NEWS OF FARM AND RANGE

Equipment Is Bought
N. W. Mumford, one of the largest fruit men of the Walla Walla Valley purchased this week a Fordson tractor with Pierce governor for his large orchard just west of Freewater. With this new equipment Mr. Mumford expects to be able to do the work much more speedily and more thoroughly than in years gone by and is a step in the right direction of economy.

Frost Does Damage
The frost of last Friday night did considerable damage to the cherry crop along the State Line. Fruit men estimate that the entire crop of Tartarian cherries have been wiped out and the Bing, Lamberts and Black Republican, thinned materially. The frost confined its damage to that strip of land along the State Line that in years gone by has been hit before, and did not hit Fruitvale. No damage was done to the rest of the fruit however. The east side of the river which is sometimes hit by the frost was not touched and no damage was done around Freewater or in the Perdale or Sunnyside country. The express houses and the Fruit houses are beginning to ship out asparagus.

Range in Good Condition
The Umatilla National Forest range is in excellent condition, according to officials in the forest office here. The frequent rains and mild weather have been very favorable to the growth of grass and stockmen are rejoicing at the prospect of a plentiful and lasting supply.

Little Night Plowing
Because of wet weather, there has been very little night plowing done this year, says James Hill, Umatilla county wheat farmer. Last year, farmers ran tractors at night but this year the weather has not permitted the time saving. Never in Mr. Hill's opinion, has plowing advanced so rapidly as it has this season.

Alice Can Ride Horseback Now

ALICE JOYCE

Alice Joyce broke into the movies by riding a horse for Kalem. All the previous equestrian experience she had was when she was a little girl and her father held her in the saddle. But she stuck to the horse while the camera clicked and since then has stuck to the movies. She's still playing for Vitagraph.
