New Casing Being Placed

A casing of four and a half inch diameter today was being placed in the well being driven by the Columbia Basin Oil Co., at Aitalla, according to travelers from that vicinity arriving here. The old six inch hole has been rimmed and with the smaller casing in place, the flow of water recently struck is expected to be stopped.

Dr. C. J. Smith Chosen

Dr. C. J. Smith, formerly of Pendleton, now of Portland, was yesterday chosen by Governor O'Leary as a member of the State Board of Health. The appointment will be effective January 15. Dr. Smith has previously served two terms, covering the period from 1907 to 1915. He is considered one of the most prominent men in the state. Dr. George E. Houck of Roseburg and Dr. J. H. Rosenberg of Prineville were also appointed.

Second Semester to Open

The second semester of St. Joseph's Academy will open January 24, the date for the opening of semesters in Pendleton public schools. The Academy offers instruction in the elementary and high school subjects. Several new pupils have registered since the opening of school following the Christmas vacation.

Benjamin Attends Irrigation Meeting

Fred Benjamin, county agricultural agent, left last night for Portland where he will represent the Pendleton Commercial Association, the County Farm Bureau and his office as delegate. The congress meets today and Saturday. Several men from the west end of the county, interested in irrigation matters, are also attending, but Mr. Benjamin is the only Pendleton man known to have gone to the convention.

South of County Reports

Three cashier's checks, for the amounts raised in Pilot Rock, Ukiah and Albee toward the European Relief, were received this morning by C. K. Cranston, county treasurer, from C. W. Paulus, cashier of the First Bank of Pilot Rock. Pilot Rock subscribed $250 toward the fund. Several preachers in the county are still to be heard from and as yet no decision on the flour contracts has been made. The county will send its quota to Europe in flour.

Pollman Endorses Flour Move

The Chamber of Commerce at Pullman, Wash., is heartily in favor of the campaign inaugurated for buying a barrel of flour, a letter received today by the Pendleton Commercial Association said. The directors recently endorsed the move and are doing what they can to stimulate flour purchases in their section, where wheat is the chief product. Walla Walla has also been heard from, its commercial club having started a campaign similar to that begun here.

Bond Legality Not Settled

No new developments on the alleged invalidity of Pendleton's $22,000 in park and fire apparatus bonds had been reported up to today. City Attorney Harold J. Warner said. Except for the letter received from the bonding house of Carstens & Earles, whose attorneys, Teal, Minor & Winfree opined that the bonds are not valid, no evidence has been received. Mr. Warner expects additional light to be thrown on the subject with receipt of the opinion of the bond house attorneys.

Astoria Supporting Nelson

The Astoria Chamber of Commerce is "going down the line" for David H. Nelson for highway commissioner from this district, according to a wire received this morning by the Pendleton Commercial Association. The Astorians asked to be notified if their efforts should be continued in Mr. Nelson's behalf now that a first appointment has been made and rejected by the appointed, Jay H. Dobbin. The association wired back that Mr. Nelson's candidacy had not been abandoned and that Astoria's continued support would be appreciated. Mr. Nelson resided in the seaport city years ago before coming to Umatilla county.

New Officers Installed

Installation of 1921 officers for the Modern Woodmen of America was held last night in Eagle-Woodman hall with H. E. Cook as installing officer. Following are the officers: William Anderson, V. C. Ralph Perry, W. A. George, Edmund, escort; Arthur Franklin, secretary; Alfred Anderson, watchman; H. M. Elder, clerk; George Mason, banker; Walter Jones was elected trustee for three years. W. Hassig was chosen to fill the office of G. A. W., a new office which has been created. After the installation, refreshments were served. Neighbors Paddy and Newcomb gave a short talk on fraternalism.

Household Articles Asked

A double bed, a mattress, quilting and a stove suitable for cooking purposes are sought by the Salvation Army from generously inclined local people for the aid of a needy family. Captain Jennie Conrad, of the local post, today issued a request for such equipment. A family consisting of a young boy, a father who is ill and unable to work, and a mother who is working, has been provided by the army with quarters in an apartment in exchange for the woman's services in taking care of the apartment. The family is worthy, Captain Conrad declares.

