Just Folks by Edgar A. Guest

PURPOSE

I'll count my life worth while
If only they shall smile.
If they have hearts to sing,
I can bear anything.
If but the home I keep,
Is blest with gentle sleep,
Knows laughter and content,
I'll count my life well spent.
If in me they take pride,
I shall be satisfied.

Failure may launch her blow,
But steadfast I shall go.
This dread alone I fear—
That they may suffer here.
If they keep faith in me,
Undaunted I shall be.
If only they shall smile,
I'll count my life worth while.

HOW DID HAYWOOD GET AWAY?

WHY was Bill Haywood, I. W. W. leader and arch violator of the espionage law, allowed to escape?
This is a question every real American has a right to ask. Convicted of disloyalty to the government during war times—a crime that cannot be condoned with safety—this man has been allowed to get away on the very eve of the date he was to enter Leavenworth prison. A believer in direct action and violence he has gone to Russia where he will be able to give Lenin first hand information how best to undermine civilization in the United States. It is a fine state of affairs.

There are those who believe in leniency towards our so-called "political prisoners." But why should a man who has violated the war statutes of the nation be termed a political prisoner? Is he not our most dangerous form of criminal and the least deserving of soft treatment? Unquestionably they prolonged the war and were responsible for the death of many brave soldiers. Why put them on a pedestal now? What will be the American morale during the next war if a man like Haywood is allowed to make a monkey out of Uncle Sam and his secret service?

It may be said that Russia is welcome to Haywood and Haywood welcome to Russia. But that is beside the point. This man was convicted of a serious crime and the supreme court has confirmed the sentence. He should go to jail and it is an outrage he has gotten away.

During the last year of the Wilson administration congress had 57 varieties of committee investigating the methods by which this country waged the war and won it. Why not find out who let Haywood escape?

A BOY AND HIS DOG

THE faithfulness of the dog is proverbial. But there are times when a small boy who owns a dog is just as loyal to that dog as any canine could ever hope to be toward a human master. On the north side there is a young man of five or thereabouts who has a pup and he was informed when the Pendleton dog catcher began recent activities that the safety of the pet was in danger. The lad was told that if the dog ever got out of his sight he would be a goner. Accordingly the dog was shadowed day and night by his youthful owner. One day last week the dog aspired to crawl through a long culvert at the intersection of Wilson street and Perkins avenue. He made the trip but he had no sooner entered the culvert than the boy was close behind and he followed the pup through the culvert in fear the dog catcher might be lurking within. The funny part of the story is that the dog's license had been paid in the meantime but the small boy thought it best to take no chances in times like these.

WHILE ORANGES GO TO WASTE

IT is reported that in California oranges are allowed to rot on the ground because freight rates are so high oranges cannot be shipped and sold at figures within reach of the general consumer. One reason for this is that the railroads use expensive coal and oil for fuel, while good hydro electric power is allowed to go undeveloped. The west will never come into its own in an economic sense until it takes steps to make use of its matchless water power.

THIS VALE OF TAXES

DOWN in the Willamette valley they view every subject from the tax viewpoint as shown by the following from a death notice in the Oregon City Enterprise: "One of our staunch citizens born, reared and schooled in our midst paid his final assessment on this sphere of toil and silently left us for the great beyond on Saturday."

The Walla Walla Bulletin thinks it is the first newspaper in this field to use an airplane. But it is not. Some eight or 10 years ago the East Oregonian sent its regular edition to Athena by airplane and the papers were delivered there within a few minutes after press time.

A Salem paper grows sarcastic because prohibition agents have been raiding "with a brass band" down there; probably had to wake them up in order to find anyone.

If you have a room to spare list it for the summer normal students; they will be here for six weeks and must have places to live.

Anyway, it looks favorable for a big wheat crop and the habit of eating is strong with most people.

COLUMBIA APPLE CROP OUTLOOK IS FAVORABLE

(East Oregonian Special.)

COLUMBIA, April 22.—The last of the fruit blossoms of the winter apples are now out and fruit men are anxiously waiting the passing of the next week or ten days until the danger from frost is over. The snafu pots in the big orchards are placed in readiness in case of emergency and many farmers are closely watching their thermometers to be on guard. The outlook of the apple crop so far is good and hopes are entertained that this project will yield as large a crop of the fruit this year as that of 1919. Irrigating is under way and many farmers are seen daily galloping horses back from field to field yielding the shovel. The work of irrigating fields at some distance apart seems to be done very advantageously by this method.

