THE MAN YOU'LL MISS

Old Man Green will be missed round here,
 For he was the sort of man you miss—
 The quiet kind that some think queer,
 Like the trees and plants and the vines that creep,
 Which you walk by all of the summer long
 An scarcely notice, so still they keep,
 But if one should die you'd know something's wrong.

Well, Old Man Green for a stretch of years
 Has lived round here, like a friendly tree—
 Just a part of the landscape, it appears,
 That day by day we should wake to see;
 Round him the youngsters loved to play
 An' with him the old folks sat to rest.

Old Man Green is dead an' gone
 An' the old town doesn't seem quite the same.
 There's a great soul lost, though it wasn't one
 Known to fortune or worldly fame;
 Just a kindly voice an' a cheery smile,
 Which are needed so in a place like this.
 Made every hour of his life worth while—
 An' that is the way of men you miss.

HOW ONE CONCERN DOES IT

IN connection with the campaign for a stronger "buy at home" policy, a valuable lesson may be learned from the experience of the Golden West creamery. When the local creamery was taken over by the present owners some years ago it was making 3000 pounds of butter a month. It is now making from 15,000 to 17,000 pounds and selling it.

There was a time when it was hard to sell Pendleton butter in Pendleton. It is now hard to sell any other kind of butter. This is due chiefly to the fact the creamery company has established a reputation of turning out a product of superior merit. There a certain number who buy this butter because it is made in Pendleton but most people buy it because it cannot be surpassed in quality and is seldom equalled.

When business is conducted on that basis it has a foundation that cannot be questioned. People like to buy home products and will usually do so when other things are equal. They should be shown they can do this without sacrifice and on the contrary, with direct personal gain to themselves.

Much money goes away that has no license to travel. It could do better right here at home. There are people who have bought dry goods in Portland or elsewhere when they could buy the same goods in Pendleton at the same price or cheaper. The same is true of furniture and of articles in other lines. There are cases galore on record where people have actually penalized themselves by sending their money away. Better values were right at their door and they did not know it.

As a matter of common sense people should study these things and find out what they are doing before they turn the home man down. This is a time when such a policy is especially to be commended because it is essential under present conditions that the resources of the community be conserved in every possible way. It is time to stop the leaks and one big way to do this is to buy nothing outside the city or the county until you have given your local people a chance. When money is spent at home it goes into the local banks and may be used to keep the wheels of business and industry turning. Money sent away is lost to us and we all suffer.

The "Buy at home" campaign is a good thing but it can be most successfully conducted by emphasizing the merits of what we have to sell. It is poor psychology to let the purchaser think he is doing you a favor by buying home products. The average man does not like to make a sacrifice for the good of someone else. Show him that on a straight merit basis you can meet outside competition. In nine cases out of ten that very showing can be made and when the point is proved you not only secure the business but you are in a position to hold it permanently. You change from pursuer to pursued.

It is now predicted another cut will be made in the milk price in Portland so that grocers may sell at 10 cents a quart. Old H. C. L. is slowly but surely shrinking.

The senate seems to want a fight over a treaty as a regular diversion so we can look for much fireworks over the Colombia settlement.

Here's hoping that storm will keep east of the Rockies; out here in God's country it is springtime.

ATTENTION TO CAR IN SUMMER MONTHS WILL SAVE OWNERS LOSSES

Radiator and Its Work of Much Importance During Hot Time of the Year; Oil Often.

"During the hot weather months attention should be frequently given to the radiator; at least, the owner should see that it is kept filled, and at intervals it should be flushed out and filled with clean water. In connection with efficient operation of the cooling system, fan belt adjustment should be made for the fan is needed every 1000 miles. Better performance will result when this is done. Careful attention should be directed to the brakes to see that they are kept in as nearly perfect condition as possible, for during the summer they get greater usage, with more traffic to contend with and more cars on the road.

"Tire pressure should be watched more closely on tires that have been in use for a long period because tires expand more in hot weather. The owner should have a tire gauge and use it in inflating. In taking long trips the owner should be provided with a good spare tire, and should go over all the tires during the trip to see that they have no defects. "Every owner wants to have his car in the best possible condition during the summer months, for it is then that he uses his automobile most. To get this maximum efficiency, he must exercise greater care in going over the car."

THE FUNNYBONE

In Mississippi a law is that a man cannot register who cannot read the constitution. An exception is: If a man cannot read, the registration officer may read to him a section of the state constitution, and if he can explain its meaning to the satisfaction of the official he may be registered. It will be observed that the official has the power of decision, and of course a white man's explanation is accepted, while a negro's is rejected. It is a very simple and effective method. But once, just once, a negro got by. He had gone in to register, and as a matter of form the official read from the constitution the provision I have just quoted. "Explain that," said he to the negro. "What does it mean?" "Dat means," answered the colored man, "dat a nigger can't vote in Mississippi." The official was so keen that the official came through like a good sport and registered the negro.—W. Y. Morgan, in Hutchinson News.

FAKED SUICIDE DOES NOT WIN SYMPATHY

ASTORIA, April 16.—(U. P.)—Instead of winning the anticipated sympathy from his spouse, Elean J. Davis, who faked suicide, was made the target of divorce proceedings, according to a complaint filed by Mrs. Davis. The statement recites that Davis seized a revolver, rushed from his home into the night and fired the shot into the air and fell on the grass as if dead.

A Series of Human Interest Talks on Insurance

YOUR SON

Ten years from now your fifteen-year-old son will be in business. He will run into the same times of stress that befall all business men. You would like to be able to help him at such times, wouldn't you?

You can. You can take out life insurance for him now and pay the premiums until he can handle them himself. Insurance at fifteen is inexpensive. The rate does not increase. You can establish a wonderful "working capital" for your son's business life at a very small cost if you do it now. Think it over and talk with D. B. SNYDER
