WARNINGS OF SERIOUS SOCIAL DISTURBANCES GIVEN TO GOVERNMENT

British Government Told Solution of Unemployment Problem Must be Forthcoming to Avoid "Direct Action."

LONDON, Jan. 13.—(A. P.)—Labor leaders here demanding urgent legislation to solve in some way the problem of unemployment in Great Britain. Warnings have been given of a serious social or industrial upheaval of some kind of startling "direct action" unless the British government acts promptly.

"If nothing is done within the next six weeks," said J. R. Clynes, member of parliament the other day to Dr. Macnamara, the Minister of Labor in the course of a discussion with labor leaders, "a situation may develop that will threaten the life of the state itself."

"Seventy-five per cent of the London unemployed are ex-service men," said Dennis Bennett, the chairman of the committee. "We are not out for loot, but we want work provided at once. Deputations to cabinet ministers result in vague promises and don't help us. Relieving acute distress is by no means our full program. We want to reshape the relations between capital and labor. Workers of all trades must be admitted to control of enterprises. We propose to make this our main issue, and get all workers to adopt this idea. This, we realize, is not attainable without a hard fight, and we are certain there will be a big social upheaval this winter."

There is said to be an ugly temper among many of the 1,000,000 or more unemployed over what they regard as dilatoriness on the part of local and government authorities in taking steps to meet the situation adequately. About 100,000 of these idle men are in London.

Homeless and destitute, they have seized about 20 suburban public libraries, baths and assembly halls. From some of these they have been forcibly ejected by the police and this has caused more ill feeling.

Delegates from employed committees in a score of more of London boroughs have recently formed a central council, which is holding secret meetings at which "direct action" is planned.

Japan Closes 1920 With Unfavorable Balance.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—Japan closed 1920 with an unfavorable balance of trade of 391,484,000 yen, said a cablegram today to the department of commerce from J. P. Abbott, commercial attaché at Tokio.

The year's exports amounted to 1,329,864,000 yen, while the imports were 2,320,712,000 yen. Japanese exports for December amounted to 67,982,000 yen, while the imports were 81,683,000 yen.
