where roads, hub deep in mud, have mowed among stumps the past twenty five years because they were in the way, where gravel has been lacking for the reason that the road was not made down the stream bed, where progressive movements, such as we foster today are as unreasonable as a July Snow man in Arizona.

Such localities within our state, and every other state of the union are sorely in need of a hypo injection of Eastern Oregon spirit.

Nature has provided the foundation for an era of intense development within our midst and Eastern Oregon spirit will not leave it to the coming generation to accomplish.

Out of respect for the early pioneers of this district who have weathered through the cactus and sand toad era and made possible the local needs of such development, it behooves our various communities to come together on these matters and uphold our reputation of progress and thrift.

Let the good work go on.
M. P. TUCKER.

GREECE REPUDIATES TO ALLIES

ATHENS, Dec. 31.—(U. P.)—The Greek government today repudiated the allies' notes protesting the return of King Constantine. Greece insisted that Constantine is not pro-German and that Greece will remain friendly to the allies.

Thank You

Though we say only a brief "Thank you," in the busy routine of the day's business, we want you to know that we thoroughly appreciate our cordial relations.

Our earnest endeavor will be to merit a continuance of your valued patronage.

Our efforts to give you the very best service possible will soon be reflected in crisp new merchandise in every section of the store at our low every day prices characteristic of the value giving of this national institution.

It is our sincere wish that yours will indeed be a "Happy New Year," happy in true American spirit and ideals, reflected in the pleasure of home and loved ones, friends and prosperity.
