PULLING GIRL'S HAIR SIGN OF CAVE MAN LOVE

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 19.—(A. P.)—When a school boy pulls the hair of a girl sitting in front of him it is a cave man sign that he loves the young lady.

This is the conclusion of the psychologist of the Philadelphia public schools, Miss Gladys G. Ide, director of special education.

"Manifestations of early love are found in the Windergarten, and are common enough through school life," said Miss Ide.

"The scuffling and wrestling, the twirling of hair braids, placing pins in advantageous positions and many of the other smaller annoyances which cause friction between teacher and pupil are direct evidences of favor from one person to another.

"The ways of a young man of twelve with a maid are many and varied, from the placing of himself in perilous positions in emulation of deeds of valor, to the writing of notes and the drawing of pictures."

HONOLULU WOULD BRING STANFORD FOOTBALL 11 TO ISLANDS NEXT YEAR

HONOLULU, T. H., Jan. 19.—(A. P.)—Hawaiian football enthusiasts are urging that an attempt be made to bring the Stanford University football team to Honolulu for Christmas and New Year's Day games next season. The recent holiday trip to the islands of the University of Nevada football eleven was so successful that it is proposed to have a mainland team come to the islands every year.

While here the Nevada team defeated the University of Hawaii 14-0 Christmas Day and played a scoreless tie New Year's Day with the Outrigger Club.

A "TEA SUIT"

What the fashion makers call "tea suits" are having a great vogue. They consist, as in this smart model by Gidding, of a one-piece frock and coat of the same material. It is wood-brown dweetya fashioned into a straight-line frock, undecorated from neck to hem, save for a tiny embroidered pocket over each hip—and then a box-coat, exquisitely lined.
