CALENDAR OF EVENTS

D. Richardson Recovers
Dick Richardson, make-up man for the East Oregonian who has been ill for some time, has recovered. He returned to his work today.

Arizona is Liked
Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Dunlap, in a letter to Pendleton friends, say they are enjoying their stay in Cactus, Arizona. Mr. Dunlap formerly owned the pool hall which was purchased by the Nye-Ward Company.

Elks Will Have Dance Tuesday
The third of a series of winter informal dancing parties, for Elks and their friends, will be given in the lodge room on Tuesday evening, Jan. 11. The committee in charge is planning for another successful evening of dancing.

McCausland Creditors Meet.
The first meeting of creditors of P. C. McCausland, of Weston, bankrupt, was held this morning at 10 o'clock in the office of Thomas Fitz Gerald, referee in bankruptcy. Several from the Weston and Athena country creditors of the bankrupt, were present.

Pottlatch Is Held
A pottlatch for the late Jim Yamawit, Umatilla Indian who died during the Christmas season, was held yesterday on the reservation, with many squaws and braves in attendance for the rites. A big feast was held and the belongings of the deceased were distributed among his friends.

City Ordinances Asked for Copies of the Pendleton city ordinances with regard to sewers and electric wiring were sent today to Oregon Agricultural College by Thomas Fitz Gerald, city recorder. The ordinances were requested by a member of the engineering department at the college.

New Telegraph Editor.
C. F. Blaker, recently of Seattle is now telegraph editor of the East Oregonian having entered upon his duties yesterday. Mr. Blaker had newspaper experience in Denver and Eugene, Oregon, where he was a student in the University of Oregon journalism department. He had also attended the University of Indiana.

Graveling Cemetery Walks.
The graveling of the walks at the Olney cemetery is nearing completion. The work is being done by the city and 123 yards of graveling will be the result. The Pendleton Mausoleum will gravel the roadway from the gate to the mausoleum, putting the gravel in the entire space between the curbs.

Dr. Ellsworth Leaves.
Dr. R. C. Ellsworth left last night for Portland to attend the semi-annual examinations given by the Oregon State Board of Chiropractic Examiners, of which board he is president. Twenty-six applications for license to practice have been filed with the board for consideration. Dr. Ellsworth will return Thursday night.

Western Union Operator Promoted.
E. W. Acheson, for the past 14 months an operator for the Western Union local offices, yesterday received notice of his promotion to a post in the Western Union office at Astoria and left last night for that city. His place here was taken by Miss H. J. Meyer, who has been in the La Grande office for the past three months. She is from Aberdeen, Wn.

Potomac Names Representative
J. W. Maloney today received notice from Frank S. Grant, potentate of Al Kader temple, of the Mystic Shrine, at Portland, of his appointment as personal representative of the potentate for Pendleton. Mr. Grant was recently made city attorney for Portland and is a friend of long standing of his local appointee, both being prominent also in the Knights of Pythias lodges of Oregon.

Concert Enjoyed Thoroughly.
Two hundred Elks, their families and friends, last night enjoyed every minute of an hour and a half concert by the Ricketts Glee Club, consisting of four members. Vocal solos, duets and quartets were well received. The members played saxophones, accordions, musette, banjo and piano, rendering jazz, popular and standard music and one or two classics. R. E. Tucker, community service organizer, led the audience in community singing before the final number of the concert.

Clean-Up of Rubbish On.
The new street department, under C. A. Crabtree, superintendent of streets, has begun work of cleaning up Pendleton in the literal sense. Old piles of junk which have reposed behind buildings for months are being ferreted out and all rubbish which can be found will be ordered removed and burned. The commissioner and his force are working in cooperation with the fire chief, for the presence of such material is not only considered unsightly but is usually a fire menace. Householders are also being urged to get on the bandwagon and cooperate in this drive.

Flour Ready for Inspection
Flour which will go from Umatilla county to help feed the children of Central Europe, is now ready to be inspected by the European Relief Council, according to local heads of the move. A wire was sent to New York last night advising headquarters that the flour is ready. One carload will be sent from Milton, having been assigned to the Peacock Mills at Freewater and the Preston-Shaffer Mills at Athena. About two additional carloads will be furnished by the three local mills, Walters, Pendleton Roller Mills and Collins Flour Mills. The flour has not yet been loaded into cars, but is packed for export. It will be placed on shipboard on this coast.

