FROM THE PEOPLE

SAYS RATES UP 100 PER CENT
Weston, Ore., March 10.

Editor East Oregonian:
In regard to the present increase in the Telephone Company rates as recently granted them by their albe's the public service commission. The interest of the public's welfare seems to have been rantly neglected and betrayed by its paid servants—consisting of a so-called Public Service Commission.

The East Oregonian speaks of a 20 per cent increase having been granted to the Telephone Company by the said Commission. Now some of us Missourians up this way believed that the said increase meant a 20 per cent increase of the old rates all down the line.

But after receiving our rural telephone bills we find that instead of a 20 per cent increase, these bills call for an even 100 per cent increase in the charges for exchange service. Present (new) charges being exactly twice, or double the amount of last year's charges.

Now back in good old Missouri, the school teachers always declared that a 20 per cent consisted of 20 cents on each dollar. But out here in Oregon it now seems to consist of 100 cents on the dollar—whenever you run up against The Pacific Telephone Corporation.

Now, Mr. Editor, will you please tell us what this 100 per cent telephone increase really means? Seems as though the Telephone Company has received a permit from its friends, the public service commission to graft the public to the tune of 20 per cent! But from whence does that company get its authority to make an increase of 100 per cent against their rural patrons?
Better far, to let the Telephone Company keep their lines and wires all to themselves, and let the suffering wretched, in patronize such a greedy monopoly!
Yours for a square deal

PASTIME TODAY

BLACK ACE IS BRIGHT SPOT IN A THRILLING DRAMA

Luke, a gigantic Southern negro, is one of the queer characters in "The Family Honor," King Vidor's first picture for First National, which will be shown at the Pastime theatre today. Luke's master is a gambler who runs the most notorious resort in the small town, and Luke himself is not adverse to a game of African golf. He is one of the "props" of the gambling joint and is entirely in his element. When a roulette wheel is introduced, however, Luke's eyes open in astonishment at the way it takes all the money of the village youths. He admits that "dat ar wheel has got it all over dem African golf balls for quick action."

Luke, while a very black ace himself, is one of the light, humorous spots in a thrilling romance of a beautiful Southern girl, whose brother turns out to be a gambler and waster. The story touches on her love for the son of the mayor of the town, whose father secretly owns most of the stock in the gambling den. She has a hard struggle with poverty and ruin until a surprising event occurs which changes her life.

ALTA TODAY

FULL OF TRAGEDIES BUT NOT A MELODRAMA

"In the Heart of a Fool," coming to the Alta Theatre today, averages a tragedy for every thousand feet. And despite the tragedies, this feature is not a melodrama. In fact it is quite the opposite. Dealing with the complex problem of marriage, it stands out as one of the most powerful dramas screened this year. So tremendous in the story, both in plot and in execution, that no offense is offered by the tragedies as they occur. In fact, their appeal is to the subconscious mind.

Although there are seven reels in this production, with seven tragedies, a tragedy does not happen in every reel. They come in logical sequence at their proper points in the story. Two homes are wrecked, the hero is injured in a mine disaster that caused many deaths, the son of the grasping mine baron is wounded by a bullet fired by a member of a mob, the little son of the hero is killed, the villain is the the-villain's wife goes insane and dies in a hospital.

ARCADE TODAY

With a bundle of newspapers under his arm, and a voice twice as loud as any other kid in San Francisco's Chinatown, "Dinty" fights the world for a living, and makes himself Newsboy King, at the head of the Newsboy's Trust. He does it all to provide a home for his old Irish mother. Then when his mother dies, "Dinty" has to fight down the feeling that life "isn't such a muck," after all, and he battles to get back into the game and make himself the success his mother always longed to see him.

As king of the Newsboy's Trust, "Dinty's" two lieutenants are a little Chinese half-breed and a jolly little oon, both self-members of the Trust, and for them "Dinty" puts up many a fight.

One night he picks up a wallet belonging to Jack North, the third assistant district attorney, and returns it to him. This is the beginning of a very real friendship between the two, and "Dinty" just naturally begins to fight for the 3rd A. O. A. Later when North's fiancée, Ruth Whitely, is kidnapped by "King" Dorkh, Malay kid-breeder and leader of a gang of out-throats, "Dinty" puts up the one great fight of his life for her.

HOW WOMEN AVOID SURGICAL OPERATIONS

Some Are Extremely Necessary, Others May Not Be

Every Woman Should Give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a Trial First

Chicago, Ill.—"I was in bed with a female trouble and inflammation and had four doctors but none of them did me any good. They all said I would have to have an operation. A druggist's wife told me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I took 22 bottles, never missing a dose and at the end of that time I was perfectly well. I have never had occasion to take it again as I have been so well. I have a six room flat and do all my work. My two sisters are taking the Compound upon my recommendation and you may publish my letter. It is the gospel truth and I will write to any one who wants a personal letter."—Mrs. E. H. HAYDOCK, 6224 St. Lawrence Ave., Chicago, Ill.

A Vermont woman adds her testimony to the long line of those fortunate women who have been restored to health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, after it had been decided an operation was necessary:

Burlington, Vt.—"I suffered with female trouble, and had a number of doctors who said that I would never be any better until I had an operation. I was so bad I could hardly walk across the floor and could not do a thing. My sister-in-law induced me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it certainly has helped me wonderfully. I keep house and do my work and have a small child. I have recommended Vegetable Compound to a number of my friends and you may publish my testimonial."—Mrs. H. R. SHARON, Apple Tree Point Farm, Burlington, Vt.

In hospitals are many women who are there for surgical operations, and there is nothing a woman dreads more than the thought of an operation, and the long weary months of recovery and restoration to strength if it is successful. It is very true that female troubles may through neglect reach a stage where an operation is the only resource, but most of the common ailments of women are not the surgical ones; they are not caused by serious displacements, tumors or growths, although the symptoms may appear the same. When disturbing ailments first appear take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to relieve the present distress and prevent more serious troubles. In fact, many letters have been received from women who have been restored to health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound after operations have been advised by attending physicians.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Private Text-Book upon "Ailments Peculiar to Women" will be sent to you free upon request. Write to The Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Massachusetts. This book contains valuable information.