May Need New Representative

With the resignation of W. P. LaRoche, of Portland, as city attorney to defend John L. Etheridge, it is expected that a new attorney will have to be designated to represent Pendleton in the cross examination of the telephone company representatives when the hearing on the phone rate rise is resumed before the State Public Service Commission. Mr. LaRoche was delegated by the city attorneys present to handle their cases when the first hearing was held December 21 and 22.

Mrs. Van Deusen to Speak.
Mrs. Edith G. Van Deusen, home demonstration agent, will speak on "Child Feeding" at a meeting of the Riverside Parent Teacher Association meeting tonight. The Riverside school recently installed a hot school lunch system.

Judge Fitz Gerald Slighted
A line that failed to cast yesterday resulted in the omission from the list of city appointed officials of the name of Judge Thomas Fitz Gerald, as recorder. The judge was appointed recorder for the tenth successive time Wednesday night, each time under a different administration. He has served in the office of recorder and police judge for 19 years, having taken office in 1902.

Firesmen Overzealous, Says Gertson
When a bit too much smoke emitted from the chimney serving Gertson & Marty's auto shop, adjoining the city hall, yesterday afternoon, firemen decided that there was a fire fine and went to the rescue. They poured chemicals and water down the flue and soot, water, mud and other debris came out of the chimney, according to George Gertson, part owner. The result was that considerable cleaning up was necessary this morning and a portion of the wall must be refinished.

William Eagan in Jail Again
Room rent this winter is costing William Eagan little, for he was sentenced this morning for the third time since November 27, to a term in the city jail. His first offense, November 27, was that of drunkenness and he served five days in lieu of a $10 fine. On December 9 he was arrested for being drunk and disorderly and sentenced to 10 days in jail without the alternative of a fine. Last evening he was arrested, charged with unlawful possession of liquor. Judge Fitz Gerald fined him $50 or 25 days and he went to jail. Eagan told the judge he had "a touch of pleurisy" last evening and paid $6 for a pint of moonshine in hopes of obtaining relief.

No Reduction in Diamonds.
Despite the general decrease in prices of various commodities, diamonds and other precious stones will not decrease in price, in the opinion of local jewelers. The demand is steady and the trend of price is upward rather than downward. No change in the price of gold, silver or platinum has yet been apparent. Jewelers and china dealers of the city state, however, that Haviland china, which was not procurable to any great extent during the war, is now on the market and is practically back to pre-war prices. The china is made in Limoges, France.

Mrs. Taggart to Go East.
Mrs. Thomas Taggart, head of the ladies' ready-to-wear department of The Peoples Warehouse, will leave on Sunday on her annual buying trip for the firm. She will spend six weeks in the eastern markets purchasing the spring and summer models for her firm. Two weeks will be spent in Chicago and Cleveland and three weeks in New York.

Mrs. Brown to Buy Goods.
Mrs. D. C. Brown, head of the ladies' ready-to-wear department of Alexanders, will leave for New York City on Sunday, Jan. 16, on her annual spring buying trip for the local store. She plans to be gone about five or six weeks, during which time she will visit the wholesale houses of the nation's metropolis and the style shops of the east.

Story Hour Resumed
Miss Martha Johnson, one of the teachers of the Washington school who has been conducting a story hour each Saturday morning at the city library, will have the hour tomorrow as usual. The feature was suspended during the Christmas holidays. The story hour opens at 11 a. m. and continues until noon.

INCOME TAX

The recent Treasury Decision which permits farmers to make their returns on the Inventory Basis and allowing him to go back into prior years and make adjustments for past returns is very important. It allows the farmer to get onto the Business Basis for Income Tax purposes. No special mention is made of the necessity of keeping books for this purpose but this is understood. He must keep books if he would take advantage of his inventories in his Income Tax Return.

In this connection do you know that in past years the farmer has shown by his Income Tax Returns to have made approximately 38 per cent of all the money made in the United States by individuals in business? Do you believe that he actually MADE it or did he OVERSTATE his income as a result of making his return on the Cash Basis?

The only proper way to determine income and expense is on the accrual basis. Any other method is merely an estimate which invariably is overestimated with respect to income and underestimated with respect to expense.

To properly set up farm books is an accountant's work. And this accountant must in addition have a very careful knowledge of Income Tax Law and Regulations.

But it pays to have it done right. It does not COST money—it SAVES money.
