

People Here and There

Dr. M. S. Kern, local dentist, is in the hospital on business.

H. W. Graham, manager of the Willard Service Station in this city, left today for Portland on a business trip.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Edgerton of Portland are guests at the Golden Rule hotel. Mr. Edgerton is a type-writer salesman.

Dr. F. D. Watts, who is senior partner in the hardware firm of Watts & Rogers, of Athens, came to Pendleton today on business.

L. C. Lens, of Seattle, president of the Pendleton Roller Mills, resided at the Hotel Pendleton today. He is here on business connected with the local mills.

Gus Peret, big game hunter and traveling salesman for Peters shells, is in Pendleton today calling on the trade. He is now making headquarters in Portland, having been transferred from Spokane.

H. C. Ashbaugh, for many years owner of a blacksmith and paint shop in Heppner, has sold his holdings and with Mrs. Ashbaugh is in Pendleton for the purpose of locating here. They are accompanied by their twin daughters.

J. A. Benson, a brother-in-law of A. W. Itzig is here upon a visit from Portland where he recently received hospital treatment. Until last spring Mr. Benson was in the sheep business in Eastern Washington but sold out after the market decline set in. He still has land interests near Prosser.

Seattle as a business metropolis is lagging behind Portland, in the opinion of C. L. Hampton, of the firm of Crankshaw & Hampton, local furniture dealers. Mr. Hampton, who returned this morning after a visit to both the Oregon and Washington cities, says that Portland is doing more business than in Seattle and despite the recent deflation of prices, the Oregon city is thriving.

Carl Shiffer of this city, is among the Pendletonians who had word of the tragic death of "Long George" Francis recently in Montana. Mr. Shiffer says that Francis' auto slid off the Milk River bridge, 15 miles north of Havre. The car plunged to the ice below. In the fall one leg and three ribs were broken and he crawled nearly a mile and a half before he slashed his throat. He had lost his revolver in the fall. The temperature, according to Mr. Shiffer, was 25 degrees below zero. The body was not found until three days after.

You should hear the Hoosier Boys sing at the Nazarene Church.—Adv.

the accident. The tragedy occurred on Christmas day.

S. B. Sanderson, who publishes the Times at Freewater, is a business visitor in Pendleton today.

Edgar W. Smith, who has been in Pendleton on a short business trip, left on No. 17 this afternoon for his home in Portland.

Twenty-eight years ago H. C. Means was mayor of Umatilla county. He is identified as one of the pioneers of the county and also has a wide acquaintance throughout the state. He is a Pendleton visitor today.

Stephen A. Lowell left on No. 17 today for Portland where he will look after business. He was accompanied by his daughter, Mrs. Holman Ferrin, of Washougal, Wash., who has been a guest at the Lowell residence over the holidays.

TWO GUILTY, THREE NOT GUILTY PLEAS ENTERED

Roy Key, of Weston, today gave bond of $500 for his appearance in circuit court on Monday to be sentenced for larceny, on which charge he was indicted by the grand jury yesterday. He was arraigned today and given until Monday in which to plead. Harry Thomas, charged with obtaining money by false pretenses, pleaded guilty when arraigned last evening, having waived time in which to plead. He will be sentenced on Monday. William McGee, charged with larceny and hold-up, also entered a plea of guilty, but his time for hearing sentence was not fixed. Earl Allen, who is alleged to have been implicated with McGee, pleaded not guilty.

Jack Walton and J. W. Donohue, who were charged with larceny, were taken before the judge this afternoon to plead. Both pleaded not guilty.

INDIAN MONEY HELD UP
GREAT FALLS, Mont., Jan. 8.—(A. P.)—Disbursement of $160,000 to the Indians of the Fort Peck reservation was not made for the year just closed. Gambling and liquor sales in towns on the reservation must cease before the money will be allotted, according to D. D. Mossman, superintendent of the reservation. Under the disbursement each Indian receives about $30.

A movement is on foot to preserve the sand dunes lining the Indiana shoreline of Lake Michigan. The Indiana legislature will be asked to appropriate $1,000,000 and an appeal for a similar sum from public subscription will be made.

Two months ago the price of American coal at French ports was $29.70; it is selling at $14 a ton. American coal can be imported 10 shillings a ton cheaper than English coal of corresponding qualities.

HOW TO PAINT AUTOS AT HOME IS DESCRIBED

The first thing to do is to take the paint off the body with paint remover. Allow it to stand fifteen or twenty minutes and apply a second coat, permitting that to stand another twenty minutes. The paint is then so soft that it comes off clean without much effort with the putty knife.

The next step is to go over the surface with a rag soaked in turpentine (gasoline would do) to take off all traces of the paint remover. After that go over the entire surface of the car with No. 60 sandpaper, hood and fenders included, getting the surface as smooth and clean as possible.

After this the car is ready for the first coat of paint—metal primer. This is laid on evenly and allowed to dry for twelve hours.

