Small Premiums in Hog Division

While there were 17 loads of live stock reported in the North Portland alleys Thursday, at least 10 of these went direct to killers, therefore, did not enter the market.

While the entire hog market was steady to strong, limited sales of live in stuff were made at $12.50, a premium of 25c, while for feeder pigs a small amount of trade was shown at $12.25 or 25 to 30c above former figures.

Wheat Prices Show Advance

CHICAGO, March 25.—(A. P.)—Unexpected revival of spot demand brought higher wheat prices Thursday. The market closed unsettled at 1-4 to 2-8 net advance, with March 1.53 and May 1.41 1/2 to 1.42. Corn gained 1-8 to 1-4 and oats 1-8 to 3-8@1-2. In provisions the outcome varied from 10c decline to a rise of 5c.

At first the wheat market was depressed chiefly as a result of revolutionary outbreaks in Germany. Besides wage reductions in the United States were construed as a bearish factor and there was a continuance of crop advice that tended to weaken values. On the decline persistent buying set in under the leadership of houses with seaboard connections and it was said an order was out to purchase as much as 2,000,000 bushels for Europe, including Germany. Goosip was current that flour sales to central Europe had totaled 50,000 barrels. Price upturns which followed, however, fasted to hold at the top level.

Corn and oats were swayed by wheat, but advice were somewhat checked by reports that a large corn products manufacturing establishment would close.

Provisions averaged lower, including more or less by packers selling.

Flowers are Placed on Grave of Unknown War Hero of France

Little Shop Girls Bring Small Bunches of Violets While Others Bring Great Wreaths.

PARIS, March 25.—(A. P.)—Flowers are brought by an unceasing pilgrimage of mourners and placed on the slab that marks the grave of the unidentified French soldier under the great arch of Triumph that dominates the western part of the city.

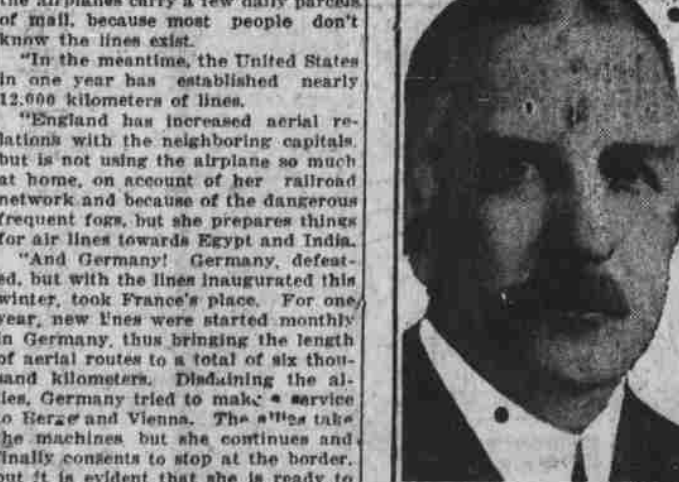

The pile of flowers and wreaths is fed with fresh contributions from early morning until late at night. There seems no end to the little ceremonies by organizations held at the grave to honor the war dead. Little shop girls bring small bunches of violets that cost a few centimes; statesmen passing through Paris place their great wreaths as tributes from their countries.

Since November 11, 1920, when the unknown soldier was placed under the arch, there has always been a group or crowd of mourners at the shrine of the dead. There has always been a huge pile of flowers. On Sundays, thousands stream there from the 12 avenues that converge at the Etoile, as the circular open space surrounding the arch is called and there is a procession of people with bare heads passing by the mound of flowers.

Many teachers bring their classes and there is a movement afoot to arrange that in each of the public schools of Paris a small contribution shall be collected on a separate day in each school to buy flowers to be placed on the slab by a delegation of honor pupils, so that there may be such a tribute of the children of France to the war dead every day of the year.

The appetite of rodents for pine and fir tree seed has often been commented upon, forcefully and unfavorably, by those attempting to replant burned or logged areas. But J. V. FROZEN The expression "Frozen," which is used so much by stock exchange dealers, means the tying-up of merchandise, making it "unyielding." The merchandise is there, but it is not any good to the consumer and is unprofitable to the manufacturer or jobber. Money kept out of circulation and not made good use of may just as properly be called "Frozen." Surplus funds, invested in a Certificate of Deposit, issued by this strong bank, makes the money immediately liquid and highly useful in the community. The American National Bank issues such certificates every day for any amount so desired.
