

People Here and There

C. P. Van de Water, of Walla Walla, with the O-W. H. & N. Co., arrived here this morning on business.

Grover Tumble, of Helix, came to Pendleton on this morning's train for a short business visit.

J. M. Keeney, of Portland, is a Pendleton visitor today, looking after his interests here. Mr. Keeney is a wool man.

Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Anderson, who reside at Stanton, were in Pendleton on business today, having come and gone on the Northern Pacific train.

M. L. Morrison, of Helix, is in Pendleton today on a business visit. He is now residing on his ranch at Helix, having retired as a merchant several months ago.

F. T. Byrd, vice president of the First Bank of Pilot Rock and one of the county's largest cattle raisers, is in Pendleton today on business.

J. W. White, formerly of Pendleton, is in the city today on one of his regular calls upon the trade. He is a salesman for a leather goods house with headquarters in Portland.

G. P. Parker, owner of the Parker Taxi Co., left this afternoon on No. 17 for Portland where he will look over the latest models at the Portland automobile show, which opened on Monday.

George H. Bishop, of Freeewater, is in Pendleton today attending to a case in court in which he is attorney. He is a member of the firm of Peterson, Bishop & Clark, of Pendleton and Freeewater.

A. E. Doyle, E. C. Poets and T. H. Eganfield, all of Portland, arrived this morning to look after their respective interests in the construction and furnishing of the Elks temple. All will return to the metropolis tonight.

E. B. Aldrich, editor of the East Oregonian, left on Monday night's train on a short business trip to Astoria, where he is a part owner in the Astoria Budget. He plans to return Friday morning.

A. H. Cox and Will M. Peterson were not the only Umatilla county democrats at the Jackson Day Banquet after all. Mr. Peterson, in reporting the event Monday, neglected to recall that two others from Pendleton, staunch in their devotion, were also at the festive board. They were Mack Foster and W. W. Harrah.

Paul H. Weyrauch, of Walla Walla, manager of the Blalock Fruit Co., is a business visitor in Pendleton today. Mr. Weyrauch was colonel of the old 14th field artillery in which a large number of Umatilla county men served overseas and is on the executive committee of the American Legion executive committee for the state of Washington.

Automobile travel from Helix to Pendleton is good where the new road has been completed, says Fred H. Moen, cashier of the Bank of Helix, who is in town on business today. But there are four miles of the road between Helix and Havana that were graded but not gravelled, he says. This portion of the road is so muddy at present that it is far more convenient to make the trip to Pendleton by train.

Servicing on a jury is anything but a profitable business, P. T. Harbour, of Weston, says. The $2 a day the county pays jurors hardly meets their room and board while away from their regular occupations. In a jesting way Mr. Harbour suggests that juries be drawn only from residents of the county seat towns and in that way wheels of industry would not be slowed down. He came down from Weston, where he operates a brick plant, Monday morning and was rewarded with a day in which to rest at $2 per, owing to the dismissal of the cases about to be tried.

NEWS NOTES OF PENDLETON

Bank Stockholders to Meet.
Notice of the annual meeting of stockholders of the Inland Empire bank have been sent out to the stockholders calling them to meet on Thursday morning at 10 o'clock in the bank building here.

Rabbit Shoot Declared Draw.
The first rabbit shoot staged by the Pendleton Rod & Gun Club on Sunday has been declared a draw by the committee which had charge. The competing captains, Dan Bowman and Sol Baum, could not decide that the other was entitled to victory so the affair was called a draw.

Will Clean Out Mill Race.
Men with scrapers this morning began the work of giving the Walters mill race its annual cleaning. The entrance to the canal at the Main street bridge was closed by a shifting of boulders to that side of the dam and the work will proceed unhindered providing there is no more high water during the next few days.

Keator Going to Convention.
District Attorney R. I. Keator plans to leave tonight for Portland where he will attend the annual convention of the district attorneys of Oregon. They will open their sessions on Thursday and continue in meeting until Saturday. The attorneys plan to recommend a number of articles to the state legislators for their consideration.

