CONGRESS ENTERS ITS LAST HOUR OF LIFE

WASHINGTON, March 3.—(U. P.) Congress has entered its last hours of life. Both houses will be in session all day and night until a few minutes before noon on Friday. With the hope of passing the sundry civil and naval appropriations bill virtually ended, all efforts will be directed towards the clean up of other measures, including the army bill.

HUNGER STRIKER STILL HAS PLENTY OF 'PEP'

LOS ANGELES, March 3.—(U. P.) To prove that 49 foodless days have not sapped his vitality and health, Engmark, the hunger-striking chloroformer, leaped from the floor of his cell in the county jail, grasped the parallel bar overhead and "chinned" it. "See," he said triumphantly, as he lowered himself, "I am not all in yet. My wife says I am thin and getting worn looking, but even though I am growing more like a soupless in appearance each day, I am still a strong man." Engmark resolved to fast the full ninety days to which he was sentenced for violating the state medical laws.

By sleeping plenty and by breathing exercises, he says he will be able to retain his stamina and walk from the jail at the termination of the sentence, with the "firm step of youth."

MILLIONAIRE GRAIN OPERATOR SUICIDES ACCOUNT OF LOSSES

OMAHA, March 3.—(U. P.)—Emil Rothchild, a millionaire grain operator, suicided at his home here today. Heavy losses in the grain markets speculation were responsible, according to notes left by the dead man. His wife found the body in the kitchen with the gas stove turned on.

ings will clear away, one by one the peoples still outside the Covenant will fall in behind this banner, under the banner race is going to march forward to triumphs of peace, organization and achievement undreamt of by as children of an unhappy era. And the leader who, in spite of apparent failure, succeeded in inscribing his name on that banner has achieved the most enviable and enduring immortality. Americans of the future will set proudly and gratefully rank him with Washington and Lincoln, and his fame will have a more universal significance than theirs.

WHEAT MARKET STILL SHOWS SOME ADVANCE

March wheat rose in price today, closing at 1.70 1-2 as contrasted with yesterday's closing of 1.68, while May wheat closed at 1.61 1-2 which is higher than yesterday's closing of $1.59 1-2. Following are the quotations from Overbeck & Cooke, local brokers:

Wheat.		Corn.		Oats.		Rye.		Barley.
Open.	Low.	High.	Close.	Open.	Low.	High.	Close.	Open.	Low.
March	1.68	1.68	1.70 1/2	1.70 1/2	March	.70 1/2	.71 1/2	.70 1/2	.70 1/2

Wheat—Showed strength from the start and although setbacks were frequent, the market closed strong at the top for the day. The advance was based primarily on persistent green bug stories from the southwest, although more optimistic trade had a beneficial influence. Omaha said was much better flour demand. Kansas City likewise, and all the same time reported light offerings from the country. There was no evidence of a foreign demand from the Gulf for wheat. Notwithstanding the bearish statistical situation as verified reports from leading statisticians there is an apparent inclination to take cognizance of crop uncertainty and it is probable that somewhat further advance will be received temporarily while these green bug stories persist.

INMATE OF STATE ASYLUM ARRESTED

SAN FRANCISCO, March 2.—(A. P.)—Herbert M. Berry, said to be a member of a well-known Portland family, was arrested here today in a hotel following his escape a week ago from the Oregon State hospital for the insane. According to the police, he was writing a letter at the time of his capture to the hospital superintendent saying flight was necessary because since he had been cured of insanity he would have to stand trial for assault on a pawnbroker, the offense for which he was committed.

things in the triumph which is in store for the great moral ideals of the race. But this faith only too often leads to an optimism which is sadly and fatally at variance with actual results. It is the realist and not the idealist who is generally justified by events. We forget that the human spirit, the spirit of goodness and truth in the world, is still only an infant crying in the night, and that the struggle with darkness is as yet mostly an unequal struggle.

Paris proved this terrible truth once more. It was not Wilson who failed there, but humanity itself. It was not the statesmen that failed, so much as the spirit of the peoples behind them. The hope, the aspiration for a new world order of peace and right and justice—however deeply and universally felt—was still only feeble and ineffective in comparison with the dominant national passions which found their expression in the Peace Treaty. Even if Wilson had been one of the great demi-gods of the human race, he could not have saved the Peace. Knowing the peace conference as I knew it from within, I feel convinced in my own mind that not the greatest man born of woman in the history of the race would have saved that situation. The great Hope was not the heralding of the coming dawn, as the peoples thought, but only a dim intimation of some far off event towards which we should yet have to make many a long weary march. Sincerely as we believed in the moral ideals for which we had fought the temptation at Paris of a large booty to be divided proved too great. And in the end not
