TOM MIX DUE HERE IN HIS LATEST PICTURE

The presentation of a new Tom Mix picture is always an important theatrical event, and Mix by this time has become so popular a favorite that each picture he makes arouses a great deal of interest in advance. His latest film, "Prairie Trails," a William Fox production, announced as the attraction at the Arcade Theatre, today, is from the popular novel by James B. Hendryx, author of "The Texan," which also was filmed recently with Mix as the star.

Booksellers report that the novel of western life, always pleasing to large classes of readers, is gaining in popularity by leaps and bounds. It has long passed all other kinds of novels. President-elect Harding and Vice-President-elect Coolidge, it is well known, prefer western novels to any other brand, just as President Wilson prefers detective stories. And the western motion picture is keeping pace in popularity with the western novel.

"Prairie Trails" continues the adventures of Tex Benton, whose love story was told in "The Texan."

"KISMET" RARE GEM IN SCREEN SETTING

The screen version of "Kismet," a Robertson-Cole super-special, in which Otis Skinner makes his debut on the silver sheet, and which is now showing at the Alta Theatre, is a magnificent spectacle. Like a page from a fairy tale of old reads the description of the Wasir Mansur's palace, constructed for a sequence in "Kismet."

The floor of this enchanted palace is of mosaic marble in pastel shades of blue, lavender, Nile green and pink, which on the screen presents a soft misty gray appearance. The colonnades and arches seem to be wrought of purest gold, inlaid with jewels. The platform at the far end of the great room where the Mansur holds his audiences, is draped with silks of the most exquisite colors and on the floor about the room are strewn cushions and rugs of silks and velvets of such texture and beauty as to move the most blasé to words of admiration.

Truly a gorgeous setting and one worthy of presenting to the screen. Otis Skinner, America's most celebrated romantic actor in his greatest stage success.

MINGO COUNTY MINE WAR IS QUIET TODAY

WILLIAMSON, West Va., May 16.—(U. P.)—Peace hopes in the Mingo county mine war were strengthened at 5 o'clock when the snipers' positions in the West Virginia hills were quiet. Authorities, however, feared a new attack on the half dozen mining towns in the Cug river valley might open at any time. The truce in Pike county, Kentucky, of two companies of guardsmen quieted the snipers.

HE THREW IT AWAY. LOS ANGELES, May 16.—(A. P.)—Sacramento and Los Angeles divided a double header yesterday, the Angels taking the first game, 10 to 2, and the Solons the second, 4 to 1.

Niehoff's home run with two on bases in the first inning was the deciding factor of the first game. The visitors clinched the second contest in the second inning. Byron, Sacramento outfielder, was put out of the second game in the seventh inning for disputing a decision by Umpire Byron. In the fifth frame Pitcher Faeth caused a mild sensation by hurling the ball toward the grand stand and his glove toward the dugout when ordered from the box by Manager Rogers.

Boston scientists declare the "hot dog" the most nourishing of all sandwiches. The "Frankfurter" sandwich, selling for a nickel and scorned by many, contains two hundred and fifty calories, while the higher priced corned beef, tongue, cheese and ham sandwiches yield below two hundred calories.

I'd walk a mile for a Camel

The pleasure is worth it. There's no substitute for Camel quality and that mild, fragrant Camel blend.

The fellow who smokes Camels, wants Camels. That's because Camels have a smoothness, a fragrance and a mildness you can't get in another cigarette.

Don't let anyone tell you that any other cigarette at any price is so good as Camels.

Let your own taste be the judge. Try Camels for yourself. A few smooth, refreshing puffs and you'd walk a mile for a Camel, too.

SIX OUT OF SEVEN. SEATTLE, May 16.—(A. P.)—Seattle made it six out of seven by winning the final game of the Oakland series, 5 to 3. Oakland won the first game in 10 innings, 9 to 8. The first game was a slugging affair, with Seattle out-hitting their opponents, but failing to make capital out of their hits. In the second game, Boston-bested Krause in a pitching duel, the Oaks' pitcher paving the way for his own defeat by throwing wild to first in the third inning. Mack Miller and Cooper hit home runs over the fence with men on bases.
