Days' celebration at Prescott, Ariz., in the summer were filmed by William Fox cameramen and the most spectacular scenes carefully culled for use in "The Texan," the latest Tom Mix starring picture, booked for the Arcade Theatre today. Mix himself is said to perform some brand-new stunts in this production.

DIRECTOR OF DEFUNCT BANK WILL SURRENDER

SAN FRANCISCO, April 20.—Jafet Lindberg, former director of the defunct Scandinavian American bank of Tacoma, will surrender to the authorities as soon as his extradition papers arrive from Sacramento, his attorney, Maxwell McNutt, said. The papers are now en route. Lindberg is charged with embezzlement of the bank's funds. His attorneys will take the fight into the courts on habeas corpus.

GIANT AIRSHIP WILL COMBINE SPEED AND TRAVEL COMFORT

Will Carry Passengers From London to Malta and Egypt; Ready for Trial Trip.

LONDON, April 20.—(Charles McCarroll, United Press Staff Correspondent.)—England's first passenger dirigible, the G. F. A. F., has been completed and is ready for trial trips about England, preparatory to carrying out demonstration commercial flights to Malta and Egypt this spring. Equipped with sleeping cabins and commodious passenger saloon, carpeted and upholstered in French blue, with white enamel woodwork and nickel fittings, the G. F. A. F. is an attractive innovation. Every effort has been made to insure comfort of passengers.

Meals will be served aboard. The cook's galley is lined with aluminum and fitted with oil stoves. In the sleeping cabin the berths are divided from one another by heavy curtains. During the daytime the beds can be folded away and the curtains drawn back. This will leave a fairly large space where travelers may take their meals from square tables. Construction started on the G. F. A. F. some time after her designs were completed three years ago by Admiralty experts. Originally the giant craft was named R36—but when her final specifications were changed from military to civil equipment, her name was changed.

Today the big airship represents a new departure in rigid type of construction. Her dimensions and constructional features are as follows: Length, 672 feet (longer than the R34 by 30 feet); maximum diameter, 78 ft., 9 in.; cubic capacity, 2,100,000 feet of hydrogen gas; normal lift, 83.8 tons; maximum speed, 65 miles an hour; normal cruising speed, 50 miles per hour; range, 4000 miles. Under ordinary circumstances the craft will carry a crew of 24 men and four officers. Full wireless equipment is carried and all the engine carrying cars are in telephonic communication with the control car. It is possible to walk from one part of the ship to any other.

Aeronautic experts are pointing out the airship has almost wholly eclipsed the aeroplane in the field of passenger traffic. Heretofore it has been impossible to start extensive experiments in airship passenger enterprises because of the colossal cost of the big dirigibles as compared to the relatively small outlay required for constructing aeroplanes. Advantages of airship travel are freedom from vibration, no noise, no smell of gasoline and the fact that passengers can eat, read, talk, write, smoke or sleep in peace on board.
