Good Friday falls on March 25, while Easter

Sunday is March 27, the day being unusually early in the season this year.

HOSSESSES FOR DINNER
Mrs. Alvin Slusher and Mrs. Dale Slusher were hostesses for a dinner dance last evening at the home of Mrs. Alvin Slusher on Lewis street. Thirty six guests were present for the enjoyable affair. Delicate spring flowers were used with charming effect throughout the rooms.

THURSDAY CLUB MEETS

The lives and works of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Havelock Ellis formed the theme for an interesting meeting of the Thursday Afternoon Club yesterday, when Mrs. E. T. Wade and Mrs. John Halley were hostesses at the library club room.

A geographical sketch of Cornwall, England, was given by Mrs. B. S. Burroughs, and a sketch of the lives of Mr. and Mrs. Ellis was read by Mrs. C. C. Whiteman. Eight little boys and girls, Mary Louise Dickson, Frances Lounell, Wilma Peterson, Jack Stangler, Ronald Rue, Sue Winter, Glen Snyder and Janet Simla, were charming in the presentation of a Cornish dance. Mrs. F. E. Boyden reviewed one of the scientific works of Mr. Ellis and Mrs. A. L. Schaefer and Mrs. Mary Lane read one of Mrs. Havelock Ellis' plays, "The Pixie."

Another of her short dramas, "The Subjection of Kashmir," was read by Mrs. H. W. Dickson, Mrs. D. B. Hubbard and Mrs. Harold Warner. Musical numbers consisted of a pleasing solo, "Little Fisher Maiden," by Mrs. B. L. Burroughs with piano accompaniment by Miss Edna Gates, and a piano duet by Miss Catherine McNary and Miss Mildred Rogers.

The program was followed by an informal social hour. Pink and white, the club colors, were used, the white shades being carried out in the curtains which centered the table, and in the candles which glowed over the tea cups. Mrs. Norberne Berkeley, president of the Current Literature Club, and Mrs. H. W. Dickson, president of the Thursday Afternoon Club, presided at the table.

HOSSESSES FOR CLUB

Mrs. James Hill and Mrs. John Gault were hostesses for a meeting of the Research Club yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Hill. Interesting papers having spring gardening and flower culture as their theme were read by Mrs. Charles Brownlow and Mrs. E. E. Baer, and poems were recited by Mrs. Fred Doherty and Mrs. T. Raymond. For the musical program, Mrs. Fred Bennion sang, with Mrs. Hill at the piano, and this was followed by a vocal number by Mrs. Hill, with violin obligato played by her young son, James Hill. Mrs. David Hill gave a piano number, and Mrs. Vinton Robinson played two violin solos with piano accompaniment by Mrs. H. S. McKendie. For a vocal solo by Mrs. McKendie, a violin obligato was played by Mrs. Robinson.

Daffodils lent a note of springtime freshness at the table where Mrs. Charles Greulich and Mrs. Bennion presided during the social hour. Besides club members, guests for the afternoon were Mrs. Greulich, Mrs. Bennion, Mrs. Jones, Mrs. Robinson, and Mrs. E. E. Geist.

CLUB HAS MEETING

With Mrs. Tillie Walters as hostess, the Lavender Club met yesterday afternoon at the Walters' home on Court street. A biography of the life of Charles Dickens was read by Mrs. Smith. Mrs. Thomas Robertson sang a pleasing solo and this was followed by an amusing guessing contest in which Mrs. Robertson and Mrs. J. M. Cook won the honors. The hostess was assisted in the serving of refreshments by Mrs. Dave Rogers. Guests for the afternoon, besides club members, were Mrs. Rogers and Mrs. M. A. Ferguson. The next meeting will be February 17, at the home of Mrs. Helen Burton in the Security apartments.

WILL GIVE LUNCHEONS

Mrs. Herbert Thompson and Mrs. James Thompson have issued invitations for a series of bridge-luncheons, to be given next Monday and Tuesday. Guests have been asked to the home of Mrs. Herbert Thompson, 115 East Washington.

PARTY IS GIVEN

As the second in a series of bridge parties, Mrs. Herbert Green, Mrs. Roy Buchanan and Mrs. Ray Hester were hostesses yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Green. In the afternoon's play, Mrs. Edwin H. Winter won first prize and Mrs. K. C. Ammon second.

MRS. FARLEY HONORED

Mrs. E. R. Farley, who recently came to Pendleton to reside, is being honored today at an informal party for which Mrs. James Johns, Jr., is hostess at her home.

DELPHIAN CLUB TO MEET

The Delphian club will meet tomorrow at the county library with Mrs. Fred Lienell as hostess.

MONTANA HAS OLD FILM LAW
HELENA, Mont., Feb. 4.—The controversy raging in the state over the bill of Senator E. Donlan of Missoula county, providing for censorship of moving pictures, has brought to the attention of courts, peace officers and the public that a law much like that the senator proposed has been on the books for many years.

In 1917, after a series of train robberies had started in the state, the assembly passed an act forbidding any moving picture depicting burglaries, train robberies and other crimes. So far as is known, however, the law was never vigorously enforced.

U. S. SHOULD COLLECT GERMAN PIE AT ONCE

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—(U. P.)—The United States should share in the German indemnity to the extent of receiving payment on American loans to the allies, Senator Walsh declared to the United Press. "If the allies can agree with Germany for collection of $5,000,000,000 reparation bill—or any other sum—let them arrange immediately to pro-rate a certain part of the receipts for payment to the United States," he said. "As these payments were made, they could be credited to the allied nations owing money to this country. I am not prepared to say whether the present demands on Germany can be fulfilled, but whenever an agreement is reached, the allies should consider their debts to the United States when they begin to collect."