Next apply the surfacer, a pigment which comes in paste form. Put as much of the paste in a can as you think you will need and gradually add turpentine, stirring all the while until the mixture has the consistency of ordinary paint. A little more care will be required in laying this coat, as it must be brushed out well and as smoothly as possible. Let dry six hours, and when dry rub down with No. 60 sandpaper and dust off. It is impossible to apply this coat without leaving brush marks, but by diligent sandpapering it can be made smooth.

The sealer is the next coat applied lightly and evenly just as it comes from the can. It permeates and seals the surface, providing a perfect foundation which keeps the subsequent coats from sinking in. Let dry twenty-four hours.

Now back your car out of the garage and make the painting room absolutely dust and dirt free by sweeping and then sprinkling with water the entire interior, including the ceiling if it is low enough to reach with the hose. Be careful to wet the overhead enough to make it drip. Put your car back in the garage and lay on the color varnish just as you would paint, but a little more freely.

When, after twenty-four hours, this varnish has thoroughly dried, rub down with flour-pumice stone sufficiently to take off the gloss, bearing in mind that the air must be kept free of dust. Then put on a second coat of color varnish, brushing it in the opposite direction to the first and let that dry twenty-four hours. When dry rub it down again with flour-pumice.

Rubbing with pumice should be done with a wet pad of cloth, or piece of felt. Wet the pad with water, dip it in the powder and then rub. Just enough to take off the high gloss. Dust the surface and prepare for the finishing coat.

First wet down the garage again, and then collect all the sheep's blankets, or old carpets you can find, soak them in water, and hang them up all around your car, allowing a sufficient clearance for elbow room. This is one of the big secrets of automobile painting. The curtain must be kept damp until the car is thoroughly dry, for the moisture which it gives off prevents the varnish from drying too fast.

The last coat is a body varnish, which, unlike paint, should be flowed on pretty generously and smoothed out only enough to keep it from overlapping.

Always try to varnish by panels, starting and ending at a door or break of some kind. The temperature of the room, the varnish, and the car should be between 70 and 75 degrees F. If the varnish is chilled it will not flow smoothly, while if it is too warm it will set before smoothing out. When the last brushful of finishing varnish has been applied, allow the car to dry for four days or a week.

The estimates I received for painting my car ranged from $130 to $180, taking from five weeks to three months. I painted my car in one week and allowed it one week to dry, and the cost for material was as follows:

1-2 gallon paint remover	$1.00
1 qt. metal primer	$1.50
1 small can surfacer	$1.50
1 quart sealer	1.50
1 quart black color varnish	1.25
1 quart body varnish	1.75
1 camel's hair brush	1.50
1 badger's hair brush	2.75
1 quart turpentine	.60
2 sheets No. 60 sandpaper	.12
	$13.50

700 CHILDREN SUFFER AS RESULT OF DIVORCE

SPOKANE, Wash., Jan. 8.—(A. P.)—More than 700 children were made homeless or deprived of the affection, care and help of one parent through divorce actions instituted in Spokane county courts during 1920, the records show.

A survey of complaints in 100 divorce actions of the year selected at random from the court files, show that the courts were asked in those cases to dispose of 104 children. As a total of nearly 750 divorce actions have been instituted since January 1, 1920, the survey indicated that the futures of at least 700 children have been involved in all cases filed during the year.

While the representative cases showed that 104 children were involved in 100 actions, only 25 of the divorces were sought in families with children. In the other 75 cases there were no children. The complaints on record show that the majority of the cases in which children were involved were marriages of at least 15 years standing.

Judge Hugo E. Oswald of the superior court bench declared that the majority of couples coming before him for divorce had been married less than five years.

CREEK IS DIVERTED

GIRL'S BODY FOUND
WALLA WALLA, Jan. 8.—After nearly 48 hours of effort, during which time as a last resort, the waters of Garrison creek were diverted into their bordering lowlands, the body of Goldie Eason, 13 years' old school girl, who was drowned in that stream Monday, was found Wednesday afternoon. The body was lodged against the roots of two small trees jutting from the banks of the creek. More than 150 people were engaged in the search.

HOW MUCH CLOTHING?

MOSCOW, Idaho, Jan. 8.—(A. P.)—The department of home economics at the University of Idaho here is gathering information to determine what the average college girl's wardrobe should consist of, according to an announcement by Katherine Jensen, head of the department. The purpose is not to find how few clothes the cost should require for a year at the university, but rather exactly what she should comfortably get along on. The study is being made by Miss Zella Bigelow, clothing expert.

DOMINION OF CANADA SEES THRIFTY YEAR

OTTAWA, Ont., Jan. 8.—(A. P.)—The dawn of the new year finds the Dominion of Canada, in perhaps the most prosperous condition in its history, according to agricultural leaders.

In 1920 Canada harvested its largest crop and the wealth of its agriculture is reflected on every hand. Its forests, mines and fisheries likewise contributed more than usual to Canada's prosperity in 1920.
