OUTBURSTS OF EVERETT TRUE

Booming Down The Canyon

The American Forestry Association has given the United Press for Forest Protection Week use in the schools the following fire poem by Remington Ellis:

The ranger sat in his cabin door,
With eyes that were swollen and lungs that were sore.
While under his breath he bitterly swore,
For—she was booming down the canyon.

The tourists who left two days before
Will never visit their camp site more.
Nor gaze on the scenes they used to adore,
For—she's booming down the canyon.

A few little sparks by a tree, quite dead—
Just a few live coals that were "out" they said—
Now look at her going, roaring and red
A-booming down the canyon.

Forty good men, husky and strong,
Worked like demons all the day long;
But she crowned and went over—again she has gone,
A-booming down the canyon.

How long it may burn or where it may go,
Are a couple of things that no one can know;
But it won't be out till we get lots of snow,
For—she's booming down the canyon.

Hundreds of years to grow those trees;
Those same live coals and—a little breeze,
Then waste and desolation are all one sees,
As she goes booming down the canyon.

The ranger sat in his cabin door
With eyes that were bloodshot and lungs that were sore,
And at someone's gross carelessness bitterly swore,
For—she was booming down the canyon.

The association urges that the verses be read in every school in connection with Forest Protection Week programs and that every school using the poem write the association at Washington details of the school programs and the pupils who had part in them.

NEW SCIENCE OF PAINTING, CARE, PRESERVATION AND RESTORATION OF PAINTINGS WILL BE TAUGHT

NEW YORK, May 25.—(A. P.)—When the University of Pennsylvania opens next autumn, a new course in the science of painting and the care, preservation and restoration of paintings will be inaugurated.
This course, the first of its kind in the world, was made possible through an endowment by a prominent collector, whose name was not made public. The new chair will be occupied by Carl F. L. de Wild of this city, a native of Holland, who has acted as collector and curator of many famous collections, among them the Widener, Morgan and Frick collections.
The course, it was announced, is designed to select and equip specialists and to give to those who desire to become art museum curators a thorough knowledge of the art.

The Measure of True Worth

Those serving mankind best, are those who are compelled to do so by the force of idealism—the desire to win by merit rather than through deception.

The man who is a master in industry sees an ever-growing field for rendering service, and through this vision the exhibition, to be held this week at Happy Canyon, is being created.

Reward the efforts of these merchants and manufacturers by your presence at this exhibition.

Brite and Fare

Arthur Mometer and Miss Mercury have been doing the shimmy in Pendleton of late and some "earn days" are expected. It isn't the humidity the Officecat is dreading, it's the Izit-hot-ten-fer-you idiot.

The Versatile Mr. Duhame

Mr. Duhame was formerly Miss Hazel Cahner of West Daly Street—Butte (Mont.) Daily Post.

What has become of the old-fashioned husband who used to help his wife with the dishes?

Some of the Pendleton ladies will go to Hermiston to present their play, "The Futurists." We feel called upon to warn them against the stage-door Johnnies who usually infest one-night stands.

In re. the appeal of Pendleton housewives for cheaper meat from contented cows, we state that from our observation, an honest butcher will trim his meats but not his customers.

If you tell a girl she is pretty now—a-days she wants to take the next train for Los Angeles.

After looking at the photos displayed by our local photographers it seems to us that this would be a happy world if people would always wear the smiles they assume when they have their pictures taken.

Comes now Fredrick Rex, city statistician for Chicago, who asserts that the short skirts the girls are wearing have reduced the number of accidents to persons boarding and alighting from street cars and r. r. trains. Fred forgot to mention another convenient feature; they are so helpful in getting up-stairs.

We like lottsa people but among those for whom we never deeply care are—

The fella who reads moving picture titles out loud.

The golfer who refuses to keep a score and who always guesses his total five strokes under yours.

The fella who reads moving picture titles out loud.

The man who insists upon telling you about the time he was in Wisconsin when you want to tell him about the summer you spent in Michigan.

The fella who reads moving picture titles out loud.

The restaurant man who still gets 50 cents for the ham and.

The fella—(Proceed as before.)
