Club Will Aid
The Rotary Club will support the Commercial Association and other organizations in the effort to open up 12 or 14 miles of the Meacham road between Deadman's Hill and Kamela to traffic, according to a decision made at yesterday's weekly luncheon. George Hartman, mayor of the city, and Bob Simpson, spoke of the luncheon and urged that the stretch of road, now almost impassable because of mud, be opened. The luncheon was held, as usual, at the Elks' club.

Bridge Needs Repairs
That something must be done within a short time to add to the stability of the old Matlock bridge was the opinion put forward by members of the city council last night. About a year ago a bid was received from the Warren Construction Company in which the company offered to reinforce the present floor with a layer of concrete for $1,999. Suggestions for using bitulthie material for repairs was considered last night, but no action was taken. The weakness of the bridge dates from the time it was used by the construction company in hauling material over it in big trucks, council members said.

Bids to Be Opened
Bids for 12.2 miles of grading and broken stone surfacing on the Umatilla-Cold Springs highway, Cold Springs Holdman section, will be opened at a meeting of the State Highway Commission to be held in Portland May 26 and 27. The commission will open bids for the improvement and construction of roads in the state at an estimated cost of $600,000 and bridges involving aggregate expenditures of $270,000.

Dokkies Are Coming.
Pendleton will be the Mecca of Baker fezzes of the Knights of Khorassan Wednesday, May 4, when a big ceremonial will be put on by the La Grande team.

Starts New Business
W. G. Fisher, for 10 years in the transfer business in Pendleton, has announced that he will open a new and second-hand furniture business within the next few days. His store will occupy a part of the Gritman building on West Webb street. Mr. Fisher left today for Portland where he will purchase a part of his stock of goods. The store will be ready for business next week.

To Improve Natoratorium
The city natoratorium will receive a coat of paint, two new spring boards will be installed and a high dive added to the present equipment as a result of action taken by the city council last night when a report was submitted by Councilman Lawrence who heads the natoratorium committee. The work will be started soon in order to get the place in tip-top condition for the opening of the season. Funds sufficient to defray the expenses of the work are on hand, it is thought. The council also took action favoring the repainting of present traffic lines on the streets.

Officials To Visit.
W. G. Shallenberger, Right Eminent grand commander of the Grand Commandery, Eminent Sir Milton L. Meyers, grand captain, general inspector, Frank S. Baillie, past grand commander and Eminent Sir George Cochran, Sr., standard bearer, all officials of the Knights Templar, will be in Pendleton this evening to pay their official visit to Pendleton Commandery. Pendleton has three candidates, Max Hopper, James Bowler and J. W. Earle, for the Templar degree. The visitors will be honor guests at a banquet to be given tonight at 11 o'clock in the Masonic hall.

Charged With Car Theft
A complaint charging larceny has been filed in the court of Justice Joe H. Parkes in which Jack Clark, formerly of Milton, is the defendant. It is charged that Clark recently disappeared from Milton and the same time a Maxwell car was missed, the supposition is that he drove overland to his old home in Canada. The complaining witness is W. T. Dickerson. Clark had agreed to buy the car from Dickerson, it is said, the purchase price being set at $200 when some repair work was completed. The license plate of a Nash car was placed on the Maxwell. No trace of the man has been secured.

Street Festival Would Come
A representative of a street festival company now showing in Portland was before the city council last night, accompanied by A. W. Landell, director of the local band, seeking permission from the municipal body to put on a carnival here during the first week in June. It would be given under the auspices of the band, according to arrangements made by the musicians and the representative of the company, subject to permission from the council. The matter was referred to the police committee for a report at the next meeting. Sentiment of the council in remarks made last night indicated that the idea does not appeal to them.

Mrs. Van Deusen to Attend.
Mrs. Edith G. Van Deusen, home demonstration agent, will be in Corvallis during farmers' week, June 13-18, to hear Miss Florence E. Ward, a representative of the federal government, who will give a series of addresses. She is in charge of more than 250 county home demonstration agents and more than 50 home economics specialists in the 33 northern and western states. That the working day of a farm woman is 11.3 hours the year around, is brought out in a survey made by Miss Ward in the states under her supervision. In summer, she has found that the farm woman works 12.12 hours a day, and 87 out of every 100 women have no regular vacation during the entire year.

Score Is 7 to 8
By a score of 8 to 7, the team captained by Raphael Raymond won from the team captained by Laverne Pearson in the Boy Scout game yesterday afternoon at Round-Up park. The teams were made up of boys from Scout Troop 1, and star players from this troop will play a picked team from Troop 2 Friday 25 boy Scouts will hike to Tutuilla mission, a distance of six miles, and will spend the night there, returning after breakfast in the morning. Through the courtesy of the Pendleton Auto Co. and the Oregon Motor Garage, the blankets and other equipment will be taken to the mission in a machine, and will be brought back in the morning so that the boys can hike unencumbered.

Extend Luncheon Invitation

Incinerator Site
That the city might effect a saving by using the old pump station building to house an incinerator was a suggestion put forth by F. B. Hayes, city surveyor, last night when a discussion was being held about the proposed improvement. The use of the building would be a departure from the tentative plans, but a saving of about 3,000 could be effected, and large cities are installing incinerators near a central location in order to decrease hauling expenses. The council decided to apply a coat of bright red paint to the old Studebaker fire truck.
