MANY POTATOES ARE SHIPPED FROM WESTON

(East Oregonian Special.) WESTON, April 7.—The ladies of the Saturday Afternoon Club held a pie social last Saturday evening in Memorial Hall. Pie and coffee were served. The money raised will be turned over to the park fund.

Mrs. Frank Smith, whose husband is employed in a grain agency in Walla Walla, was a week-end visitor at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ivan O'Hara.

J. G. Gerking and family were visiting the latter part of last week with Mr. Gerking's sister, Mrs. Etta Gerking and Mrs. P. T. Harbour. Mr. Gerking has been farming in the dry belt of southern Idaho. Lately he traded his Idaho holdings for a fruit farm near Ashland, Ore., to which place they are now moving.

Beth Hyatt and Henry Thompson, prominent stock men of the Umatilla river hills were seen in our city last Saturday.

Quite a number of carloads of Weston Mountain potatoes are being shipped from here these days. Part of the potatoes that were contracted last fall are going out at what would be considered now as a fancy price, and those that are being sold now are bringing a much better price than the indications a month ago looked like they would get.

Considerable wheat is being sold around Weston these days. While not much is being said about it, quite a number of the farmers have become discouraged of getting a better price and are letting loose of their holdings at the present reduced figure.
