"QUEER BIRDS" TOO

NEW YORK, April 14.—(A. P.)—An elderly man in tattered cap and suit sat motionless under a tree at 257th street and Broadway when a mounted patrolman, informed that a queer stranger had been sleeping there three days, approached.

"I'm interested in birds," the old man said. "Particularly in the domestic affairs of the pair of robins above us." I have enjoyed their acquaintance three seasons.

He launched into a story of a row that was being waged in the nest, the result, he said, of the laying there of a cockoo's egg.

"The male bird wanted to throw it out, but the female chirped 'No' and has hatched it. I am waiting to see what will happen next. Queer things, birds."

"Yes," said the patrolman, "and the folk hereabouts think you're somewhat of a queer bird too."

"How very extraordinary," replied he of the tattered clothing. "Here's my card."

The patrolman read "Professor Malcolm Ogilvie, New York Ornithological Society,"—and rode on.
