Boys Humble Cougar Kittens at Pullman 12 to 10 While Girls Administer Drubbing to Reclamation Tossers.

Pendleton high school's crack basketball team last night won its second game on a three-game trip to Whitman county by defeating Washington State College's freshman five, 12 to 10. On Thursday night Albion high school bowed to Pendleton 63 to 19. Last night's game was close throughout, with close guarding featuring the play. Only three field goals were scored by the locals, Hanley getting two and Stendal the other. Kramer added as many points as his mates by dropping in six free throws. The contest was played in the W. S. C. gym as a curtain raiser to the University of Washington-W. S. C. game. The Sun Dodgers won this contest by a two-point margin over the Cougars, the final score being 26 to 24. While the two varsities are playing their second game tonight Coach Hanley will turn his squad loose on the Pullman high school five. With two games already under their belts, the local boys are expected to handle their opponents in good shape and return home with a clean slate of three wins. In the game at Albion Thursday night John Henderson was used at guard and Cahill at forward in order to give Myron Hanley a chance to regain his strength in time for last night's game. He has been sick in bed since Sunday and it was feared he would be unable to play on the present trip. Pendleton's girls' team went to Hermiston last evening and added to the local glory by winning a one-sided game there. The final score was 21

GOULD RETAINS TITLE IN OPEN COURT TENNIS

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 22.—(A. P.)—Jay Gould, open court tennis champion of America, successfully defended his title here Friday, defeating Jack Soutar, world professional racket champion, in the second half of the challenge round 6-0, 6-2. Gould, who also is the national amateur titleholder, won three out of the four sets, played last Wednesday, which with the two sets Friday gave him the necessary five sets to clinch the title. Of the six sets played, Soutar won the only one and that by the close margin of one game. At the close of the match Walter Kinella of New York, who was defeated by Gould last year, challenged the champion for another match. The challenge was taken under consideration by a committee of the Philadelphia Racquet Club, whose colors Gould wears. Gould was in splendid form. He had no trouble with his opponent's "railroad service," lobbed them up, changed his pace and performed almost every trick known to the sport. He stroked the ball with uncanny skill. Soutar appeared helpless before brilliant ground play of the champion. Gould gathered 25 points in the first set and 31 in the second, while the best Soutar could do was to collect nine in the first and 19 in the second set. Of all the sizzling, miraculous gets and strokes Gould made, those after deuce had been reached were probably the most spectacular. He obtained vantage on a beautiful corner shot which took two walls and the floor and left Soutar swinging. Soutar, in trying to win a chase, dashed high over the deans and Gould anticipated the shot, dashed to the net and just managed to get his racket on the ball to tip it over. SYDNEY, N. S. W., Jan. 22.—(A. P.)—In the second series of tennis matches the American Davis cup team today beat the Australians three matches to nothing. In the singles Captain Watson M. Washburn beat J. B. Hawke, 6-4, 6-4 and Wm. M. Johnson defeated R. W. Heath, 6-3, 6-1. In the doubles Wm. T. Tilden and Johnston won from Norman K. Froskoe and Patrick O'Hara Wood, 10-8, 2-6, 1-5, 6-2. BILL BRENNAN STOPS BILL BARLEY IN SAVANNAH BOIT SAVANNAH, Ga., Jan. 22.—(A. P.)—Bill Brennan, St. Paul heavyweight, scored a technical knockout over Bill Barley of Atlanta, in a bout here last night. ROCKAWAY, N. Y., Jan. 22.—(A. P.)—Recovering sufficiently from his recent balloon trip to the frozen north, Lieutenant S. A. Farrell appeared today before a naval board of inquiry and testified he had scarcely any remembrance of coming to blows with his comrade Lieutenant W. Hinton. The court had heard Lieutenant Louis A. Kloor, balloon commander, skirt the incident, which occurred at Mattice after Farrell had learned that newspapers had published a letter from Hinton to his wife, asserting Farrell had asked his companions to cut his throat during their wanderings in the woods. The court, too, had heard Hinton testify that he had consulted Kloor regarding advisability of disarming Farrell. Farrell admitted that several times he had lagged behind his companions, but he made no mention of a knife. He did, however, state that at the time of the encounter he was "all in" and that afterwards he had told Kloor he feared "he was going nutty." Farrell said his condition was due to lack of sleep. The night before reaching Mattice it was his turn to stand watch and when he did lay down he was unable to sleep. The party was met five or six miles from Mattice by photographers (he testified). Kloor and Hinton accepted an invitation to ride into Mattice on their sled. Farrell said he stayed with their two Indian guides and trudged into Mattice after the others. When he reached the camp, Farrell said he was "dog tired" but camera men continued to bother him. "I smiled for them, smoked cigars for them and did everything they asked and was all in when they got through with me," he added. He said he accepted the invitation of a Hudson Bay company man to go to his room and have some tea. While there Farrell said the room began filling with men who questioned him. "The questioning seemed to drive me wild," he said. "It worried me. I seemed to be losing my sense of reasoning. I remember one telling me about things published about me in the newspapers. I seemed to get all excited. When the Hudson Bay man took me to the private car, I seemed to be dozy, dog tired and all in. I could not sleep. I scarcely remember seeing Hinton and I was going nutty." Farrell said he did not remember the incident with Lieutenant Hinton. "Kloor told me I had better apologize to Hinton," he said, "and I did so. Lieutenant Hinton and I had always been good friends before the incident and have been since."

Willard Batteries
Q&A
About Batteries
Q.—Is there really any difference in batteries?
A.—Yes, but there are really only two kinds of batteries. Those with wood separators and those with Threaded Rubber Insulation.
Q.—Is Threaded Rubber Insulation the only feature that puts the Willard Threaded Rubber Battery ahead of the ordinary automobile battery?
A.—By no means. The Willard Threaded Rubber Battery has all the improvements that have grown out of Willard's years of specialization in building starting, lighting and ignition batteries. Ask us about it.
