MUCH INTEREST SHOWN

Interest centers in the lectures by Mrs. Louise Van Ogle, noted lecturer who will appear in Pendleton Thursday evening and Friday afternoon and evening under the auspices of local clubs which are members of the State Federation. The proceeds are to be used in defraying the expenses of the State Federation annual convention to be held here May 11 and June 1 and 2. Louise Van Ogle studied with Leopold Godowsky, Harold Bauer and Josef Lhevinne. Her years of residence in the European capitals have given her, among other advantages, an opportunity of becoming familiar with modern operas under the most favorable circumstances. A winter spent in Petrograd and Moscow afforded exceptional opportunity of studying not only the masterpieces of Russian opera and drama, many of which are to be heard in that country only, but also Russian history, legends and folk lore, all of which have been the greatest source of inspiration to Russia's foremost composers. Many of the operas in her repertoire are as yet produced in Russia only.

LEPROSY CURE HAS BEEN DISCOVERED

LONDON, March 15.—(U. P.)—At last there is a prospect of permanent cure for leprosy, which means that thousands of outcasts may look forward with hope to the future.

After 27 years in the Indian Medical Service, Lieut.-Colonel Sir Leonard Rogers has announced that his efforts in medical research work have resulted in the discovery of treatment which destroys the leprosy bacilli in the human tissue.

Sir Leonard says that while he does not claim to have discovered an incurable permanent cure, this achievement is nearer at hand now than it has ever been before.

"In the case of one leper," he said, "sight was restored after treatment. Others have regained the sense of touch, and in the case of a man who could not walk two or three hundred yards before treatment, he can now walk ten miles."

DRESS IN CONTRASTS

Go After Rheumatism Right

The dress illustrated attracts by its naive combination of contrasting materials—finely checked tissue gingham in rose pink and organdy in lemon color. Narrow ruffles serve as an interesting decorative motif and add a touch of daintiness.

First of all, rheumatism must be treated internally. The blood should be purified and the stomach and kidneys made to do their work properly. Massage the sore and swollen parts at least twice daily with an oil that will not irritate or inflame the skin. Keep the bowels open to help the treatment.

You can get everything necessary in the complete Anti-Uric outfit. If your urine is discolored or has a bad odor, the effect of Anti-Uric Tonic will give you an early confidence in the treatment. The jar of Anti-Uric oil will help proper massage of the painful surface. A supply of the famous Pullman Pills will furnish the correct laxative. These three preparations contain only vegetable ingredients. All are in one generous, compact package. The price complete is $1.50 and there is a money back guarantee with every package. HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

Many to Enter Oratorical Contest—Many members of the dramatic classes and the public speaking class have made known their intention to enter the county oratorical contest to be held in this city May 6. The tryouts for those who will represent Pendleton high school will be held in assembly April 15. Pendleton was successful in winning this contest last year and with the amount of material in the school they should turn out some excellent orators. Miss Elizabeth Severance, head of the English Department is in charge.

Seniors Win Championship—The senior indoor baseball team had evening won the inter-class indoor baseball championship by defeating the juniors. The seniors had lost but one game and by defeating the juniors won the championship. The second game played last evening was between the rooks and sophomores in which the rooks took the defeat. The girls of the classes will begin their games sometime this week. Coach Richard E. Hanley has refereed the games. Most of the men who played in the inter-class games will turn out for either track or baseball as Pendleton plans to have teams in both the spring sports.

Sir Leonard explained that for a long time the only drug known to be of value in leprosy was chaulmoogra oil, which is obtained from the seed of a tree that grows in the wild in India. But this oil was so nauseating that it was impossible to administer it in doses large enough to be effective.

"The first step in advance" said he, "was made by Dr. Heber, the American doctor in the Philippine Islands, who injected the oil intra-muscularly, and obtained an apparent cure in 11 per cent of his cases as the result of a prolonged course of painful injections.

"It was at this point that I took up the work in 1915. I obtained a soluble sodium salt of the unsaturated fatty acids which form the bulk of the oil, and I found that I could inject this underneath the skin or into the veins safely, causing less pain, and with greater effect on the disease. Reactions occurred with the leprosy bacilli in the tissues, which has never been done before.

"Owing to the long incubation period of the disease it is not yet possible to say that any of the cases are permanently cured, but we now have real grounds for hoping that this may be so."