New Man To Take Charge
H. O. Payne, of the Internal Revenue office in Portland, will arrive soon in Pendleton to take charge of the internal revenue office in the federal building, headquarters for income tax collection in all counties east of the Cascades. He will succeed C. A. Ruff, who has been in charge of the office since his appointment last year. Mr. Ruff goes to the Portland office from here. Assisting Mr. Payne will be M. E. Gaffney. The office, Mr. Ruff announces, will be opened for the collection of federal income taxes for the past calendar year. There has been no change in the requirements, and every single person whose income in 1920 was $1000 or more and every married person whose income last year was $2000 or more must file with the tax collector not later than March 15 a statement of taxable income. The tax is payable not later than March 15, but by paying one-fourth of the levy then, the remainder may be paid in three quarterly in-

Three Take Masonic Work.
Frederick W. Koeppe, Otto W. Koeppen and Charles H. Ostrander last night were given the Order of the Temple by the Pendleton Commandery No. 7, Knights Templar.

Talk Is Given.
How to detect malnutrition in children was explained by Mrs. Edith G. Van Deusen in her talk to the Riverside Parent Teacher Association last night. Mrs. Van Deusen stated that malnutrition was dangerous and that it would lead to defective children. She told of the various foods which the body needs and gave instruction in the calculation of calories in food. Eating pancakes and syrup, candy between meals and the drinking of tea and coffee by young children was deplored by Mrs. Van Deusen. Milk she described as an excellent food and urged that parents see that children drink more milk. As a result of her talk, the parents agreed to weigh and measure the children to see if gains or losses are being made. It is possible that the school will purchase scales for this purpose.

DRASTIC CURTAILMENT MAY BE MADE IN GAME KILLING
GREAT FALLS, Mont., Jan. 8.—(A.P.)—The Power City Gun Club of Great Falls plans to recommend to the Montana legislature closing of the bird season for four years, beginning in 1921.

Grouse, prairie chickens, sage hens, partridges and other fowls will be included. The club also would close the deer season in several counties. Officers of the club declare drastic measures towards conservation of birds and animals are necessary.

BIG EDDY MAN SPENDS HOLIDAYS AT WESTLAND

(East Oregonian Special).
WESTLAND-MINNEHAHA, Jan. 8.—Jake Striel of Big Eddy was a guest at the home of W. H. Starr over the New Year by Mrs. Starr on New Year's day. The other guests were Mr. and Mrs. James Ware, Charles Ware and John Ware and Miss Gladys Ware of Westland.

Miss Margaret Ornduff spent vacation week visiting with Mrs. B. F. Williams of Milton.

Little Raymond Ogden, who was seriously scalded some time ago is slowly recovering.

Mrs. F. B. Pennock is suffering from a severe attack of asthma.

Both the Westland and the Minnehaha school enjoyed a Christmas program and a week's vacation lasting over the holidays and are now back at their regular school work.

Fred Thom returned to Pendleton school after spending his vacation at to resume his studies in the high the home of his mother, Mrs. R. E. Thom.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. U. G. Shipley of Westland was the scene of a pleasant family reunion when all of their children and grand children returned home for their Christmas celebration. Nineteen sat around the table for Christmas dinner. Those who came home for the event were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Conner and Helen and Lionel Conner of La Grande, Otto Shipley of Pleasant Valley, Ore., Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Bartley and little daughter, Opal, and Ernest Shipley of Nolin.

Little Jennie Haney is seriously ill with indigestion at her home at Westland.

W. H. Starr and W. G. Rodda attended the meeting of the Oregon dairyman's league at Stanfield on Friday.

TEN PRODUCING WELLS MONTANA'S OIL RECORD

GREAT FALLS, Mont., Jan. 8.—(A.P.)—The Montana oil industry is a year old and 10 producing wells have been capped and the flow is regulated. The field now developed in Fergus county, about 200 miles southeast of Great Falls, is 25 miles from the railroad and has two pipe lines, both connecting with the Chicago and St. Paul railway at Winnett, Montana. Ten producing wells are in the Fergus county field and nine of them are on a northwest southeast line two and a half miles long, with the discovery well three miles further east. It is said that 250 wells were drilled in various parts of Montana prior to the first producer. In the Fergus county field, variously known as the Winnett, the Mooby and the Cat Creek oil field, approximately 50 wells are being drilled at the present time and innumerable companies are being promoted to exploit land.
