He succeeded in reaching the running board and applied the brakes. Mrs. Sterns was unconscious but later recovered.

AMERICAN HOME LIFE SHOULD BE MAINTAINED

SPokane, May 14.—(A. P.)—If American home life is maintained the country has nothing to fear from either anarchists or bolsheviks, Robert C. Woodside, commander in chief of the veterans of foreign wars of the United States, declared at a luncheon of veterans here today.

"Should an unscrupulous minority ever attempt to force their opinions upon the American people, the veterans of foreign wars, to a man, would unite to overthrow such an attempt," said Mr. Woodside.

Commander Woodside is touring the country, forming state organizations of the foreign war veterans' associations.

AMUSEMENTS

The opening of the circus season is scheduled for Monday.

Howe's Great London Circus and Van Amburg's Trained Wild Animals, the latest consolidation in the circus world, will arrive in this city early Monday morning. The enormous tents will be erected immediately upon arrival.

Features galore are announced in preliminary information. Quite a few visitors from a distance have already arrived and by night it is anticipated that the town will be filled with our country cousins. This circus is attracting quite large crowds this year and it is a revelation in surprises. Many big features are on the bill, including the most marvelous acts of the kind in the world, the celebrated Van Amburg trained wild animals. Almost every known wild beast has been taught to tameness by the greatest animal trainers from all over the universe.

The circus features are new and exciting and of the thrilling kind. Of riders there will be two score or more. They are the champions of all countries and of all schools of equestrianism.

First class aerial performances possess the most thrilling interest for everybody, and in this branch of acrobatic are the Howe's Great London Circus and Van Amburg's Trained Wild Animals are pre-eminently strong. They present an unparalleled number of the greatest and most venturesome and original male and female mid-air trapeze, horizontal bar, floating rings, dives, evolutions, catches and combinations.

One of the sensational features will be the wonderful performance of the world famous La Comte troupe of fire walkers. The feats accomplished by them would be remarkable even were they performed on the ground, but when it is taken into consideration that the slender wire upon which they work is thirty feet in the air, the performance borders on marvelous.

PILOT ROCK WILL TRY FOR REVENGE AGAINST BUCKAROOS TOMORROW

League Trailers All Set for Battle to Death to Beat Leaders; Team is Strengthened.

A contest for blood is expected tomorrow afternoon when Marshall Spell takes the doughty Buckaroos to Pilot Rock for a return game with the league trailers. Following the defeat of the P. H. delegation here last Sunday, a protest was lodged with President Harry Kueck of the Wheat Belt League in which the Pilot Rock club questioned decisions. The protest was not allowed.

The team will be much stronger tomorrow than it was a week ago. Captain Gunner Peterson is back from Portland and he will be in the lineup to do the receiving for Sid Williams. In addition to the strength his catching will afford, "Petey's" stick work can always be counted on to bolster up the hitting ability of the Bucks.

The outfield, which was materially weakened last Sunday on account of the absence of Gordon and Duff, in center and right field, respectively, and by the tardiness of Syron, who got into the contest in the third inning, will be back to its old time strength tomorrow.

THE OLD HOME TOWN.

MONDAY IS CIRCUS DAY AND EVERY ALARM CLOCK IN TOWN IS READY

It's up with the lark on Monday for the small boy and many of his elders too. The dawn brings to the city the trains of Howe's Great London Circus and Van Amburg's Trained Wild Animals, and, before the day rounds into real form, the great tents will rise on the lot at Pendleton, May 16, a small army of twelve hundred people will have been breakfasted, over one thousand animals will have been fed and groomed and the hands will be warming up for parade.

By the time the two-mile street parade reaches the heart of the town, all the paraphernalia that goes into the big top will be ready for the afternoon crowds. The Howe-Van Amburg circus carries far more aerial equipment than the usual big three ring circus—more than has been seen in a big top for years. In addition to that, the three rings and the track, there are two immense steel arenas for the Van Amburg trained wild animals. But this show gets set on the lot faster than any other circus, its huge grandstand and oval seats is carried, folded, section by section, on wagons—each section to a wagon. Hence when the wagons are placed—a matter of twenty minutes—the seats are unfolded at the whistle of the lot superintendent. And, behold, there's your grandstand, and it seats 12,000 people.

The latest mechanical devices aid this big circus in breaking all records for promptness. The parade will leave the grounds at 11 a. m., sharp. It always does. It will here, perfect all steel trains—four long sections of seventy-foot cars—have done away with late arrivals. There are no hot boxes, no "pulled" draw-bars, with the Howe-Van Amburg circus.

The performances, featuring 384 noted white top performers and the greatest wild animal acts in America, will begin at 2 and 8 p. m. with the doors open an hour earlier to permit a leisurely inspection of the famous Howe-Van Amburg menagerie. Take time for this visit, good people; it's worth it.

A Series of Human Interest Talks on Insurance

How Much Insurance Should a Farmer Carry?

The farmer of today is as much of a business man as any other and figures things out from that standpoint. Suppose he owns a 100-acre farm valued at $100 per acre and this farm is mortgaged for $8000.

The liquidation of that mortgage besides making a living for the family depends on him. If he lives he will carry out his contract.

Death may overtake him before he completes the contract. A $10,000 policy payable to his estate would clear the indebtedness besides leaving ready cash for funeral and administration expenses.

Insolvency is not so protected by insurance generally causes the disposal of the farm—often at a sacrifice in order to raise cash.

Additional insurance should also be carried payable to the wife. Cash value can be used to provide additional comforts for old age if the farmer lives. Premiums on an Oregon Life policy stay here to be loaned on farms.
