Including Pendleton Prices and Associated Press Reports

No Demand Aside From Hogs Shown (From the Oregon Journal) Most of the arrivals of livestock at North Portland Thursday went direct to killers and most of the stock consisted of hogs from east of the Rockies. Swine continue steady to firm, cattle nominal and sheep slow. In the hog alleys there was a total run of 1225 head for Thursday, but only 423 head were available for the market. The remaining lot was a direct shipment from the Midwest to Swift & Co. and therefore did not enter the market. So few swine continue to be offered on the open market that demand is considered active and price generally firm. FRENCH LIVING HAS NOT SHOWN DECREASE

PARIS, March 18.—(A. P.)—The French householders are still paying more than four times the pre-war prices for the necessities of life, although there has been a big decline in the cost of living. The French government has made public figures comparing the living cost in France with those in the United States as given by Bradstreet's and for Great Britain, as given by the Statist. These show that the peak of the cost of living in all three countries was attained in April, 1920. Taking the prices of 1913 as normal, or 100 per cent, the prices of necessities in April last year are given as 387.5 per cent in France, 225.1 in the United States and 213.1 in Great Britain. According to the government figures these percentages had declined in December last to 424. per cent in France and 243.5 in Great Britain. The figure for the United States in November last was given as 147.9 per cent. The December figures were not given. Most of the French newspapers find the joy of the reduction in the cost of living temporary by knowledge that it is still more than four times higher than in 1913 and that it is accentuated by much unemployment.

MISSING LAD'S BICYCLE FOUND ON RIVER BANK

VANCOUVER, Wash., March 18.—The Columbia river below Vancouver will be dragged early Thursday morning in an effort to locate the body of an old Ray Stager, who is believed to have fallen into the water and drowned. The boy's bicycle, which he was riding at the time he left home, was found late Tuesday afternoon at the foot of the DuBois lumber dock. The bicycle, which was found by Albert Stager, elder brother of Ray, was said to be in perfect condition, except for the fact that the seat was slightly bent, indicating that the boy had pressed his weight against it while riding along the piling on the dock. The mother of the boy says that he had told her a few days before he disappeared from home that he would have to get some lumber from the DuBois mill to build a rose trellis for her, and she believes that he was on this errand when he met his death. The boy had been missing from here since the afternoon of March 4, and, although a thorough search was made, no trace of him was found until Wednesday.
