PASTIME TODAY

The lure of the sea has nowhere been so pronounced an element in the making of a photoplay as it has been in the production of "Nobody's Girl" the special attraction which will be seen at the Pastime Theatre today with Lillian Rhodes as the star. The sea with its ever changing moods has always exerted an influence over writers and painters and this lure has been caught in a wonderful manner by the camera. It provides many of the finest bits of scenic background that have ever been seen in a motion picture.

From the time the picture opens with a raft drifting in toward the desolate shore of Devil's Island on the calm sea that follows a storm, until the final scene where Billie Rhodes and the aviator in his machine guide the government cutter to the hidden lair of the smugglers, the scenes change with a startling suddenness that leave spectators mesmerized with their beauty and variety. Much credit should be given to the cameraman who preserved the beauty of the scenes. "Nobody's Girl" is said to offer a real treat to those who love the sea and a beautiful love story, perfectly told.

ARCADE TODAY

"Godless Men" is one of the strangest and strongest pictures ever screened. It delves deeper than words can convey.

The expected way for a father to act who discovers his only daughter after long years of absence, is to take her in his arms in the joy of that discovery. Not so Russell Simpson, who plays "Black Pawl" in the Reginald Barker Production, "Godless Men."

"Black Pawl" loves his daughter Ruth (Helene Chadwick), but there is a knowledge in his soul which makes finding her a realization almost greater than he can bear. While his whole heart cries out to her "Daughter!" the father calls upon his God to keep him from claiming her.

In this restraining power is the life story of the man, which is portrayed in all its soul-rending sorrow in this unusual story of life on the high seas, at the Arcade Theatre today.

ALTA TODAY

"World's Apart" is the title of Eugene O'Brien's latest Selznick Picture which the Alta theatre will present as its principal photoplay attraction for today.

There are many reasons to believe that this production will provide a more than usually enjoyable evening's entertainment. The first and principal one is, of course, the star himself, and the announcement that in one series of scenes in this John Lynch story he appears as Master of the Hunt and leads a field of thoroughbreds over the famous Warrenton Course in Virginia, should be a source of keen anticipation to the many admirers of Eugene O'Brien.

The story of "World's Apart" deals with the bitter disillusionment of a young man who is only saved from becoming a bitter cynic through the chance meeting with another who has suffered more than he. They join forces and the union leads to the untangling of a mystery and ultimately great happiness.