Birthday of Hamilton.
Today is the birthday of Alexander Hamilton, who was born in 1757. Several other famous men were born in January, among them Benjamin Franklin, whose birthday is January 17 and who was born in 1706; Robert E. Lee, born January 19, 1807; Stonewall Jackson, born January 21, 1824, and William McKinley, born January 29, 1842.

Water in River is Clear.
Water in the Umatilla river has subsided from the flood stage of last week and is again clear. It is down to its normal winter flow, owing to the recent cold nights which have checked the melting of snow in the mountains. Fishing for steelheads near the mouth of the Umatilla river is expected to be good as soon as the river clears up, which should be shortly, sportsmen say.

Returns from Wool Meeting.
J. C. Kuhns, Umatilla forest supervisor, returned last night from Spokane, where he attended the Washington State Wool Growers association. About 80 wool growers attended, he states. Tom Drumheller, who was re-elected president of the association, appointed an advisory committee of five members to confer with forest officials regarding the granting of permits, and Mr. Kuhns spent two days in conference with the committee.

Evidence is Lacking, Pair Freed.
Police returned morning freed G. Hippensteele and Joseph Oliver Howe, arrested yesterday when they were found trying to dispose of a pair of new shoes. The officers were unable to find sufficient evidence upon which to hold or convict the pair. Chief of Police Roberts told the two he was sorry he had to let them out for he felt that they had stolen property in his possession. He gave them until noon to leave town.

Joe Kerley Arraigned.
Joe Kerley was arraigned today on the charge of embezzlement of $6500 and given until Friday, January 14, in which to plead. He was indicted by the recent grand jury.

McCarroll Changes Plea.
Hay McCarroll late Monday afternoon changed his plea from not guilty to guilty. He was charged with driving an auto while intoxicated. Sentence will be pronounced by Circuit Judge G. W. Phelps tomorrow morning.

May Take Prisoners Tomorrow.
Four prisoners in the county jail who are under sentence to the state penitentiary probably will be taken to Salem by the sheriff and his deputies tomorrow. The men are James D. Copien, Harry Thomas and Edgar Fitzpatrick, forgers; and William McGee, robber. Copien and McGee are under sentence for two years each and Thomas and Fitzpatrick for two and a half years each.

King-Hoagland Case on Trial.
The case of J. C. King vs. Ward A. Hoagland went to trial in the circuit court before a jury today. Mr. King asks $250 from the defendant for labor performed in manufacturing an auto body. The defendant alleges that the charge asked is excessive and that the workmanship was unsatisfactory. Peterson, Bishop & Clark appear for the plaintiff and Raley & Selwer for the defendant.

28 YEARS AGO

(From the Daily East Oregonian, January 11, 1892.)
Leona Cohen is in Victoria, B. C., visiting his sister. His sister, Miss Lena Cohen, will accompany him to Pendleton.

A solemn Council of the Umatillas, Walla Walla and Cayuses will be held at the home of Chief Peo tomorrow night. The council is for the purpose of deciding what Indian shall represent the tribes at a convocation in Washington.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Caviness have returned from a visit to Portland. The six new hydrants ordered for the city fire department arrived this morning. The cost of each, laid down, was a little over $26. Chief Eli and Engine Driver Vaughn went on a tour of inspection today and found four hydrants in bad shape. They will be replaced.

HARDING RESIGNS SENATORSHIP
MARION, Ohio, Jan. 11.—(A. P.)—President-elect Harding resigned yesterday as senator from Ohio, forwarding his letter of resignation to Columbus for action of the newly elected republican governor, Harry L. Davis, who assumes office tomorrow.

QUESTION OF CUTTING MILITARY FORCES TO 175,000 CONSIDERED

Senator Borah Suggests Amendment Requiring War Department to Discharge Soldiers on Their Application.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—Senator New, republican, Indiana, in opening the senate discussion today on his resolution to direct the secretary of war to cease army enlistments until the army is reduced to 175,000 men, charged that the war department was spending money "in a most extravagant manner."
Senator Borah, republican, Idaho, suggested an amendment requiring the war department to discharge any soldier on his application.
Senator New opposed it "as one way of smashing discipline in the army," to which the Idaho senator retorted: "There is considerable insincerity in this proposal to cut the army."
Chairman Wadsworth of the military committee, supporting the plan for reduction to 175,000 men, said the house conferees on the army program, in their report, were responsible for the present excess in the army. They recommended a senate plan, he said, to fix a limit on enlistments.

