BARNYARD GOLF TITLE OF UNITED STATES TO BE SETTLED FEB. 22

Horse Shoe Pitchers From All Over Nation Will Meet at St. Petersburg, Fla., to Settle Supremacy in Game.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., Jan. 17.—(A. P.)—Barnyard golf, as the sport of pitching horse shoes has come to be popularly known, thrives in Florida, which always has been the nest of the enthusiasts of the game in winter. Its supporters are looking forward to the national championship matches to be held here beginning on Washington's birthday, February 22. Champions, ex-champions and would-be champions at present are busy practicing and two dozen or more courts are kept running here from morning till night. The championship matches will attract crack pitchers from all parts of the country.

The horse-shoe pitchers have developed the game to a high degree. The equipment of a first class park includes a lodge or club house for keeping the horse shoes, a small hand laundry to wash and dry towels for use of the players during the progress of matches, hydrants of running water for the players to wash their hands after handling the shoes which sink deeply into the soft earth about the pegs, a rake to keep the earth smooth about the pegs during the matches, and a small blacksmith shop to keep the shoes and pegs in first class condition as the game is rough on them.

The courts require a pitching distance of 26 feet. A match of two men is called the walking game as the players walk back and forth from peg to peg during the progress of the match. In a four-man match the players play partners and remain in their places at the ends of the court.

In the tournaments 50 points constitute a game, while in ordinary contests 21 points is the total required by the winner. A "finger" counts three points. The horse shoes weigh about two and a half pounds each. They are regulation horse shoes which have never been used on horses. Many fans carry their own shoes and bestow on them the same care that a golfer does on his clubs.

If Your Child Has a Cold, Cough, Croup—

YOU CAN'T BEAR to see your baby strangling and struggling with croup, or an older child in the paroxysms of whooping cough, or suffering with a distressing cough that strains and racks the whole body—as a so-called "common cold" often does. Neither can a careful mother bear to give a child a medicine which she fears may contain mercury, chloroform or other harmful drugs. Fortunately, the problem is solved for such mothers by

Foley's Honey and Tar COMPOUND

It is just what children ought to have for feverish colds, coughs, "snuffles," and that tight, wheezing breathing. It stops croup, too. It eases and checks whooping cough, measles cough and bronchial coughs.

Grateful Father Tells What It Did W. E. Curry, 120 Clark St., Evansville, Ind., writes: "I have a little girl 3 years who has a good deal of trouble with croup. I have used Foley's Honey and Tar Compound, giving it to her according to directions, and obtaining instant relief for her. My wife and I use it whenever bothered with a bad cold or cough, and I will say that it is the best remedy for a bad cold, cough, throat trouble or croup that I ever saw. Parents who use Foley's Honey and Tar know it is safe and no harm will come even if an overdose should be given by accident. It tastes good and children like it. It won't upset the delicate stomachs of young children, delicate persons or elderly people."

BROADWAY DEALS K. O. TO JACK SHARKEY IN RETAINING ITS CROWN

New York's Main Drag Still Champion Over Boxing Champions Who Enter Battle Under Its White Lights.

NEW YORK, Jan. 17.—(By Henry L. Farrell, United Press Staff Correspondent)—Broadway is an undefeated champion.

Every corner has its Broadway and its long list of victims. An old timer remarked once: "You can fight the bright lights for a while, but your eyes can't hold out. It'll get you in the long run."

The latest victim of the "great white way" is little Jack Sharkey.

Within a stone's throw of America's most noted playground he began his career and within a stone's throw of that long winding trail he seems to have ended it.

In one year, the little Italian waff from the tenements of the west side rose from obscurity to a place within an inch of fame and fortune. In the short space of a few months he fell.

Sharkey was heard of until he broke through in that characteristic fray of the ring and beat Jimmy Wilde, world's flyweight champion and one of the greatest little men in the history of the ring.

Sharkey rose rapidly. Fortune smiled on him. The value of his services in the ring rose to thousands of dollars. He fought his way through the heavyweight ranks until the chance for a fling at the championship rested between himself and Joe Lynch.

Their first fight in Madison Square Garden went down with some of the greatest bouts of all times. It ended in a fair draw. Little Sharkey, that night looked like a sure champion.

He got $15,000 for that fight. Raised in poverty, deprived of an education in the struggle for a livelihood, he found the door open to everything that had been lacking in his life.

Flattered by his "hangers on," he sought with a free purse to acquire that empty name of a "good fellow."

He was told, he was so good he did not have to train. And he didn't.

Then came his second meeting with Lynch, a boy who lived without earshot of the noise of Broadway, but who was too wise to get any closer.

Lynch Put Him Out. Sharkey was knocked out and lost the opportunity for the championship which Lynch took advantage of and made good.

Then came another chance and he was knocked out again by Roy Moore of St. Paul. A boy who would have been a chopping block for him a few months ago.

Sharkey is only a youngster of 22. Maybe he has learned? Maybe he can come back? He has indomitable courage and the heart of a fighter. Perhaps he will get down to the life of sacrifice that a ring champion has to follow? He is in Hot Springs now taking the baths.

30 Years to Learn How

The churning of margarin from nuts and fat-free milk requires highest skill and long experience which can best be gained by making creamery butter. The process is practically the same, with nut fat replacing butter fat. Flavor comes from the same source—from scientifically "ripened" milk.

Thus the man who has learned how to make the sweetest creamery butter, knows how to put the same sweetness into nut butter. This man is A. E. Hoffman, a butter expert with 30 years' experience, who supervises the production of every pound of Troco Nut Butter.

We have built Mr. Hoffman a new plant of white tile and concrete, the last word in modern food plant construction. All the elaborate equipment required by modern food experts is at his command. Every sanitary condition is perfect.

Churned from coconuts and fat-free milk Mr. Hoffman makes Troco Nut Butter from snowy fat, extracted from the white meat of coconuts. This is churned with twice pasteurized, fat-free milk.

Income Tax Holding Your Wheat

What should the farmer do about his wheat? By all means open up books on the Inventory Basis and make the return showing wheat on hand as income for 1920. Do not let it go until next year and have a double shot of income.

We will open up these books and keep them for you. This will save you money on your Income Tax. It will give you a permanent business record. It will take the grief out of your Income Tax.

Treasury Decision dated Dec. 27th, 1920, and just received, permits the farmer to make his return on the Inventory Basis. He may also go back and make adjusted returns for past years on the Inventory Basis. This will be an advantage to the average farmer.