Mrs. Will Rhodes who recently moved with her husband to the Blessing place is going into the chicken business in quite a large scale and is undertaking the work in rather a scientific way. She has a cement floor brooder house which is heated and lighted in such a manner that the baby chicks have perfect care and comfort. When one batch of chickens are large enough they are moved to another more commodious building to make room for more younger ones in the brooder. She has the full blooded strain of White Pouter Leghorns and is preparing to raise in the neighborhood of five hundred and by the methods she uses and the thorough care she takes of the chicks, it seems that she will be entirely successful.

The last of the Haddock alfalfa is being hauled to market, the balers having finished work recently.
Mrs. Will Leathers spent a few days of the past week in Pendleton, a guest of her mother Mrs. Whittaker.
Little Florence Udey is back in school having been absent several months on account of a broken arm.
Some of the Columbia farmers are experimenting in the raising of cranberries. Pete Norquist having planted a small tract to the berry. George Lopp has also put out a few plants. The sub-irrigated land according to those who have made it a study seems to be very desirable for the cranberry. The experiment is well worth trying at any rate is the opinion of Mr. Norquist and Mr. Lopp.
The Neighborhood Club will meet at the home of Mrs. Dan Parker Wednesday April 27.

CHILD EATS POISONED WHEAT, IS QUITE ILL

GURDANE, April 22.—Dorthea, the youngest child of A. D. Hileman was very sick the first of the week as a result of eating wheat treated with vitrol. After phoning to Dr. DeVaul who prescribed for her the child got relief and is much better.

Mrs. Roy Montgomery has been on the sick list but is better at present.
Mrs. Vern Cates is back at her school duties after several days illness. Doc Corley and wife came up last week and will work at the Ely saw mill this summer. Mrs. Corley will be remembered as Lucy Simonton. Mr. Ely will soon be sawing at the mill.
Miss Marie Mettelle gave a dinner Sunday to a few of her friends and Henry Lehman and Miss Agnes Mettelle of Ukiah who have been her guests for several days.

A hard rain fell in this vicinity last night, which will delay the farming for some time again.
Walter and Wilbur Jones of Pilot Rock are working on the road for A. D. Hileman.
Guy French and wife from Ridge made a trip to Pilot Rock Monday bringing home his mother who will spend the summer with them.

SEARCH IS BEGUN FOR MISSING AUTO TOURISTS

DENVER, April 22.—(U. P.)—A search was begun for three persons believed to be frozen to death in the mountains during last week's blizzard. They are Albert Stark and his wife, and his nephew, Henry Stark. They left Denver in an automobile April 13 for Dolores, Colo. and have been unheard from since.

The government has accepted a fireproof cover for the gasoline tanks of airplanes designed by aeronautical experts. The cover is not only fireproof but leak-proof and crash proof as well. It consists of a sheet of soft, tough rubber laid on high-grade cotton fabric.

THE FUNNYBONE

Some of our soldier boys are still in Germany. They're being kept there to receive the mail sent them during the war.

We understand we also have some soldiers in Siberia now and they can't be sent home because nobody in the War Department knows where Siberia is.

A Washington (where we were kept out of war) paragrapher predicts that if sugar keeps on declining in price, taking candy from a baby will not be considered a grand larceny.

"We are lost!" the captain shouted. As he staggered down the stair; "I thought it was a beverage. But 'twas tonic for the hair!"

Father—"And what is your reason for aspiring to my daughter?"
Young man—"I have no reason, I'm in love."

Gosh Sakes!
Of all the sad words
Of tongue or pen.
The saddest are these:
"Please lend me ten."
—Tooped Cent.

Shake Into our Shoes
Allen's Foot-Ease, the antiseptic powder to be shaken into the shoes and sprinkled in the footbed. The Plattsburg Army Manual advises men in training to use Foot-Ease in their shoes each morning. It prevents blisters and sore feet and relieves painful, swollen, smarting feet and takes the sting out of corns and bunions. Always use Allen's Foot-Ease to break in new shoes.

There are sadder words.
And they are plenty;
For instance, these:
"Please lend me twenty."
—Curley.

28 YEARS AGO

(From the Daily East Oregonian, April 22, 1893.)

E. E. Sharon leaves tomorrow for Huntington to pay a visit as grand chancellor, to the Knights of Pythias lodge.

J. L. Rand is here from Baker.
The board of regents of the Western Normal school has chosen to assist M. G. Royal president of the faculty; the following instructors: W. L. German, principal of Pendleton public school;

H. L. Talkington, principal of the Pendleton Academy; Frank Van Winkle, former principal of the Normal school, and Miss Hyde of Olympia. A six room brick building is to be built on property donated by J. E. Salting. There are 18 acres of the land.
