From the line to Walla Walla Wash. the road is now paved," reports Pat Limerigan of Pendleton, registered at the Hotel Portland. "This paved road is the Oregon-Washington highway and it goes through several towns north of Pendleton. Each of these towns has paved. The traffic on the highway is already heavy, there being a continuous stream of trucks of produce." Mr. Limerigan is also interested in the paving of Enterprise, in Walla Walla county, which will be finished this season. The town of Enterprise has laid already what would be

IS NOW MEMBER OF NAVY.

ROCKLAND, Me., May 18.—The super-dreadnaught Tennessee today passed her final entrance examination into the United States navy and tonight left for Boston to replenish her supply of fuel oil. The United States may become "a nation of liars" if the present income tax burden is not lightened, says Charles J. Bullock, professor of economics at Harvard.

SITTING BULL'S PEACE PIPE GIVEN TO SCHOOL

ABERDEEN, S. D., May 18.—(A. P.)—The famous old pipe of peace of the Indian chief, Sitting Bull, has lately been presented to the state historical society by H. C. Pryor, of the Aberdeen Normal school.

On the step of the relic, burned or hiked into the wood is the autograph of the warrior. The bowl of the pipe is of pink sandstone from the quarries at Pipestone, Minn. The stem is about 26 inches long and is of ash wood. The pipe was traded to Mr. Pryor's father, J. D. Pryor, now a resident of Los Angeles, by Sitting Bull at Camp Crook in 1887 for a blanket. "There was some argument, I believe about the autograph," explained Mr. Pryor. "The old chief thought he should have extra compensation besides the blanket for it. It seems that his name was about the only thing Sitting Bull could write in English and he was very proud of it."

"The story goes that Sitting Bull had just been released from prison at Ft. Randall, and was making his way northward to the reservation. Always ready to pick up a few dollars, he stopped off at Pierre, S. D. and started a flourishing business selling his autographed cards at $1 each. Some one induced him to step into the telegraph office there and write his name on a number of harmless looking message blanks. The Indian's anger rose to white heat when he discovered that carbon had been inserted between several sheets under the one on which he wrote."

ed to have been the "pipe of peace" of Sitting Bull have been offered for sale, but he is obliged to believe that the one which Mr. Pryor has just presented to the state is the genuine one. The autograph on the pipe is exactly the same as appears on the cards the chief sold in Pierre, it is said.
