GROWERS EXPECT HOTHOUSE LAMBS TO MAKE PROFIT

Only Silver Lining to Cloud Sheepmen Are Under in the Yakima Valley; Per Ct. Big.

Stronger, better, cleaner wool than for years past, and 250,000 pounds more of it than last year, but with no demand for it and none in sight—this is the situation in which Yakima valley woolgrowers find themselves, and practically the only silver lining to the cloud late in April was the prospect for good money from the hothouse lamb crop.

This is said to have averaged 120 per cent in practically all cases this spring, and about 20,000 ewes were lambed early. This would mean 35,000 youngsters to be marketed this year, it is planned, in July, before the ewes go to the mountains. They are expected to average 47 per head, which would bring back a quarter of a million ready change to help keep things going.

The total clip in Yakima is estimated at 2,500,000 pounds. None has been sold and only a little shipped on consignment. Many of the growers still have last year's clip on hand, and one result of congested conditions may be the forming of a pool for Yakima and possibly for all Washington. A plan said to have the support, among others, of H. S. Coffin and of state college marketing authorities.

Contract Awarded—The Growers' Storage and Supply Company of Milton have let the contract for the construction of a cold storage plant near the Lamb Fruit company holdings.

General Wood to Tour Japan

General Leonard Wood has accepted an invitation by the Japanese government to tour that country. He is now in the Philippines, investigating conditions for President Harding. Enroute to the islands he stopped at Yokohama, where he is shown with Japanese officials who presented the invitation. Left to right, Iwate, representing the foreign minister; Major Nishihara representing the war minister and General Wood.
