MILBURN HOPES TO CAPTURE POLO CUP FROM UNITED STATES

America Has Even Chance This Summer to Wrest Trophy From English Champ Team.

NEW YORK, March 11.—(Henry L. Farrell, U. P. Staff Correspondent.)—America has an even chance to beat England this summer and regain the international polo cup, in the opinion of Dererex Milburn, veteran internationalist and captain of the American team.

Milburn prefers actions to words and wants Americans to wait until June and let the team show the home folks how good it is.

The team captain is also unwilling to make any predictions about the makeup of the quartet that will take the field at Hurlingham next June to play for the cup.

"Each candidate for the team will have a chance to show himself in the tournaments preceding the challenge match and the personnel of the team will be decided on the showing made in these matches," he says.

As the squad sails for England early in April, it will be impossible to play any matches here and the men will have to condition themselves in England.

While careful to cover any outward indications of enthusiasm, Milburn admits that the team will make the trip with much more confidence than that which surrounded the visit of Harry Payne and his squad in 1909.

No little was thought of the chances of an American team at that time that the officials of the polo association hesitated to challenge for the cup, preferring merely to send the team over to participate in various tournaments. At the last minute, however, it was decided to challenge for the cup.

The team consisting of Whitney, Milburn, J. M. Waterbury, J. S. Phipps and E. S. Reynal made a clean sweep of all the tournaments and closed a sensational tour by winning and bringing the cup back to America.

WANT EXTRA PERIOD FOR FOOTBALL TIES

NEW YORK, March 11.—(A. P.)—Suggested changes in football rules to be considered at the annual meeting of the intercollegiate football rules committee here today include:

That an extra period be played in case the game ends in a tie.

That a forward pass, grounded behind the line of scrimmage, shall become a free ball.

That a game shall be based on a certain number of plays instead of a certain number of minutes.

That after a safety has been scored play shall be resumed on the 40-yard line instead of the 20-yard line.

That the kick for goal after touchdowns shall be eliminated.

That numbering of players shall be compulsory.

BILL HAYWARD TELLS OF TRACK TRAINING

BY WILLIAM L. HAYWARD
(Track Coach, University of Oregon)

Most sprinters who run the 100-yard dash generally enter the 220-yard dash also. This is a much harder race, and the 100-yard man is not always successful at the 220-yard dash, for the reason that it takes more and harder work to stand up under the strain of the longer sprint. The systems of training for both are much alike, only the 220-yard runner must develop a longer and easier stride. The runner must know himself and his ability to finish. Many boys run so hard at the first half that they are completely run off their feet and consequently tie up at the finish.

In all 440-yard tracks the start of the 220-yard is generally a short distance from the turn. I would advise all young runners to sail the turn. Starting as fast as possible the runner swings into a stride that will carry as much speed without a great deal of effort until the last 75 yards. As a rule, the best 220-yard men are those who can run a greater distance, the best of them being able to go at the same easy swing for 300 or 350 yards.

Since the race requires more endurance the candidate should practice swinging through 300 yards, always running within himself. If the 220-yard man is to turn the 100 also, the starting and sprinting will be sufficient, but he should vary the training, taking two or three 300 yards at three-quarter speed and once a week go through 150 at 220-speed. ## LADY GRATEFUL FOR HELP RECEIVED

"For 15 years I suffered increasing trouble with stomach and liver trouble. Bloating with gas distressed me very much and caused serious heart fluttering. All medicine only relieved temporarily. I gave up hope of ever being cured. My druggist advised me one day to try Murr's Wonderful Remedy. I am feeling like a new woman since and can now eat anything with no ill results." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded.—Druggists everywhere.
