Including Pendleton Prices and Associated Press Reports

Cattle Continue Depressed And Sheep Tone Is Slow

There were only five loads all told among the Thursday arrivals at North Portland. Hogs were steady, cattle continued depressed and a slow tone was shown for sheep.

In the hog alleys there was a small run Thursday at North Portland, and arrivals were easily sold at the prices quoted. The fact that feeder hogs, as well as fat hogs, are selling as high as the finished product indicates the extreme scarcity of home offerings.

To keeping the home price as high as possible, those that are bringing in Eastern hogs are able to stop competition.

General hog market range: Prime light $11.00@11.50; smooth heavy 10.50@11.00; rough heavy 7.00@8.50; fat pigs 10.00@11.50; feeder pigs 10.00@11.75.

While there was less than a full load of new arrivals in the cattle alleys at North Portland for Thursday, the market remains depressed under influence of the stock carried over from Monday, for which purchasers are not to be found.

Slow demand continues to be shown for both sheep and lambs at North Portland. There were no carload arrivals in the division for the day, but the market showed a lack of snap.

LACK OF WHEAT FROM FARMS CAUSES ADVANCE

CHICAGO, Feb. 11.—Difficulties of getting wheat from the producers had much to do today with bringing about a sharp advance in prices. The market closed strong 2 1/4 to 5 1/2-cents higher, with March 1.67 1/4 to 1.67 1/2 and May 1.55 1/2 to 1.55. Corn gained 2 1/4 to 1 1/4 and oats 1 1/2 to 5-8. Provisions were unchanged to the lower.

Wheat bulls made many converts to an assumption that from now on the chief factor in establishing values would be domestic instead of export conditions. It was pointed out that besides the evident unwillingness which growers displayed toward selling at current prices, country roads were in such bad shape that a free movement of grain was out of the question. Moreover, the green bug pest was noted today in Missouri and Oklahoma as well as in Texas. Announcement of large export sales of flour with a prospect of more added somewhat to the strength of the market.

Corn and oats reflected the wheat bulge, and were also influenced by export business in corn and by predictions of continued unseasonable weather. Provisions were inclined to weakness owing to sympathy with downturns which at times took place in the hog market.

DULL AND IRREGULAR BUSINESS IN STOCKS

NEW YORK, Feb. 11.—Business on the stock exchange today was again sluggish and irregular. Metal issues displayed improvement as a result of the formation of a banking syndicate to market huge stores of copper abroad.

On the other hand rails were subjected to renewed pressure following the announcement that the railroad labor board had rejected the application of the railroads for abrogation of the national agreement. Another adverse development was the publication of the United States Steel's tonnage statement for January, disclosing an additional decrease in unfiled orders of 575,000 tons. Especial interest attached to this showing in view of Chairman Gary's attitude respecting prices and wages.

Cal. Petroleum Strong Such speculative interest as exhibited concentrated mainly in the oil stocks shippings and several food specialties.

Strength was shown by California petroleum, which rose steadily, making a net gain of 3 7/8 points. Short covering was also helpful to rails at the firm close.

Bonds Tended Downward Sales 375,000. The open market was hardly a barometer of actual money conditions, all loans holding on the stock exchange at 7 per cent, while free offerings were made privately at six per cent.

British exchange was firm, French, Belgian and Dutch rates were strong and the Swiss and Scandinavian quotations were appreciably better. The Bank of England weekly report showed a marked strengthening of liability reserves.

All classes of bonds tended downward on nominal dealings, the conspicuous feature being St. Paul refunding 4 1/2's which fell 1 1/2 points. Total sales, par value, were $9,450,000.

Newt Stone, a pioneer merchant of Milton, but now living in Spokane, was a caller on friends in Weston last Tuesday.

Main street in Weston is getting to be a water course of the first magnitude. The heavy rains of late have caused an immense quantity of water to run off the fields southeast of town. This water has cut new channels across lots in such a way that all of it comes right down into Main street where it has deposited enough silt and mud to start a successful Chinese market garden.

Village of Memories to Honor Lincoln OLD SALEM, Ill., Feb. 12.—They are building, this Lincoln's birthday, a silent village on a hilltop here. It will not be occupied by people—only memories. One by one the buildings are coming to completion. "We're building Salem town," said old Captain W. H. Weaver, "so's if Abe Lincoln was to come back tomorrow, he'd say 'Well, now! If this don't look like home!'" Of the buildings up, there is the Lincoln-Berry store, where Lincoln studied law; the Offutt store, partly operated by Lincoln; the Rutledge Inn, where lived Ann Rutledge, Lincoln's sweetheart, whose death crushed Lincoln with grief. Above are shown the old Lincoln and Berry grocery with C. E. Dawson posing on the cellar doors where Lincoln often studied law; Parthenia Jane Shipp, whom Lincoln named; and Edith Esto Clary, a Rutledge five generations removed, holding the Ann Rutledge Bible.
