PILOT ROCK COMMUNITY DOINGS FOR THE WEEK

(East Oregonian Special.) PILOT ROCK, Feb. 14.—Mrs. Roy Simmons and baby of Junction City, are here visiting at the home of Mrs. Simmons' mother, Mrs. Olive Wagner, Dr. H. A. Schneider, local dentist, will go to La Grande Saturday to attend a dentist's convention.

Miss Veiga Smith returned home Tuesday after visiting a few days in Pendleton.

Mrs. Carl Jensen is quite sick at her home this week.

A double-header basketball game will be played here Friday evening in the high school Auditorium between the Pilot Rock and Weston teams.

Merwin Gilbert returned home the first of the week from a visit with relatives at Eugene.

The degree team of the local Odd Fellows lodge has given up the idea of entering the contest to be held in Heppner during the L. O. O. F. convention February 26.

Owing to the heavy rainfall of the past week and the snow melting in the mountains, the streams here have been steadily rising the last few days. Both east and west Birch creeks are high. East Birch is higher than it has been for several years and it is feared that quite a bit of damage may result if the rise continues.

Little Mary Truman, who has been quite sick for the past few days, is much improved.

L. P. Kelley has purchased the lot in the creek between Carnes Bros. Mercantile and the Bailey restaurant and will have a fire proof building erected to be used for a moving picture hall.

Mr. Nile, of the Wales Adding Machine Co. of Spokane, was a business visitor here Thursday.

Frank Rehberg was in town Thursday evening and attended L. O. O. F. lodge.

M. G. Edwards is spending a few days in town this week visiting with his family.

The material to be given by the Pilot Rock bank boys will be given in the high school auditorium but the date has not yet been decided upon.

The women's community club will hold a millinery school under the direction of Mrs. Edith Van Dusen, county demonstrator, on Wednesday and Thursday 23 and 24. Miss Mary Connet has been appointed project leader and the school will be held at the home of Mrs. C. M. Best.

At a meeting of the commercial club last week it was decided to give a community picnic in June. L. V. Macken, grade school principal, was appointed chairman of the committee in charge. A splendid program will be given and eighth grade diplomas presented.

All schools of this end of the county will be invited to take part.

William Scott, proprietor of Hildway Springs, was transacting business here the first of the week.

Mrs. Marvin Roy is home again after an extended visit with relatives in Pendleton.

Word received from Mrs. E. E. Hutchinson, who underwent an operation in Portland recently states that she is getting along nicely.

Mrs. W. C. Stanley is on the sick list this week.

Bill Rubert is busy this week building an incubator-house for Ed Smith.

HOMELESS IN STRICKEN GA. STORM DISTRICT HOUSED BY RED CROSS

Cold Wave Adds to Suffering, County Declines Governor's Financial Aid, Physicians Arrive From Nearby Towns.

COONSBURG, Ga., Feb. 14.—(A. P.)—Tents were pitched last night by the Red Cross for those rendered homeless by yesterday's tornado. A drop in temperature caused considerable suffering. Red Cross workers arrived here early from Atlanta with relief supplies while physicians and civilians from nearby towns rendered assistance. An offer of assistance from Governor Dorsey, however, was declined by Washington county people, who said they would subscribe to a fund to meet the emergency.

Identification of the dead had been practically completed when 29 bodies had been accounted for. Several injured negroes in a hospital at Sandersville, however, were not expected to live through the night. It was reported that articles blown by the storm were found 25 miles away.

Many negroes spent hours in fruitless search for relatives whom they learned later had been swept away and killed. A negro child was found on a torn mattress at the site of his former home, his grandfather, mother and brother all having been lost.

MINNESOTA AND OHIO TEACHERS WANT JOBS IN STATE UNIVERSITY

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, Eugene, Feb. 14.—Inquiries and definite registrations from all over the north-west and from as far east as Minnesota and Ohio have been received at the University of Oregon for the two summer terms, one to be held on the campus at Eugene and the other in Portland extension center in Portland, beginning June 29 and ending July 30.

The summer term at Eugene will be an integral part of University work under the immediate direction of Professor Colin V. Dymont, dean of the college of liberal arts, who has done so much to raise the standard of scholarship in Oregon. It is announced that there will be unusual opportunities for specialized professional advanced and graduate courses. The credit in even greater variety than in previous years. The Portland summer term will be under the immediate direction of Dr. George Hebec, director of the Portland center and dean of the graduate school.

Both branches of the summer term will be under the general direction of Earl Kilpatrick, director of the extension division.

AMERICAN PUBLISHER FORECASTS GREAT WAR FOR WHITE SUPREMACY

McClure Stirs Up London Papers With Prophecy of Conflict of the Continents, Black and Yellow Versus White.

BY WERE MILLER. (United Press Staff Correspondent.) LONDON, Feb. 14.—A vast war between the Yellow and Black races for supremacy of the world—that is the possibility seen by S. S. McClure, American publisher, after a long trip through the Orient.

point is that Japan, China and the Mohammedan races are animated by the most powerful and elemental of human reasons in the necessity for expansion. He foresees that the Mohammedan world and the black race of Africa would be impelled to join the yellow races, because they have been under subjugation of the White race.

Th article urges the vital necessity of an understanding between Britain and the United States, the two most powerful representatives of the White race, to defend the interests of the Caucasian races against the "Yellow Peril," McClure says:

"The policies of Japan are determined by the most fundamental force in nature—that is, the struggle to make a living. No nation in the world needs room as much as Japan and for the Japanese there is no part of the world so desirable as North America. We find the same condition in China. The struggle for land has caused innumerable wars in Europe for hundreds of years. The coming struggle for land will be on the scale of continents and hemispheres. There is another struggle looming in the future which will include also the people of Africa against the dominance of the white race.

"It can be seen that the white race has secured a unique property, so of the choicest portions of the globe; that the white race has frequently with cruelty and injustice, ruled over the colored peoples—that these peoples are bound to fight against the dominance of the whites; and that just as Japan has mastered all the machinery of war, so may many of the other peoples of Africa and Asia."

McClure writes that if the rulers of Russia should follow their present policy of working with the peoples of Asia, the world is facing a conflict that will be much more terrible than the last war.

The "Times" in an editorial scents the possibilities predicted by McClure, but says "it is not without its elements of truth, but to most Britishers it will seem strangely exaggerated and quite needlessly alarmist."

However, the "Globe" is more inclined to listen to McClure's warnings. It says "we are not all disposed to set aside as chimerical the very grave warning given by Mr. McClure. All war is at the bottom caused by pressure of population and in the East and even in Africa, that pressure is becoming heavier and heavier every day."

"The same pressure of population that drove Attila and Temerlane and Chingiz Kahn westward is most keenly felt today," the Globe says. "China feels herself a giant in a cage and the sixty millions of Japanese, snatching the barest living from an inhospitable soil, turn their eyes with longing to the rich and as yet unexploited lands across the Pacific. We, the British and Americans, no longer possess any superiority in weapons. The crisis may come much more quickly than we imagine. At no period in the world's history have events moved so rapidly as they have done in this."
