Episcopals Win Play-off

The play-off game staged last night by the Methodists and Episcopals in the Twilight league was won by the Episcopals. The game resulted from a tie contest played Wednesday evening when neither side could establish after five innings of tussling when the score was even at 7-7. Last night's score was 10 to 8. Ulrich pitched for the Methodists and Gilette twirled for the winners. The victory was due to the inability of the Methodist catchers to keep Ulrich's smoke balls in the mitt after they were delivered, several scores being made on passed balls.

All The Way From New Jersey

That different sections of this United States will be represented by teachers when the summer normal is opened this year is assured in the list of applications that have been received by Superintendent H. E. Inlow. Yesterday a teacher in East Orange, New Jersey, sent her application. Another inquiry has been received from a teacher in Illinois. Every day is bringing a batch of letters inquiring about the school.

Merchants Meet at Three

The meeting of the merchants of the Commercial Association, which was scheduled to have been held at 4 o'clock Monday afternoon has been changed so the men can gather at 3 o'clock instead. An unusually heavy amount of business to take care of is the cause of the change in time. The proposed style show and home products display features will be considered, and it is expected that a definite date for the events will be decided on at this time.

Jaw Badly Fractured.

The jaws of T. Jackson, colored, hurt recently in an automobile collision, are completely broken in two, in two places on opposite sides of the mouth, X-Ray pictures of the fracture revealed today. The jaw has been set and only local anesthetic used and according to doctors and Dr. David B. Hill, dentist, the bones will knit if blood poisoning does not set in. There is some danger of this as the injuries may cause infection.

Sought Taking Ice

While looking for a suspected coal thief last night at Rieth, Thomas F. Rooney and Glen Bashee, special agents for the O. W. R. & N. forgot the one sort of purloiner and captured an ice thief. The man arrested was G. H. Jennings who runs a pool hall. The officers say he was busily engaged in lifting two-bits worth of ice from the plant of the Pacific Fruit Exchange when he was apprehended. He pleaded guilty to the offense when haled before Justice Joe H. Parkes and paid a fine of $15. The man who had cached a sack of coal for whom the agents were looking failed to arrive for his property and thereby saved himself some inconvenience.

Asks About Septic Tank.

G. A. Hartman, mayor of Pendleton, has officially written Ben F. Hill, mayor of Walla Walla inquiring as to the disposition of garbage and sewage in Walla Walla, particularly in reference to the use of a septic tank before sewage is allowed to be emptied into a running stream. The Round-up town executive called attention to the fact that the Oregon law compels the passage of sewage through a septic tank before it is released and as Pendleton is a violator of the state law, step must be immediately taken to come within the statute. As the Washington law allows sewage to be emptied into streams without the septic tank treatment, the mayor was unable to offer advice to the Pendleton executive.—Walla Walla Bulletin.

Desire County Literature.

A letter from the secretary of the State Exhibit at Portland has been received by the Pendleton Commercial Association in which a request is made for descriptive literature of Pendleton and Umatilla county to be used in distribution to tourists and prospective homeseekers. Many inquiries relative to this section of the state have been received, according to the letter. The request can not be acted on immediately, due to the fact that the association has not yet compiled any booklets of this nature. The matter has been under consideration for some time, and it is expected that continued demands will result in the publication of literature suitable to meet the needs of those who have heard of the county and have expressed a desire to come here to locate.

Who Has Rooms?

The housing problem in Pendleton this summer will be acute according to the attitude of local people toward providing accommodations for special convention visitors and school teachers who will come for the normal course here. The school teachers are faring better than the convention guests to date. The Commercial Association is making a listing of all available rooms as rapidly as people telephone the office and make known the accommodations they can provide. To date, seven rooms for teachers have been listed, each room being large enough to accommodate two teachers. W. R. C. officials have written for 10 rooms for their delegates during the G. A. R. convention in June and the Daughters of Veterans want an equal number. Listings are being made as rapidly as possible.

Free Lectures Monday.

Dr. J. C. Jones, dental expert, will lecture in Pendleton on Monday on "Dental Hygiene" under the auspices of the Oregon State Board of Dental Examiners. He will lecture to the public school pupils at the high school auditorium in the afternoon, probably at 3 o'clock, and in the evening at 8 o'clock to adults at the library auditorium. His lecture is entertaining as well as instructive and he will show 150 slides as well as two reels of moving pictures entitled "Come Clean." The movies show the efforts of an American youth to enter the army. He is barred because of bad teeth but he remedies this defect through dental hygiene and modern dentistry and finally is accepted for army service. The lectures are free to the public. Fifteen hundred people heard the lecture when Dr. Jones gave it in Eugene recently.

Want Steamships To Run

A resolution addressed to the president of the S. P. and S. railroad urging that steamship traffic, formerly in charge of the railroad between the Columbia River and California, be resumed as quickly as possible has been circulated in Pendleton for several days among shippers and business men by the Pendleton Commercial Association. Several hundred signatures were secured to the petition. Formerly the railroad company operated the Great Northern and the Northern Pacific, but at the beginning of the war the government bought the ships. The S. P. and S. has first chance to lease the ships from the government. The Port of Astoria has offered the use of its fine new dock free of charge to the company for use if the traffic is resumed. Portland, Astoria, Bend, Walla Walla and Pendleton are taking an active part in an effort to get the ships returned to this service.

New White House Pup

"Mo' work!" says William X. Jackson, custodian of Laddie Boy, the White House Airedale. For this fine English bull pup, born March 4, has been presented to President Harding by an admirer. The pup is nameless, as yet, but has a pedigree as long as your arm.

RICH, CLEAN MORNING'S MILK

A TOAST TO MOTHERS

So, here's to the mothers of every land, to your mother and to mine,
To their courage, devotion, self-sacrifice, true, the symbols of motherhood fine;;
Long may their banner, triumphant and free, wave o'er the strife of the world,
Shedding its golden beams down through the years, wherever its folds are unfurled;;
And as it sways over land and sea, kissed by the breezes of May,
We, too, do it homage with uplifted hearts, as we toast it on Mothers' Day.
