EXHIBITION OF SEWING SHOWN AT ALEXANDERS
The skill acquired by Pendleton high school girls after one semester's work in first year sewing under the direction of Miss Kate Voorhees, instructor, is apparent in an attractive display in the show window of Alexander's department store today.

A modish brown linen dress, with white linen as the decorative feature, a pongee blouse with trimming of green, a tailored white skirt and a pink crepe smock are the outer garments on display. A chemise and petticoat, each lace trimmed, are among the underclothing made by the girls, while the fancy work display consists of a centerpiece, table scarf, luncheon set, trivet cloth and other pieces, all daintily hand-embroidered and showing a variety of charming designs.

Each girl in the first year class is required to make during the first semester a chemise, petticoat, middie or smock, and some fancy-work. The embroidery stitches are first taught to the girls, who then use them in making pieces of fancy-work.

the old convention system of nominating. Maintenance of the Umatilla county library system cost $2482.75. Not all of this represents the sum spent in Pendleton, as there are branch libraries in several of the county towns.

BRITISH PUBLIC TAKES NOTE ON NAVY BUILDING
LONDON, Jan. 29.—(U. P.)—Britain seems preparing to surrender control of the seas to the United States. America will come abreast of Britain's naval strength in 1925, according to present building programs. The indications were that an attempt would be made by Britain to meet this competition. The public is deeply agitated over the question, which has taken rank with the Irish situation in popular interest and importance. Newspapers are filled with the report of America's naval program, her present strength and hints that Britain will not attempt to keep the pace. The British pride in navy tradition appears to be a great barrier to a quiet acceptance of a policy of reduction.

MOTHER EVE HAILED AS THE FIRST ADVERTISER

LONDON, Jan. 29.—(U. P.)—Eve was the world's first advertiser. It was because she pointed out the excellent qualities of fruit that Adam and she found themselves outside the Garden of Eden. If Eve hadn't "boasted" the apple, Adam would never have partaken.

These facts were pointed out by Sir Robert Horne in a speech at the opening of the Advertising Exhibition here. The serpent, he said, was the advertising agent who knew his job well. He advertised his goods through Eve because he knew she had a "pull" with the public he was trying to reach, or in other words, poor old Adam.

Sir Robert failed to point out whether Adam ever repented of his response to the lure of advertisement—but he pointed out nevertheless that advertised articles are bound to be good, or of no amount of advertising will sell them a second time. It is assumed that the advertised apple lived up to the reputation Eve had claimed for it and that Adam thereafter became an habitual apple-eater.

Be that as it may certainly the wonders of advertisement were fully proven by the Advertising Exhibition itself, which is the first of its kind ever held in England.

NOMINATIONS HELD UP

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—(U. P.)—By vote of 25 to 15, and 24 to 37, the senate twice refused to go into an executive session to consider and confirm about six thousand army nominations. The republican leaders, long ago, decided not to confirm Wilson's nominations at this session, although they include many officers who must retire March 1 unless they are confirmed.
