PAUL VINCENT SOUTHARD KNEW HIS MARRIAGE TO LYDA WAS ILLEGAL ONE

Is Willing to Remarry Her Before She is Taken From Jail to Answer Murder Charge.

HONOLULU, May 26.—(A. P.)—Amplifying a statement made earlier in which he had said he knew his marriage to Lyda Trueblood Southard was illegal, Paul Vincent Southard expressed his willingness to remarry her before she is taken from the jail here to start to Idaho to answer charges of murder in connection with the death of her fourth husband, Edward F. Meyer.

Southard previously had said he married Mrs. Southard in Los Angeles last November about a month after he had been divorced. California laws prohibit remarriage until a final decree of divorce has been signed a year after the granting of an interlocutory decree. Southard indicated he did not know whether his remarriage was illegal under California law, as his divorce had been granted in Indiana.

Southard, who is a chief petty officer in the navy, is making efforts to have Mrs. Southard removed from the jail to a hospital because of her weakened condition, due to falling appetite and lack of exercise.

Southard continues his efforts to obtain a leave of absence to enable him to join in his wife's defense.

Southard last night said he had applied some time ago for $100 worth of insurance in a private company. The application, he said, was made after he arrived in the Hawaiian Islands, but was not made at the suggestion of Mrs. Southard. Naval officers some days ago told of Southard's efforts to obtain a government policy for $10,000. Authorities here are keeping up a close watch to prevent any possibility of attempts at self-destruction by Mrs. Southard.

Marriage Certificate False
HONOLULU, May 26.—(A. P.)—The Los Angeles marriage certificate of Vincent Southard and Lyda Trueblood Southard stated both of them were single and never married before, according to a copy of the certificate shown today by Deputy Sheriff V. H. Ormsby of Twin Falls, Idaho, who came here to obtain extradition of Mrs. Southard on a charge of the murder of her fourth husband, Edward F. Meyer at Twin Falls, September 7, 1920. Southard admitted that Ormsby said he is her fifth husband. Ormsby said he was not married to Mrs. Southard since he had been divorced in October, 1920, and was remarried a month later in Los Angeles. California laws forbid remarriage within a year.

Southard reiterated today his belief in her innocence of the crime charged against her.

C. P. STRAIN FINDS NORTHWEST HAS SOME ADVANTAGES OVER SOUTHLAND

C. P. Strain, former county assessor, is now living at Santa Cruz, California and in the following letter to the East Oregonian gives some of his impressions of that country. As will be noted Mr. Strain still has a very warm regard for Umatilla county and the northwest.

Santa Cruz, Cal., May 26, 1921.
Editor East Oregonian:
The most persistent thought in my mind is a longing to meet the friendly familiar faces of Pendleton and Umatilla county. Here I am lost in the crowd, and homesick.
This is a land of flowers, having a splendid wealth of forest trees. The mountains come right down to the edge of the city and are cut by deep gorges whose steep sides are often covered with live oak, red wood, and a great variety of trees that are strange to me. Santa Cruz county is well supplied with streams, but they are so deep set in the canyons that it is difficult to use the water for irrigation. Poultry and tourists seem to be the leading industries right here, but in other sections there are fruit, market gardens and livestock. The climate has advantages, but the air is always to be so cool in the shade that one can not enjoy the outdoors on the porch or under the magnificent shade trees.
This is probably one of the very finest poultry districts in the world, but outside of that it is my opinion that Umatilla county, taken all in all, is a more desirable place to live both for profit and comfort than anything that I have seen in this state.

ALLIES GRADUALLY RESTORE ORDER IN UPPER SILESIA

Briand Appears to Have Swung French Opinion Into Greater Toleration for Germany.

CONFIDENTLY BELIEVED CHAMBER WILL APPROVE

Vote of Confidence Would Serve to Permit Council to Proceed to Divide Disputed District.

PARIS, May 26.—(Webb Miller, U. P. Staff Correspondent)—Premier Briand appeared today to have swung French opinion into greater toleration for Germany. It was confidently believed that the chamber of deputies will approve his course in regard to the reparations, and his handling of the Upper Silesia situation. A vote of confidence would serve to restore fully cordial relations of the allies and would permit the supreme council to proceed with its plans for dividing Silesia between Germany and Poland.

ANONYMOUS WRITER HAS NOT CONCEALED IDENTITY IS CLAIM

Mayor Hartman Says Unnamed Local Woman is Prominent; Pool Ordinance is Passed.

The identity of the writer of the anonymous letters is positively known beyond the shadow of a doubt. The young married woman who writes them is in a position to know the serious nature of her offense and has evidently been overconfident of her ability to conceal her identity. It is very evident that her subject matter is inspired by others.

This formal statement by Mayor George A. Hartman, relative to anonymous letters that have been received by him and by other officials and citizens during the past five months, was made last night at the meeting of the city council.

No prosecution will be made at this time if the practice of writing the letters is discontinued, the mayor declared. He also suggested that the promulgation of the woman who has been doing the writing would cause no small ripple in Pendleton society if the names were released. Careful study of the handwriting contained in the various notes led to the discovery of the woman's identity, it was asserted.

In addition to the routine matters that received attention, three ordinances recommended a week ago were passed last night. One was the measure licensing pool halls, soft drink places and rooms in which cards are played. Under the ordinance, a yearly fee of $5 will be charged by the city. Another ordinance making it illegal to drive a motor vehicle on the sidewalks was adopted. In the future, when a circus comes to town and shows outside the city limits to escape paying the city license, a parade license of $50 will be charged. This provision was incorporated in the third ordinance to be adopted.

GREEK NEWSPAPERS CALL YOUNG WILLIAM LEEDS 'PRINCE OF LEEDS'

Press Also Hints That Greece Could Use Some of Money Young Leeds Possesses.

ATHENS, May 26.—(A. P.)—The Greek newspapers found much diversion in the arrival here by airplane of young William R. Leeds, son of Princess Anastasia. They are calling the youth, who is soon to marry Princess Xenia, the 17-year-old daughter of King Constantine's sister, Marie, "Sir William Leeds," and it has been suggested that the King may confer a dukedom on him in return for the fortune he may inherit. References are being made to him in the newspapers as "the Duke of Pinaros" and "the Prince of Leeds." "We hope," says a humorous writer in the Athens, "that the young prince will dispose of his millions as charitably as his mother. It is a wonderful thing to be a prince or a duke, but it is better to be a millionaire. Let us hope that the National Assembly, with its usual liberal opinions, will vote a bill by which Mr. Leeds will become an official Prince of Greece, but only on condition that he gives us all his money."
