In Wheat Marketing Edition

The April number of the Umatilla County Farm Bureau News is a special wheat marketing edition and is devoted to news of the grain marketing plan as outlined by the National Farm Bureau Committee of Seventeen. The News is now being mailed to the farmers of the country.

Caught After Long Search

After eluding the sheriff's force of Union county for five months and slipping into Umatilla county, J. L. Shockey was located by the force of Sheriff Zoeth Houser. He was arrested Sunday night by Deputy Ridgway, who found the man working on a ranch on the reservation. He was held in jail here until last night when an officer from La Grande came for him. The charge against the wanted man is larceny by bailee, it being alleged that he sold a phonograph which was unpaid for and kept the proceeds.

Miss Nelson Leads

Because of an error made by the University of Oregon in averaging the grades of Umatilla county students the name of Miss Helen Nelson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Nelson of this city was omitted from the list. Miss Nelson, who carried a total of 18 hours and made an average of 2.4, leads the Umatilla county students, as her average is a fraction of a point above that made by Miss Helen Idleman, another local girl who made excellent grades at college and who was at first thought to have headed the list.

Another Game Tonight

The Episcopalians and the Methodist teams will meet in a game of baseball this evening at 6 o'clock at Round-Up park in a regular contest of the twilight league.

National Official Injured

J. Stevens, chief of the fire prevention bureau of the United States, is in a hospital at Fresno here he was recently severely injured in an accident. Word to this effect has been received here by Chief W. E. Ringold.

To Attend Convention

C. P. Miller of the Miller Plumbing Co. from Pendleton will attend the meeting of the Oregon State Plumbers' association at Portland. The convention will be held May 20 and 21.

Randall Baby Ill

Little Betty Jane, seven-months-old daughter of C. Z. Randall, deputy district attorney, is ill at the home of Mr. Randall's mother at Salem, according to a telephone message received by him last night. A specialist from Portland has been called to attend the baby.

Ten Days in Jail

Bill Hart, arrested by the police last night and tried before Judge Fitzgerald this morning in city court on a charge of being drunk and disorderly, drew a fine of $20 or 10 days. William elected to take the days instead of the dollars. He attempted to escape while on the way to the city jail but a hot chase ended in his recapture.

Should Clean Graves

Peter Bellomo, sexton at the Olney cemetery, has called attention to the desirability of getting all graves cleaned thoroughly before Memorial Day which will be observed in 25 days. The lots on which maintenance and water charges are paid are cleaned by the sexton, but other lots are under the direct care of relatives or friends.

Make Trip To Hermiston

Five representatives of the Commercial Association motored to Hermiston this morning to attend the weekly luncheon that was given at noon by the Hermiston Commercial Club. Those going from here included James H. Sturgis, president of the association, Mayor George A. Hartman, Harry Kueck, Dr. M. S. Kern and Claud Barr, secretary.

Helix Team Wins

The local Baptist team of the twilight league received a drubbing last night at Round-Up park when the Helix Baptists invaded these parts. They carried home with them the satisfactory end of a 3 to 1 score. A good crowd attended the game. The Penland family was well represented at the game. Roy Penland is manager for the Helix team and Claude and Will play with the Baptists here, and the elder Penland was an enthusiastic rooter.

Grease Caught Fire

The fire department answered a still alarm this morning at the home of Mrs. Horace Stiltman at 1001 East Railroad street. A pan of grease in the oven was ignited and started to burn. Mrs. Stiltman called the fire department and was advised to keep the oven door closed until the department men got there with chemicals. She followed instructions and the blaze was extinguished by the application of chemicals with no damage. If the oven door had been opened the blaze probably would have spread to the room and serious loss occurred, according to Chief Ringold.

Hurt In Collision

T. Jackson, colored, was severely injured this morning while on his way to work when he ran into the rear end of the moving truck belonging to Penland Bros. and was thrown to the ground. He was unconscious when picked up. The accident occurred at the corner of Jackson and Main just across the river. Jackson is said to have been coasting down the hill on his bicycle and lost control of the wheel, striking the rear end of the big truck. He was taken to his home where the services of a physician were necessary to revive him. He is employed as a janitor at the American National Bank.

SHEEP SHEARING AT ECHO IS COMPLETED
(East Oregonian Special.)
ECHO, May 3.—Sheep shearing at the Echo plant was completed Friday evening and part of the crew will go to shear at Huntington and part of the crew to the Malheur river country near Juntura. All of the wool from this year's clip has been taken to the warehouses, as yet no sales being made. This spring's wool is claimed to be finer than any wool sheared in this neighborhood for several years. J. C. Wattenburger will accompany the crew going to Malheur county and his son, Charles Wattenburger, will go with the crew to Huntington.

Mrs. and Mrs. A. B. Thomson motored to Heppner Thursday and returned home Friday.
