MISS GWINN IS BRIDE

By an exchange of vows at noon today Miss Olive Gwin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Gwin, became the bride of Verne Hunter Moon, the marriage service taking place at one of the most simply yet perfectly appointed of Pendleton weddings.

The big living room of the Gwin home on Water street, decked with Ophelia roses and daffodils, was the scene of the ceremony. Rev. G. L. Clark officiated and only the bride's parents and a few most intimate friends were present.

The couple were attended as they pledged their troth and the ring service was employed. The bride was charmingly gowned in a frock of deep blue tulle, its skirt depending in short, full folds from the cloth bodice, and the costume was head embroidered in bronze. She wore a becoming hat of blue and a fur of beaver, and her corsage bouquet was of sunset roses, sweet peas and orchids into which was caught a spray of orange blossoms worn by her mother on her wedding day.

The couple will take a fortnight's wedding trip, returning to Pomeroy, Washington, where they will make their home and where Mr. Moon will take up his duties as district manager for the Pacific Power and Light company. He has been associated for the past several months with the company in its local office.

Mrs. Moon is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Gwin and she has a host of friends to whom news of the wedding today comes as a surprise. The betrothal of the couple, though known to a number of folk, had not been formally announced and pre-nuptial affairs planned in her honor have been of a most informal nature.

The bride is a graduate of the Pendleton high school and she attended both the University of California and the University of Washington, receiving her degree from the latter institution in 1919, and being then elected to a chair in the department of literature of the University. Miss Gwin also attended business college in Seattle and specialized in dramatic interpretation in San Francisco. She is a reader of talent and took a prominent part in college dramatic activities. She is a member of Phi Beta Kappa, national scholarship honorary fraternity.

Her husband attended both the University of California and the University of Minnesota. He is a member of Chi Psi fraternity. He came to Pendleton in March from Hood River where he had been since his release from the army. He served during the war in the U. S. signal corps.

Mr. Moon is the son of Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Moon, of Minot, North Dakota the latter of whom made many Pendleton friends during a visit here in the summer.

Mr. Moon and his bride departed on number 17 today and their journey will take them to Portland, Seattle and British Columbia.

BIBLE CIRCLE TO MEET

The Ladies' Bible Reading Circle will have its regular meeting on Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock in the Parish Hall.

MISS CREANEY WEDS

A wedding of interest to Pendleton people was that of Miss Josephine Creasey and M. G. Westcott, which occurred on Saturday in Walla Walla. The wedding was a quiet one and occurred at the rectory of St. Patrick's church, with Father Buckley officiating. Miss Creasey, who formerly was of Hermiston, has made her home in this city while taking nurse's training at St. Anthony's hospital. She is a charming girl and popular. Mr. Westcott formerly attended Oregon Agricultural College and is a member of Sigma Chi fraternity. They will make their home in Pendleton where Mr. Westcott is associated with the Standard Oil Company.

WEDDING IS SOLEMNIZED

St. Mary's Catholic church was the scene of the wedding this morning of Miss Julia Coniffe of Pendleton, and Thomas Loftus, of La Grande, the marriage service being read by Father Van Hoommission in the presence of many friends of the couple. The bride, charmingly gowned in delft blue Georgette heavily embroidered, wore a corsage of bride's roses and lilies-of-the-valley. Her modest but was of blue also. Mrs. Frank McNally, matron of honor, wore blue satin and her flowers were pink roses. The groom

FROM THE PEOPLE

Stanfield, Ore., Jan. 25, 1931.
Editor East Oregonian:

The Pendleton George Howard is now in Spokane, Wash., supporting his invalid father and mother. As George is a returned veteran of the late war and from all accounts he is now leading an honorable life, hate to see him misrepresented.

Kindly investigate and see if I am not right.

Yours truly,
T. O. YATES.

Note—This matter was investigated and a story exonerating the former Pendleton boy was published by this paper yesterday. A wire from the sheriff at Vale further confirms the view of Mr. Yates. Sheriff Nee of Malheur county says that the Howard sent to the penitentiary from that place is the son of John Howard of Malheur county and that he never lived in Pendleton.

SENATE PASSES PACKER REGULATION STATUTE

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25.—(A. P.)—By a margin of 13 votes the senate late yesterday passed the long fought bill for federal regulation of the meat packers and other agencies of the livestock industry.

The vote was 46 to 32. The legislation now goes to the house with its supporters hopeful. A special rule to expedite house action is to be sought.

Most democrats supported the bill, while a majority of the republicans opposed it. The party lineup was 18 republicans and 28 democrats for passage, with 23 republicans and 10 democrats against.

All fundamental features of the legislation as presented by the agricultural committee for the original Kenyon-Kendrick bill were retained by the senate.

Only two important amendments were adopted by the senate before passing the bill. One by Senator Wadsworth, republican, New York, would include horses and mules and goats within the operations of the bill. Another by Senator Pittman, democrat, Nevada, would exempt all persons whose chief business is in livestock growing or production of agricultural products from the bill's provisions.

Other amendments adopted included one by Senator Borah, republican, Idaho, providing that all proceedings of the livestock commission should be open to the public, and an amendment by Senator Pomeroy, democrat, Ohio, declaring that upon enactment of the bill all supervision of the federal trade commission over the livestock industry should be terminated and transferred to the livestock commission.

LENINE'S DEATH "SOME BUNK"

LONDON, Jan. 25.—(A. P.)—The reports of the death of Premier Linnine of soviet Russia, and of a recent attempt to assassinate him by means of a bomb are characterized in a Moscow wireless dispatch received today as "fantastic rumors."

GOVERNMENT TO SELL WOOL

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25.—Approximately four million pounds of wool will be offered for sale at auction by the war department at Boston, February 3, it was announced today.

Women Keep Secrets? Sure—U. S. Women!

The man who originated the platitudes that women can't keep secrets didn't know American women. The aphorism had nothing on them. For proof, see the foreign diplomats at Washington. Whenever they want a woman for a job that requires utmost secrecy, they hire an American woman! Here are three of many in Washington, who hold confidential places in offices of foreign countries: (left to right) Miss Anna W. Hill, who is in the Finnish legation; Miss Frances Van der Bogert, in charge of files in the Dutch legation; Miss M. Pearson, who does confidential work in the Belgian legation.
