LECTURE INTERESTS

Medieval literature, which has formed the topic for study in the Delphian Club during the year, was summarized yesterday afternoon in a very interesting lecture by Professor L. W. Sawtelle, of the Whitman College faculty, who spoke in the county library club room under the auspices of the club.

Professor Sawtelle chose as his topic "King Arthur in History and Legend," and besides discussing the literature in general, gave illustrative readings of the early Anglo-Saxon period. Supplementing the lecture were delightful vocal numbers by Mrs. Lyman Rice, with piano accompaniment by Miss Pauline Rice, and Mrs. Benjamin L. Burroughs, with Miss Gates at the piano.

Through the courtesy of the club, members of the Federated Clubs at Pendleton and members of the Women's Christian Temperance Union were guests for the lecture and the social hour which followed. During the serving of refreshments, Mrs. C. F. Bishop, of Salem, a visitor in the city and Mrs. E. B. Aldrich presided at a tea table centered by golden daffodils and feathery ferns. Assisting in serving were Mrs. Laura D. Nash, Mrs. H. D. Sayres, Mrs. J. T. Richardson, Mrs. S. A. Newberry, Mrs. Jennie McElstern, Mrs. Lyman Rice and Mrs. L. M. Spaulding.

WOMAN ACCUSED OF

HARBORING ESCAPED CONVICT IS SET FREE

PORTLAND, Or., March 23.—If no court warrant is issued for the rearrest of a man who has escaped from prison it is not a crime for his friends to harbor and conceal him. So ruled Federal Judge Bean on Monday in dismissing the charges against Mrs. May Taylor who was charged with harboring James Watson, an escapee from McNelis island.

Had Tom Word, agent of the department of justice, been armed with a search warrant or a warrant of arrest when he went after Watson and found him, then Mrs. Taylor could have been held under the law, the court said.

Judge Bean said that the commitment which accompanied Watson to McNelis island when he was first confined there could not be construed as a warrant or process of arrest.

Watson was sentenced to three years in the federal prison for white slavery. He escaped from the prison after serving about nine months. He was arrested near Bertha station by Word, where he is said to have been living with Mrs. Taylor. Watson has been returned to prison.

HARDING HOLD CONFERENCE

WASHINGTON, March 23.—Newspaper Clapper, U. P. Staff Correspondent.—The President expressed his sympathy toward the disarmament proposals during a conference with the committee of the society of friends of Philadelphia. The president, however, made no specific suggestion, but was emphatic in his belief that no disarmament move should be agreed to which would leave the United States navy at a disadvantage.

OUTSTANDING FEATURES OF CO-OPERATING PLAN IS POOLING OF GRAIN

Committee is Holding State Meeting; Preparatory to Ratification Conference.

CHICAGO, March 23.—(A. P.)—Pooling of farmers' grain, either on a national or local scale, constitutes the outstanding feature of the national co-operating marketing plan proposed by the committee of seventeen, Chairman C. H. Gustafson said here today, explaining its details.

The committee, whose full name is the Farmers' Grain Marketing Committee of seventeen, is holding state meetings this month preparatory to a ratification conference in Chicago April 6. The committee represents cooperative organizations of farmers interested in grain marketing, prominent among them the American Farm Bureau Federation.

As an alternate to the pooling plan, farmers may sell direct.

"The national pooling plan calls for pooling grain with a central agency, selling by grade and then distributing the profits equally to each contributor to the pool," Mr. Gustafson said.

"It would operate to give each producer the average price for grains of a certain grade which he contributed to the pool. It would insure the producer the average price for the year. Pooling products in this manner has reached its highest development among the California cooperative organizations.

"Products so pooled pass out of the control of the individual producer and the grain will be sold by the directors of the pool at the time that they deem most opportune.

"Provision is also made for a local pool by members of a single community. In both local and national pools the control is centralized and the selling price averaged.

"The direct sale plan allows farmers who so desire to bring their grain to the cooperative elevators and sell on the current market quotations as is done at the present time at privately owned elevators. Further, they can avail themselves of the warehousing facilities of the cooperative elevators and terminals and not sell until weeks or months later. Producers who dispose of their grain in this manner share equally in the profits of the warehousing facilities. Export cooperation and other national cooperative departments on the basis of the number of bushels which they deliver to the elevators.

"For those farmers who do not wish to enter a pool or to sell direct, there is another avenue of reaching the markets. One farmer or several farmers who have sufficient grain to make up one or more carloads, may consign grain by the carload through the cooperative elevator to cooperative marketing agencies to be located at the different terminal markets, such as Chicago and Minneapolis. The grain would then be sold at market price upon arrival. By handling his grain in this manner the farmer will pay only the actual overhead cost of marketing it.

"Altogether, we believe the new plan is sufficiently broad to allow the producer to use his own judgment and market his products in the way that he considers best, while, at the same time, he has the benefit of a complete national marketing machine that has no purpose or excuse for existence but to protect his interests and return a larger per cent of the market value to him without infringing upon the rights of his consumer customers. On these three alternatives the method of marketing which proves a most satisfactory and more nearly returns a price that will make farming profitable, will be the marketing method that will develop and increase in popularity.

"This plan, in fact, we believe but the next orderly step in cooperation that the farmers have already

LIGGETT MAY BE MADE LIEUTENANT-GENERAL

WASHINGTON, March 23.—(A. P.)—Another effort probably will be made to obtain promotion to the rank of lieutenant general for Major General Hunter Liggett, who retired from active service yesterday after having served as wartime commander of the First Army corps and later of the first army.

Secretary Weeks said today he was very favorably inclined toward rewarding General Liggett for his distinguished war service.

POLISH STATESMEN ARE TRYING TO FIND WAY TO BUILD UP A FLEET

WARSAW, March 23.—(A. P.)—Polish statesmen are trying to find a way to build up a fleet of merchant vessels to ply the seven seas. Pushed back from the salt water when Poland lost her independence and was partitioned by Prussia, Russia and Austria, the new republic, by the treaty of Versailles, was granted an outlet to the Baltic.

The Polish government is aiding the private concerns to finance the operation of several vessels plying chiefly between English, French and Holland ports. Other firms are extending the service to America.

Poland's ministry of war has just purchased four monitors as the foundation of the Vistula fleet. Six torpedo boats, assigned to Poland by the council of ambassadors, formerly having been a part of Germany's naval forces, are now undergoing repairs in England.

A navy bureau of the ministry of trade and industry has been formed by the Polish government and a naval school has been established at Tcheb, or Toszew (Polish spelling) on the Vistula just outside the limits of the free city of Danzig. The course of the academy is to be conducted along lines of modern English naval schools, an English naval mission having spent some time in Poland assisting the new government in inaugurating its program.

Humors Come to the Surface in the spring as in no other season. They don't run themselves all off that way, however, but mostly remain in the system. Hood's Sarsaparilla removes them, wards off danger, makes good health sure.
