STOCK OPERATIONS IN FINAL HOUR BROADEN

NEW YORK, Feb. 9.—(A. P.)—Early business in the stock market today was dull but the pace quickened and the operations broadened in the final hour.

Much of the sudden activity was occasioned by a decline in call loans from eight to seven per cent. Itals, oils, steels and equipments featured the sharp rebound at extreme gains of one to five points. Sales 475,900 shares.

The most significant development was contained in circumstantial reports that the steel industry was rapidly approaching the stage of an "open market" probably involving a reduction of prices.

Such a move by the independent manufacturers would occasion little surprise.

Further price readjustment was accomplished by leading oil interests, including Standard Oil of New Jersey; Other commodity markets were steady, including textiles.

Recovery in leading international remittances was a noteworthy incident. British, French, Belgian, Dutch, Spanish and Greek rates rose briskly.

Liberty bonds were irregular, as also were rails and active industrials. Total sales, par value, $11,850,000.

To our sailorman this means to make doubly sure for the impending gale. A good old tar is not caught napping when the weatherman is going to set-up, to be sure, he then is quite wide awake.

Are you keeping your affairs ship-shape. For instance, have you your valuable papers in a secure place or are you taking undue chances to lose them by fire, burglary or accident?

A Safety Deposit Box solves the problem of caring for valuable papers and jewelry. The cost is trifling. Come in and have our custodian show you.
