

News Notes of Pendleton

Will Preach Tonight.
"Christ or Barabbas" will be the theme for tonight's discourse by Milo Bentley, Baptist evangelist, at the meetings which are being held in the Baptist church. The services will begin at 7:30 p. m. and there will be special music.

Holdmans Going to Country
Mr. and Mrs. Frank Holdman, who have been spending the winter months in their home here, will leave tomorrow for their wheat ranch at Holdman where work for the summer will be taken up. They plan to reside on the ranch until fall.

Springs May Give Million Gallons
The springs which the Pendleton Water Commission plans to develop in addition to Chapliss Springs for the summer water supply, were visited on Friday by Frank B. Hayes, engineer for the commission. He made field notes and a preliminary survey and will report to the board at its next meeting. In Mr. Hayes' opinion, the new supply will furnish at least 1,000,000 gallons of pure, mountain water to the city during the dry spell of the summer.

Market Closed Today
Because today is Lincoln's birthday, the Chicago grain market is closed. No report was received by Overbeck & Cooke, local brokers.

Pilot Rock Couple Licensed.
A marriage license was issued by the county clerk today to Alfred Marion Westgate, of Pilot Rock and Miss Mary Alta Boylen, also of Pilot Rock.

Boy Scouts Meet.
Twelve Boy Scouts took written examinations in scout work last night under Rev. J. M. Cornelison. Next Friday the scouts and Mrs. Edith G. Van Deusen, scout mother, will go to the high school where the boys under her direction will prepare a camp cookery supper.

Repairs Permits Issued
Thomas Fitz Gerald, recorder, today issued to himself a permit to place a new roof on a building owned by himself and Mrs. Fitz Gerald facing on railroad street. The estimated cost of the work is $40. He also issued a permit to E. E. Meers to erect a chicken brooder house, to cost $25, at 809 West Webb street.

Business Outlook Seen Bright
The business outlook at present is declared by J. J. Hamley, veteran saddle man, as bright. Mr. Hamley said today that every indication points to an improvement in all lines of business. The Hamley factory, which has operated for the past two months on a seven-hour day basis, with no cut in its working force, may soon get back to the eight-hour working day, Mr. Hamley intimated.

Lambing Highly Successful
Lambing which is under way in several of the sheep camps of this county is yielding a high percentage of twins, according to Mac Hoke, secretary for the Cunningham Sheep Co. Muddy ground is interfering slightly with operations here but the lambs are all healthy and a record yield is predicted. In Wallowa county, shed lambing underway despite the presence of snow on the ground. The Falconer interests have 4000 lambs coming on in Wallowa county at present.

River Is Flooded
The Umatilla River today is still at a flood stage, due to the recent heavy rains. Wild Horse creek is pouring in a large volume of mud and water and the river is still a dark brown and is laden with considerable debris. Railroad trains are not experiencing trouble now, however, as the crest of the flood here has passed. High water is encroaching upon the Bond ranch near Youkum and in the lowlands along the Umatilla in the Echo vicinity, say reports from there.

CENTRAL LABOR COUNCIL PLANS ENTERTAINMENT

An open meeting of the Pendleton Central Labor Council, to hear addresses by local leaders in the labor field, will be held Wednesday evening, February 15, in the Labor Temple at 7:30 o'clock. The meeting is intended to be of an educational nature and will be accompanied by entertainment. P. T. Betz, building contractor, is one of the speakers on the program but his topic has not been announced. Alex Manning, prominent in labor circles, and also a builder, will take as his topic "The Laborer." Sandy McLain, secretary of the council, will speak on "Union Labor." Clem Wurst, contractor and former service man, has chosen as his topic, "The American Legion and Labor." Mr. Wurst is familiar with both organizations and takes the stand that they have a world in common and are working in the same direction.

The committee in charge of the forthcoming meeting consists of Cal Wilson, Fred Alderman and Paul Ellis.

SUFFERING CHILDREN HELPED.
EUGENE, Feb. 12.—At a University of Oregon student assembly held last Thursday in Villard hall, $1123 was subscribed for the relief of suffering children overseas. This amount was pledged by 511 students, making the donations average more than two dollars each. There were several individual subscriptions running from $10 to $25. The faculty also subscribed a large amount.

SOCIETY

MISS FARLEY HONORED
Miss Sybil Farley was honor guest at a kitchen shower given by members of the Degree of Honor yesterday afternoon at the P. C. Peterson home on Perkins Avenue. Miss Farley received many useful gifts. The afternoon was spent in sewing and chatting. Dainty refreshments were served.

WRITES UP OREGON.
UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, Eugene, Feb. 12.—The Encyclopedia Britannica has asked Professor F. G. Young, dean of the school of sociology, to write the section on Oregon for the eleventh edition now being prepared. In this addition there will be three additional volumes and all contents will be revised and brought up to date. The section on Oregon will cover five or six pages.

U. S. LACKS EVIDENCE TO CONVICT ONE TRIO ON LIQUOR POSSESSION

Federal Prohibition Enforcement Officer Has Only Broken Bottle, Not Attempting to Confiscate Automobile.

Belief that the government has not sufficient evidence with which to prosecute Earl Redinger, W. T. Lindley and Earl Jenks, arrested by Pendleton police Wednesday night for unlawful possession of liquor, was expressed today by Fred Currey, federal prohibition enforcement officer, here from Portland. He has only a broken bottle containing what is believed to be liquor and is not attempting to confiscate a Chandler auto in which two of the men were found when arrested.

Bill Hart, Albert Key, Jimmy Osborn, Maude Sampson and Ellen Compo, arrested by Deputy Sheriffs Spears and Lyday Thursday morning in possession of 50 gallons of whiskey, and the Buick auto in which they were traveling, are to be held for the government, however, Mr. Currey said today. The five persons will be taken before U. S. Commissioner S. A. Newberry on Monday for preliminary examination. The car is held for the government and will be confiscated.

Fines of $200 each were assessed against Hart and Key Friday afternoon by County Judge Schabus, before whom the quintet was taken. Osborn and the Indian women were fined $100 each. The women were the only ones who paid on the spot. They were released from jail with orders to report to John Halley, Jr., and will be taken before the commissioner on Monday. The auto belongs to Mrs. Sampson.
A list of names of local persons, to whom the liquor in the Hart car was to be delivered, is declared to have fallen into the hands of Mr. Currey. This and other evidence has been dug up by the sheriff and his men. Capturing the car followed an all night vigil and a spirited chase in which Deputy Spears and Lyday out-manuevered the alleged bootleggers Thursday morning.
Police court derived $218 in fines yesterday afternoon from three of its four liquor men. Fines of $100 were assessed against Redinger and Lindley, after their entry of a plea of guilty. They paid their money and a friend paid $15 on Max Gaunt's fine after he had served one day in jail. Gaunt was arrested with them, and convicted of vagrancy. He is said to have been a bootlegger here at former Round-Tops and had friends here.

Earl Jenks, fourth man arrested by the local police, is still in jail in default of $150 in fines assessed for carrying a concealed weapon and having liquor in his possession.
