Take Their Game Along

Shortly after this picture was taken, at Dunmow, England, fashionable hunters, shown in the background, were off on a merry chase. A stag is taken to the hunting grounds in the ox cart and turned loose. Then a whistle is blown and the hunt is on.

CHEERFUL SERVICE

This is the path to glory, this is the road to fame.
Clean hands after the toll of day and a record free from shame.
For he who comes home in honor is building a worthy name.

And whether the task be mighty that unto man's lot shall fall,
Or one of the humbler duties, or the prize be great or small,
In the court where all men are tested, shall matter not at all.

The great and the low must answer at last when life's sands are run,
Not by the gold they gathered and not by the laurels won,
For the road to eternal glory is only by work well done.

And those whom the world will honor, must face it with heads erect,
Must spurn all the crooked byways and keep to the path direct,
For cheerful and manly service is the way to the world's respect.

THE PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

IN HIS message yesterday President Harding took the extreme irreconcilable stand regarding the treaty and league issues. He says the League of Nations can have "no sanction by us."

Men like Hiram Johnson and Senator Borah take no exception to this attitude. But where does it leave the pro league republicans?

One of the most important steps in the campaign last fall was a statement issued on October 14 and signed by 41 distinguished men, including Charles E. Hughes, Herbert Hoover, Elihu Root, Lyman Abbott, Nicholas Murray Butler, President Lowell of Harvard, George W. Wickersham, Oscar S. Straus and others.

"The question accordingly is not between a league and no league, but is whether certain provisions in the proposed league agreement shall be accepted unchanged or shall be changed."

"The conditions of Europe make it essential that the stabilizing effect of the treaty already made between the European powers shall not be lost by them and that the necessary changes be made by changing the terms of the treaty rather than by beginning entirely anew."

"That course Mr. Harding is willing to follow."

It is now plain, however, that President Harding is not willing to "follow" the lines they indicated. It is apparent he is not only entirely against the league covenant in any form but is seemingly opposed to the treaty of Versailles even if the covenant is expunged.

The business angle, however, is a horse of another color. It is freely said that the chaos in Europe resulting from uncertainty over the peace treaty is the cause of our business depression and the tremendous drop in farm products with attendant disaster for the railroads and other industries.

Germany wants to be on good terms and easy terms.—Washington Post.

The fun will start when somebody undertakes to reform the women.—Columbia (S. C.)—Herald.

A man will trust his wife with the care of his children, but not with the care of his prize chickens.—Chicago News.

Our grandchildren will have reason to wish that wars had been run on a cash basis.—Baltimore Sun.

The beer ruling has its appealing side, even to temperance folk. The people are drinking too much whiskey.—Syracuse Post-Standard.

Love may be bling, yet a girl can see more in the man of her choice than a physician can with the aid of an X-ray machine.—Chicago News.

About all that Harding has to do is to satisfy the farmers, the labor unions, the business men and a few other classes.—Los Angeles Times.

THE BOOK SHELF

New Books on Foreign Countries at the County Library.

Bullard—Russian penitence: autocracy—democracy—bolshevism.

Mr. Bullard begins his book with a few chapters about the chaos following the fall of the Diaz regime. Mexico's new constitution and her international relations and attitude toward foreign capital are reviewed, and the financial, agrarian and educational problems which face her government are dealt with at length. The work is of timely interest as an up-to-date study of Mexican affairs.

Trowbridge—Mexico today and tomorrow.

This is a comprehensive statement of the general situation in Mexico—political, social, financial and economic—with ancient Mexico and the Spanish conquest as the background. The events leading up to the recent revolution, and the social and economic troubles following the political upheaval are clearly set forth. A graphic picture is painted of life in Mexico during the chaos following the fall of the Diaz regime. Mexico's new constitution and her international relations and attitude toward foreign capital are reviewed, and the financial, agrarian and educational problems which face her government are dealt with at length. The work is of timely interest as an up-to-date study of Mexican affairs.

Leving—Resurrected nations.
Ramirez—Russia in 1919.
Sveet—History of Latin America.

