UNSUCCESSFUL ATTEMPT AT HOLD UP IS MADE
(East-Oregonian Special.)
ECHO, March 28.—Highway men made an unsuccessful attempt to hold up Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Neely, Friday evening as they were coming home from Pendleton. As they approached the end of the pavement this side of the state hospital two men stepped into the road and ordered Neely to stop his car. He started to slow down but seeing the men were masked and carried guns he stepped on the gas in an attempt to get away. As he dashed past them they shot twice at close range but these only made him go faster. Neely made it to Rialto in record time where he reported the attempt to the authorities. The men were well dressed, wearing white collars. They each carried a gun and flash light.

One of them made an attempt to catch the car as it passed, but failed. Echo's baseball team gave a dance Friday evening in the Echo city hall. The proceeds go for further improvement of the ball grounds.

Miss Veda Wattenburger entertained her Sunday school class, "The Sunshine Chorus," with an Easter party at her home in Westlawn Friday afternoon, from 3 to 6. After a business meeting, at which Gertrude Bowman was elected president of the class and Lucille George, class secretary and treasurer, the afternoon was spent in playing games and singing songs. Refreshments were served at about 6:30, after which the little folks departed for their homes. Besides the hostess those who were present were: Lucille

ANOTHER WOMAN ESCAPES
Mrs. McCumber Avoided a Serious Operation by Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in Time
Georgetown, Ill.—"After my first baby was born I suffered so with my left side that I could not walk across the floor unless I was all humped over, holding my left side. I consulted with several doctors but found no relief and they said I would have to have an operation. My mother insisted on my taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I soon found relief. Now I can do all my own work and it is the Vegetable Compound that has saved me from an operation. I cannot praise your medicine too highly and I tell all of my friends and neighbors what the Compound did for me."
— Mrs. MARGARET McCUMBER, 7 S. Frazier St., Georgetown, Illinois.
Mrs. McCumber is one of the unnumbered thousands of housewives who struggle to keep about their daily tasks, while suffering from ailments peculiar to women with backache, sideaches, headaches, bearing-down pains and nervousness, and if every such woman should profit by her experience and give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial they would get well.

Echo's baseball diamond has been completely worked over and leveled during the last week in preparation for the coming games of the season. The grandstand that blew down during the winter has been reconstructed with a seating capacity of approximately 300 fans. The expenses of all the work were defrayed from the fireman's fund.

ARCADIA SUNDAY AND MONDAY PEARL WHITE COMING IN BIG FOX FILM
Pearl White, "the marvel of the screen," is coming to the Arcadia Theatre Sunday, being presented by William Fox in a special production, "The White Moll," a stirring story of life in New York's underworld. This is her first big production—she having heretofore devoted her screen work to serials.

The story was written by Frank L. Packard, author of "The Miracle Man," and the scenario is by E. Lloyd Sheldon. It deals with Rhoda, a girl crook of the slums, who, having seen the light in a startling miracle performed in St. Agnes' Church—where her father is killed trying to rob the poor box—determines to reform and labor to aid those in the underworld. As a settlement worker she becomes

BE PREPARED
For three generations mothers have successfully used Foley's Honey and Tar as a safe remedy for the relief of cold, cough, croup and whooping cough. It is pure, wholesome, and children like it. Contains no opiates. Especially good for croup and whooping cough—the two terrors of childhood.

Mrs. W. E. Thurston, Little Rock, Ark., writes this: "My little boy had a severe attack of croup, but two doses of Foley's Honey and Tar relieved him, and he went back to sleep and was troubled no more. I would not be without it at any price."

known by the crooks and gangsters as "The White Moll."

Her work has started to bear fruit. "The Sparrow," a notorious safe burglar who has served a long term in prison, is released. When "The Dangler," leader of the gang, tempts the released convict to return to his unlawful trade, "The White Moll," who has been caring for his aged mother, steps in and wins the Sparrow's promise to go straight. But she incurs the enmity of the Dangler, who determines to "frame" the Sparrow. Then begins a series of thrilling experiences which it is said make the picture one of the most fascinating and heart-appalling ever screened.

The story, written in Mr. Packard's inimitable style, carries an appeal even stronger than his famous tale, "The Miracle Man." Supporting Miss White are Richard C. Travers, who plays the dual role of "The Pug" and "The Adventurer"; Walter Lewis, J. Thornton Boston, Eva Gordon, William Harvey, George Pauncefoot, Charles J. Slatery, John P. Wade and John Woodford.

ALTA SUNDAY AND MONDAY PINERO STAGE PLAY
NEXT MINTER PICTURE
In the famous role of down-at-the-heels, sunny-hearted Richard Phenyl, friend to every one but himself, Theodore Roberts has exceptional opportunities in "Sweet Lavender," the Mary Miles Minter picture coming at the Alta for two days beginning Sunday.

"Sweet Lavender," in film form, was adapted by Beulah Marie Dix from the Pinero stage success, declared by many critics to be the most humanity appealing play ever written. The part of Phenyl has long been known as a classic of character interpretations and it is wonderfully done by the capable Roberts, considered one of filmdom's greatest character men.

As "Lavender," Miss Minter is given fresh opportunities to demonstrate her versatility. There is plenty of humor in the part of the girl who helps her foster mother in the conduct of a big college boarding house. With Clem Hale she has a beautiful romance, almost wrecked when Clem's stepfather forbids the match. It can be imagined what happens when the stern father finds that the girl he feels is "beneath" his stepson is really his own daughter.

Harold Goodwin, often seen with Vivian Martin, Mary Pickford and Lila Lee in leading roles, has the role of the impetuous young college boy who falls in love with the landlady's daughter. Milton Sills, Sylvia Ashton, Theodore Roberts, J. M. Dumont, Barba Fatteson and Jane Keckley are in the cast.
