WHAT PENDLETON GRADE SCHOOLS ARE DOING

Lincoln School The teachers are doing nicely in their work these two weeks. Several pupils have been admitted to this class which is taught by Mrs. John Halley. Twenty-nine pupils are now enrolled in the second grade. These pupils are working in three divisions. Mrs. Idie and Mrs. Baker are assisting Miss Maxwell in the work. Many third grade pupils have been absent this week on account of sickness. The third grade pupils won the Parent-Teachers' contest this month. Dorothy Jack has just returned to school. The fourth grade pupils are very proud of having won the neatness pennant. The fifth grade has four of its members absent on account of sickness. They are Marjorie Richardson, Dale Edwin, Gladys Stanley and Vivian McAllister. Almost every one in the grade was absent to be in the "Parent of the Future" which is to be given soon, but as there was no need for so many children some had to be left out. Sixth, seventh and eighth grade pupils are hard at work on the plans for the school. Eighth grade pupils are studying the life of Lincoln whose birthday occurs the tenth of this month. They find it very interesting. The pupils were very ill in the Parent-Teacher pennant which has been given to the third grade. Mrs. Luckwood has been absent from school because of illness.

Washington School. The eighth grade boys' manual training class, under the direction of Orville Beeson, displayed wonderful talent in their course this year. The course began with making broom holders which was done with much neatness. Some articles worthy of special note are, tables made by Louis Hartman and Birch La Bau; book-cases made by Ray Burgin and John Ray, and table-covers made by Loren Booth, Clifford Christensen, Neil Houtart and Verne Dale. Allen Patterson of the third grade left this week with his parents for their new home in Hermiston. The third grade has done interesting problems in clay this week. The animals most favored and showing most activity were Reddy Fox, Peter Rabbit and Frisky Squirrel. The birds were very pleasing. The seventh grade English class on Friday afternoon enjoyed an interesting program given by members of the class under the direction of James Bailey. The program consisted of recitation, piano and victrola music and an original poem written and read by Thelma Carmen. March 11th has been definitely decided upon as the date for the Juvenile Bazaar. Hawthorne School. Mildred Harvey brought some hog heads to school for the sixth grade to study in connection with the nervous system this week. Interest in the sixth grade civics class reached its greatest height

Thursday when the room was divided on a lively discussion as to whether it would or would not be better to lengthen the president's term. Willie Moore advanced especially good points. Monday morning the pupils sang several songs accompanied by Mrs. S. H. Forshaw at the piano and Forest Meyers with the snare drum. This proved to be most enjoyable and the pupils feel that Mrs. Forshaw never lets an opportunity pass in adding interest during the music period. Mildred Fisk has returned to school after an absence of three weeks. For excellent work done, Mrs. S. H. Forshaw, musical supervisor, gave the fifth grade a pleasant little surprise last Thursday. It was greatly appreciated and was an incentive for better work. The eighth grade received the banner for highest per cent of attendance this month.

28 YEARS AGO (From the Daily East Oregonian, February 5, 1903.) Huge blocks of ice, two feet square and as clear as a Cleveland record, are being received at Pendleton by the N. P. from North Powder. The Pendleton land meets for practice tomorrow evening and will make plans for summer concerts. A new flat cap which is needed very badly has been ordered from New York. J. M. Bentley is ill at his home. Fred Nolf has taken a position in the clothing department of the Boston Store.

BIG GAME HUNTER TAKES UP CONSERVATION FIGHT

VANCOUVER, B. C., Feb. 5.—Major Neil Armstrong, big game hunter and Yukon pioneer, is making a determined fight for game conservation in Canada's frozen Northland. Moose and mountain sheep are being slaughtered by the thousand by multimillionaire hunters from the United States, he said in a recent interview, and explorers and prospectors who have lived off the country year after year are finding their task increasingly difficult. Even the caribou are being thinned out, although the largest herd retaining its identity on the American continent still contains several thousand head and is to be seen every year migrating from the Arctic to Southeastern Alaska. It took two weeks for the herd, moving continuously, to pass last year. OLIVER IMPLEMENTS TO BE REDUCED IN PRICE

"Announcement of a general reduction in price on all implements made by the Oliver Chilled Plow Works, South Bend, Indiana, is of vital importance to farmers in this community. This is the first effort on the part of any large implement manufacturer to help the farmer in a real way, and brings prices to about the 1915 basis," say Sturgis & Storle, local agents. "The general price reduction of the Oliver Chilled Plow Works is a step in the right direction. The farmer does not need advice. It is fully realized that if farmers in this community are to make a profit this year, they must produce a large crop and still reduce the production cost. "Improved plows and implements play an important part in modern agriculture. It is worth the consideration of every farmer that a house like Oliver, making a high grade, quality line of implements, have cut prices as their contribution to a return to normal. "Heretofore, high prices have made the farmer hesitate in purchasing improved implements. In consequence he has suffered a two-fold loss. Yields were reduced because they could not be given the proper seed preparation and cultivation. Time and labor expenses resulted that could have easily been taken care of by up to date tools. "Now, however, that Oliver plows and implements are offered at lower prices, in the matter of tillage implements, at least, the farmer is given relief in the way of producing his crops at a lowered cost."