SON, YOU'RE LOOKING FINE

The Most Glorious Sensation of All is to Get Back into the Game.

Ask anyone whose nerves seemed to have gone to smash and the last atom of iron apparently burned out of the blood, how it feels to come back. Ask the host of men and women who have used Reolo. Here is one of the most astonishing reconstructive influences ever devised. It is a marvel for the many ways it seems to act. And it acts almost at once. Safe, harmless, of food value, yet all medicine, it seems to have almost the quality of actual intelligence. It has the power to increase flesh, it enhances the activity of the blood, lots of it, increases red corpuscles enormously, takes the pallor out of the cheeks, contributes to the defense of the body against exhaustion, and intensifies the activity of the vital processes to such an extent that you not only look like a winner, you feel it from head to foot. Ask and clerk at Thompsons Drug Store and any other leading drug store what a host of men and women have gained from this most wonderful reconstructive strengthener.
Get a $1.00 box of Reolo today.

KING ALFONSO OF SPAIN MAKES VISIT TO ITALY

ROME, Jan. 11.—(A. P.)—Official announcement of the visit of King Alfonso of Spain to Rome has been received with general satisfaction, all parties being animated by a sincere desire for closer union between the Latin countries, especially with Spain, to which Italy is united by so many traditions.
The visit recalls the attitude of the Holy See after the Pope lost the temporal power. The form of protest chosen by Pope Pius IX against deprivation of his domains was to threaten with excommunication any Catholic ruler coming to Rome as the guest of the king of Italy.
Pope Benedict last year, however, announced withdrawal of the objection to the Catholic kings visiting Rome. King Alfonso is the first to come.
The king and queen of Spain will remain in Rome for several days and the occasion will be marked by special demonstrations of friendship.

STATES PROPOSES AVIATION BOARD

BISMARCK, N. D., Jan. 11.—(A. P.)—A bill proposing establishment of a board of aviation examiners was introduced in the North Dakota senate today.
Flies would be required to obtain licenses from the state and the board would inspect all aircraft in the state.

SUPREME COURT DECIDES IF FOREIGN SHIPS ARE IMMUNE IN U. S. PORTS

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—(A. P.)—The question of whether merchant ships owned by a foreign government are immune from libel in American courts for the first time in suits brought against the steamships Carlo Poma and Pessa, Italian craft, both were libeled for damage to cargoes, but the lower courts upheld the contention of the Italian embassy that they were not subject to libel proceedings in American courts.

GIRL ATTACKS VIENNA PROFESSOR WITH PISTOL

BERLIN, Jan. 11.—(By Carl D. Groat, U. S. Staff Correspondent.)—The danger that amateur hypnotists will further impair public morals is seen by the Vienna Medical weekly, in a discussion of the recent attack on Prof. Wagner-Jauregg, Vienna, by a hypnotized girl.
Jauregg has asserted that crime could not be induced by hypnosis, whereupon an amateur hypnotist suggested to a seventeen-year old girl the assassination of the professor and provided her with a pistol loaded with paper bullets. She made the attack. The medical journal, however, contends that Jauregg's theory was not entirely disproved since the hypnotist induced the attack under false premises and suggested to his subject that the whole affair was harmless—as it was. Hence it was not a crime.

But, the paper contends that the amateur hypnotists can perhaps spread a suggestion amongst the public for disruption of the whole process of criminal justice. If such a process were undertaken, then there would be no need for "compulsory hypnosis," as in the Jauregg case, in order to establish a plea for light punishment, since the public standard would not require punishment. Incidentally, the paper says there have been cases in the past of "compulsory or intentional" drunkenness, undertaken as a basis for a plea to escape justice.
The Jauregg case has aroused the interest of psychologists and hypnotists throughout central Europe. Since the attack, the girl has been the subject of experiments which revealed the whole process to which she was submitted in the course of the amateur's efforts to disprove the expert's theory. Under hypnosis, she revealed that the amateur had suggested to her that Jauregg had killed her sweetheart; that she ought to take revenge; and that if she would do it, she could have a theatrical engagement. She had re-