BIG BROTHER BANQUET IS WELL ATTENDED

(East Oregonian Special.)

PILOT ROCK, April 12.—Miss Cooper, the Pilot Rock Commercial Association was well attended, about eighty men and boys being seated at the tables. The banquet consisted of a chicken dinner served by members of the Womans Community Club.

A splendid program followed the short business meeting. Judge Lowell and Rev. George L. Clark of Pendleton were the speakers of the evening. The high school boys' quartette and Albrecht orchestra entertained with music and singing.

A little daughter was born Sunday April 10 to Mr. and Mrs. B. W. Hubbarts at St. Anthony's hospital in Pendleton.

A farewell reception was given Friday evening in the I. O. O. F. hall in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Stuart who expect to leave soon to make their home in Pendleton. The affair was given by members of the Odd Fellows and Rebekah lodges. Mrs. Stuart and son Delwin will spend the summer in Walla Walla.

Archie Bond was out from Pendleton Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Jensen and son Norman and Mr. and Mrs. Guy Lockwell were dinner guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Gunderian Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Hill left Monday for their mountain homestead.

Friday, April 15 at the high school auditorium will be presented "Back to the Farm", a play in three acts. Specially, "Tramp Monologue" by George Jordan.

Song and Pantomime, "Around the Gypsy Camp Fire."

Specially, High School Quartette, Old Southern Melodies.

Nothing further need be said of the class of plays and the high class manner in which they are presented. Every play has made a big hit. This one will be the best of all. That is going some. The high school male quartette will appear in their best color—black. Dean Straub, of the University of Oregon, says of the high school quartette: "There is none better at the University."

"Around the Gypsy Camp Fire," illustrates the picturesque, care free life in the open which everyone envies the Gypsy. In this type of specialty Mrs. Russell is most proficient. This will be something new and the best on the programme.

Charles Merrill, a farmer of the old school—Homer Landers.

Merton Merrill, his son—Albert Pollock.

Mrs. Merrill, the farmer's thrifty wife—Hazel Warner.

Mr. Ashby, a lawyer and real estate agent—Beryl Smith.

Robert Powell, a senior in law—Paul Braucher.

Margerie Langdon, a promising society debutant—Ruth Fletcher.

Hilda, the maid—Gladys Hutchinson.

G. M. OF F. & A. M. WILL LAY CORNERSTONE

SEATTLE, April 12.—(A. P.)—James H. Beas, grand master of the grand lodge, F. & A. M., of Washington, will preside at the Masonic ceremonies to be conducted at the laying of the cornerstone of the $150,000 armory at Walla Walla, April 15. It was announced today by Brigadier General Maurice Thompson, adjutant general of the Washington national guard, Captain Ralph A. Horst, state organization officer, will deliver the principal address. General Thompson will also speak.

Slow, but Safe!

You don't travel very fast on the back of a tortoise, as little Andrew Gold, this New York youngster, will testify, but the riding is safe. "Buster," the Galapagos land turtle he is riding, belongs to the Bronx zoo and is three centuries old.

28 YEARS AGO

(From the East Oregonian, April 13, 1893.)

Hank Vaughn has returned here from Portland.

Pendleton is entertaining the veterans of the Civil War at the State G. A. R. Encampment. About 200 visitors are here.

Several inches of fresh snow fell Wednesday in "Caman Prairie" and four inches in the Mountain valley.

E. H. McElroy, state superintendent of public instruction, visited the Pendleton schools today. He is well pleased with the schools.

Donations to funds for the M. E. church are growing rapidly.

Dr. M. Stiles is here from Weston.

SEALS HAVE WON EIGHT.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 12.—(A. P.)—San Francisco won its eighth straight victory yesterday, defeating Oakland, 12 to 5, in a loosely played game. The Seals knocked Arlett out of the box in the first inning, two doubles and Kamm's home run giving a four-run lead that the Oaks never able to overcome. Five more tallies were made by the Seals in the fourth on two hits and three walks. Miller of Oakland knocked a home run over the centerfield fence in the ninth inning.
