Foot Deep at Hood River.
Snow was a foot deep at Hood River last night according to O. W. R. & N. trainmen. In spite of this unusual snow so late in the winter there was no interruption of rail traffic between here and Portland. No. 24, this morning's eastbound train arrived on time.

Tonkins Go to La Grande.
U. S. Game Warden George Tonkin and Mrs. Tonkin who have been visiting friends in Pendleton for a week, leave this evening for La Grande. Until last week, Mrs. Tonkin was Miss Gertrude Billon of Portland and has been connected with the office of the state fish and game commission for several years.

Former Warden Sells Soap.
E. S. Catron, formerly U. S. game warden is in the city today. He was the first man appointed to that position upon the passage of the migratory bird law but at present he is traveling salesman for a soap manufacturing company. In addition to his present activities Catron is also the owner of a chicken ranch a few miles south of Portland.

Less Cattle Being Fed.
There are about 25 per cent less cattle on feed in the northwest today than there were a year ago, according to F. A. Wiedenman of the Spokane Union Stockyards. Mr. Wiedenman is in the city in the interest of the Spokane yards and also for the purpose of making a general survey of conditions in this territory. Not only are less cattle being prepared for market but he thinks they will go on the market about 30 days later this year than last. In striking contrast with the wet conditions in this part of the country Mr. Wiedenman says the roads of Montana are dry and dusty.

Car of Gas Arrives
A car of gas, ordered through the Umatilla County Farm Bureau, arrived here today and is being unloaded by Fred Bennion, county agent, and assistants.

Western Union Changes Hours.
It was announced today by G. H. Dairyple, local manager for the Western Union that starting today the telegraph company's office will close each evening at 9 o'clock instead of at ten as in the past.

Some Wheat Sold.
Several small lots of wheat were sold during last week, the price paid being from $1.32 to $1.34 per bushel according to local reports. Bert Warren was one of the heaviest sellers, having made a $10,000 sale.

Display of Old Coins

Tomorrow, Feb. 22, George Washington's Birthday, there will be on display in the windows of The Table Supply one of the largest collection of coins in the country, representing about 80 different nations of the world.

It will be worth your while to see this collection, as there are many coins in it that were in use during the days of Washington, and if it were possible for them to speak they could tell the story of man's struggle for ages. Others turn back the pages of history for 2000 years to the time of Christ and the beginning of the Christian era. Back to the days of Roman supremacy and Caesar. Others recall the raid of the Norsemen in the 6th and 7th centuries, etc.

Boy Scouts to Meet
The Boy Scouts at their meeting in the county library tonight will hear the first of a series of lectures given by Dr. R. C. Ellsworth. The meeting opens at 7 p. m. under the direction of Rev. J. M. Cornelison, scout master.

Will Elect Officers
New officers for the men's forum of the Presbyterian church will be elected at a 6:30 p. m. banquet Friday night. All members of the Forum and of the church have been requested to attend and besides election, a financial meeting of the church will be held.

Classes to Be Held
A millinery school will be opened in Pilot Rock Wednesday morning by Mrs. Edith G. Van Deussen, home demonstration agent. A millinery class will be held in Pendleton March 17 and 18 by Mrs. Van Deussen. The classes will be held both afternoon and evening.

Groosbeaks Are Here
Local bird lovers have been very much interested in the arrival in Pendleton of a large flock of evening groosbeaks. While these birds are not unknown here they are infrequent visitors and their appearance is always greeted with delight. They are among the numerous harbingers of spring.

P. W. Dayton a Victim.
P. W. Dayton, well known local real estate man of the firm of Snow & Dayton, is not at his office on East Court today and the reason therefore is that Mr. Dayton is a small pox victim at his home at 108 Beauregard street. He is reported to have the disease in a mild form and is not bedfast.

Off on Hunting Trip.
A party including Louis Scharpt, cashier of the American National Bank, Fred Moe, of Helix, C. W. Paulus of Pilot Rock and Levi Eldridge of Pilot Rock, is on a hunting expedition in the southern part of the county. They left Saturday and will be gone over the Washington birthday holiday.

Conversions Are Many
Twenty people were converted at the Baptist church last night, making 75 conversions since the revival meetings began. Yesterday the church was filled to overflowing and the ceremony of baptism was administered last night. Tonight, at the close of the sermon by Rev. Milo Bentley, there will be baptismal services again.

Community Meeting Saturday
Weston women will hold a community meeting Saturday for organization for community work. Weston Mountain women are planning to attend also. Mrs. Edith G. Van Deussen, home demonstration agent has been asked to preside. R. E. Tucker, community service worker, will be present and will lead in community singing.

Will Visit Kamiah
Rev. J. M. Cornelison, Presbyterian missionary at Tutuilla, will leave tomorrow for Kamiah, Idaho, to attend an Indian evangelistic conference at the second church in Kamiah. On Wednesday, several Umatilla Indians will go to Kamiah, among them Rev. and Mrs. E. J. Conner, Allen Patawa, James Kash Kash, and Parsons Montano.

Is Cashier at Milton.
Will McKinney, former local bank employe and who has been in the Baker-Boyer National Bank at Walla Walla, is now serving as cashier of the Farmers Security Bank at Milton. The McKinney family has moved to Milton where Mr. McKinney succeeds W. W. Wasser as cashier. Mr. Wasser is taking the cashiership of a newly formed bank at College Place, Wash.

Broke Parking Hike
B. F. Bender and Dr. H. H. Hattery each forfeited bail of $2.00 in police court for failing to remember the parking rules. One other traffic law violation case was on the docket this morning. W. J. Roberts entered a plea of guilty to the charge of driving a car without sufficient lights and was fined $2.00.

Bennett Home is Sold.
The home of M. G. Bennett at the corner of Washington and Lincoln streets has been sold to Jack Lawton of the Sawtelle jewelry store, the consideration being $6000. The house was greatly improved by Mr. Bennett who purchased the place and used it as his home while serving here as an highway engineer prior to moving to Montana. The sale of the property was made by Snow & Dayton.

Mrs. Kiddle Dies
Mrs. Jessie Wade Kiddle, wife of Merton Kiddle, of La Grande, and infant child, died this morning, according to word just received by Pendleton people. The death is the second in the Kiddle family within the past few months, as E. E. Kiddle, father of Merton Kiddle, died recently. Mrs. Kiddle is survived by her husband and two daughters, Eileen and Mildred. Funeral arrangements have not been made.

Day Will Be Observed
Tomorrow, Washington's birthday, will be observed by the banks of the city with a full holiday. The postoffice will be closed with exception of the hour from 9 to 10 a. m. Other offices in the federal building will be closed also. Local stores will observe the anniversary by patriotic window displays. The day is not a school holiday but Pendleton schools will present programs in memory of the "Father of His Country."

Dealers Would Contract Wool
Northwest dealers in wool are out in the field in an effort to contract the 1921 wool clip according to the Market Reporter. It is also reported that some of last year's wool is now selling at from 17 to 25 cents per pound. So far as is known none of the local growers are disposing of their holdings. Mack Hoke, secretary for the Cunningham Sheep Company says he believes the price of fine wools will advance to at least 30 cents.

Dr. Bulgin at Walla Walla.
Rev. E. J. Bulgin, who held a series of sensational revival meetings here some years ago, using a temporary tabernacle where the federal building now stands, is holding a revival at Walla Walla. In his opening sermon last evening he declared that not over five per cent of the soldiers who served overseas have been going to church since their return home. The evangelist criticized as hypocrites all who are outside the church, and he especially flayed those who join lodges but do not unite with any church.

Must File Claims Soon.
If anyone in this territory has a claim for damages against a railroad company arising during the time the roads were under federal control such claims must be officially filed by February 25 or they cannot be considered. This is the substance of notices being sent the press and commercial organizations by W. P. Ellis secretary of the Oregon public service commission. The roads were under government control from Dec. 28, 1917, to February 29, 1920. Hence the year allotted for filing claims expires February 25.

Will Be In Charge
L. A. Bulen will be in charge of the Bingham Springs dining room this year, he announces. Mr. Bulen is planning many improvements and believes that the season will open May 1.

Helping the News Force
E. F. Averill, who is now associated with G. W. Coutts in the insurance and realty business here, is assisting with the city registrar's work on the East Oregonian today, there being a vacancy until a new city editor arrives to take the place left by H. Sherman Mitchell who has purchased a paper in Western Washington. Mr. Averill was city editor of this paper some ten years ago.
